SURPRISE FOR COTTON MARKET.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 24.—The cotton market received one of the greatest surprises in its history today when the well-known firm of H. F. Page & Co. posted an announcement that it was unable to meet further calls for margins. October and December within a minute went up 31 and 35 points. Page & Co. has been one of the heaviest operators on the short side of the market for some time. The general estimates of the interest of the firm range all the way from 50,000 to 100,000 bales.

THE GREAT WAR.

TOKIO DECORATING FOR THE VICTORY.

But Port Arthur Garrison Continues to Stand off the Japanese.

Hundreds of the Little Brown Men's Cannon are Pouring Destructive Fire Into the City and Harbor. Entire Line of Russian Defenses Exposed—Golden Hill Forts Silenced.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOKIO, Aug. 24, 10 a. m.—[By Asiatic Cable.] The final assault on Port Arthur is imminent. Hundreds of Japanese guns continue to pour a destructive fire into the city and harbor, along the lines of forts and the entrenchments, preparatory for the infantry assault. It is evident that the Russian lines have been weakened and partly penetrated in the vicinity of Antzshan and Etzshan forts. The entire line of Russian defenses immediately about the harbor is within range of the Japanese guns. A number of Russian forts and batteries continue to be vigorous, and the Japanese death roll will be heavily increased before they are captured.

The direction of the Japanese attack creates the impression here that the city and defenses on either side of the harbor entrance will fall first. The final stand will be made at Liaotieshan. Japanese official channels of information remain closed, and the Navy Department's announcement of the striking of a mine by the battleship Sevastopol and the firing upon the Russian forts by the cruisers Nisshen and Kasuga yesterday are the only disclosures made for several days. It is believed here that both sides have suffered heavy losses, and that the final record will make the siege the bloodiest since Sedan.

The Japanese are supremely confident of the ultimate result. The leaders of the government await the outcome in calm assurance. The people are everywhere decorating streets and houses and erecting flagstaffs and arches in preparation for a national celebration of the expected victory.

SILENCED GOLDEN HILL FORTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

[illegible] Information of [illegible] authenticity states that the Japanese armored cruisers Nisshin and Kasuga have bombarded and silenced the Russian forts east of Golden Hill, at the entrance of Port Arthur. The forts referred to are probably the same, or very close to the forts at Taipang Tse and Chao Chanko, mentioned in these dispatches yesterday and today.

CZAR ORDERS VESSELS DISARMED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Aug. 25—The correspondent of the Times at Shanghai in a dispatch dated August 24th, 10 o'clock p. m., says that orders from Emperor Nicholas have been conveyed to Capt. Reitzenstein, commanding him forthwith to disarm the cruiser Askold and the torpedo-boat destroyer Grozovoi, and that the flags on both vessels were lowered at 7 o'clock tonight."

KUROKI GETS FAIR WEATHER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

GEN. KUROKI'S HEADQUARTERS IN THE FIELD, Aug. 21, (Via Fusan, Aug 25.)—Fair weather has returned after five days heavy and three days of light rains. It is hoped that this is the last stretch of the wet season. Streams are falling, and the sandy soil is absorbing the water rapidly. The Russians are reported to be fortifying Liao Yang extensively. Lighter defenses are being made in front of Amping, a few miles ahead of Gen. Kuroki. There has been no fighting recently.

TWO MORE DESTROYERS GONE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOKIO, Aug. 25, 9 a. m.—Two Russian torpedo-boat destroyers struck mines at the entrance of Port Arthur last evening. The larger one of the destroyers, a four-funneled one, was sunk. The names of the vessels and the number of lives lost is unknown.

SEVASTOPOL'S FUN WAS CUT SHORT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHEFOO, Aug. 24, 2:31 p.m.—[By Asiatic Cable.] The Russian battleship Sevastopol, which struck a mine yesterday off Port Arthur and was towed inside the harbor by a steamer, had previously been injured while firing on the Japanese land positions from the outer roadstead.

FURTHER DETAILS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOKIO, Aug. 24, 9 a.m.—Further details of the disabling of the Russian battleship Sevastopol have been received here. It seems that, Tuesday afternoon, while engaged in shelling the Japanese land forces from a position outside of Port Arthur, the battleship struck a mine and was disabled by the explosion. She was towed back into Port Arthur.

The Japanese battleship Asahi was detailed to watch the Sevastopol. Her commander reports that the Russian ship emerged from Port Arthur Tuesday morning and coöperated with certain Russian batteries in bombarding Japanese forces on shore. This firing had been kept up for several hours when the Sevastopol suddenly struck a submerged mine. The explosion caused her to list heavily to starboard, and at the same time she lurched forward, almost burying her bow under water. She was towed back into Port Arthur by a tug.

Admiral Kataoka reports that the Japanese cruisers Nisshin and Kasuga fired upon the Russian forts Tuesday. They discovered that the Rusians were shelling the Japanese land forces from a position near Lungtsintsz. The Nisshin and the Kasuga steamed in close to the land, and after a short time silenced the Russian guns.

RUSSIAN OFFICIAL SOURCES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 24.—In spite of the anxiety which is felt regarding the fate of Port Arthur, the War Office and the Admiralty are practically closed today owing to the christening of the royal infant, and no official dispatches were given out.

So far as can be ascertained, no further news of the progress of the fighting before the beleaguered fortress has been received except that contained in the reports from foreign sources. These latter are conflicting, some of them reporting that the Japanese assault has become exhausted, and others claiming that the Japanese have captured Etzshan fort, belonging to the western line of defenses. If this position has been taken and occupied, it is realised that unless the Japanese are at once dislodged, the chain of forts will be breached and the position of Port Arthur rendered critical. The report however, is considered as requiring confirmation.

The simple fact that the day to which a large portion of the public looked forward to with superstitious dread passed without the fall of the fortress suddenly encourages the people here to hope that the christening of the Czarevitch will mark a turn in the tide.

GREAT CARGO FOR ORIENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, Aug. 24—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The largest cargo of flour ever carried from any Pacific Coast port will be taken by the liner Oanfa, now loading here for the Orient and Liverpool. The Oanfa will load 344,000 sacks of flour, the whole consigned to the Orient. The freight alone will amount to nearly $30,000. She will carry 3000 tons additional of lumber, nails, bar iron and general merchandise.

D. D. BLACK NOW AT THE HEAD.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA FRUIT EXCHANGE MAKES MOVE.

Something Begins to be Doing in New York and Operations in That Market Will Commence Promptly September First—Exchange Will be Stronger.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The first definite move by the Southern California Fruit Exchange following the dissolution of the California Fruit Agency, to take effect September 1, was made today, when it was announced that D. D. Black would represent the Exchange in this city. Black has been New York representative of the association from the time the Southern Exchange and the California Citrus Union consolidated, a year and a half ago.

When seen today Black said it was too early to announce the policy which would be followed by the Exchange, but that it would commence [illegible] September 1.

"The Southern California Fruit Exchange will be stronger under the present régime," he said, "than it was prior to the formation of the fruit agency. This will not be because of the addition of any more minor exchanges to the organization, but because the membership of smaller exchanges forming this exchange has been considerably increased, and they are individually stronger."

RAISIN-SEEDING PACT.

Combination of All the Leading Concerns on the Pacific Coast to Control Output.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—It was learned in the wholesale grocery market, today, that a combination of all the leading raisin-seeding concerns on the Pacific Coast had been formed, to control the output and regulate prices, and that, as a preliminary to this, the new trust had bought from the Raisin Growers' Association the entire carry-over of last year's crop, amounting to 1200 carloads.

The combination is to be known as the Consolidated Raisin Company, and has a capital stock of 1,000,000. Some of the firms which have gone into the combination are the Griffin & Skelly Company, the J. K. Armsby Company, the Phoenix Raisin Seeding and Packing Company, Guggenheimer & Company, Rosenberg & Company, the Fresno Home Packing Company, Madison & Boner, the Pavlin Packing Company, the J. B. Inderreiden Company and the Castle Brothers' Company. The directors are H. Gartenlaub, William Griffin, Warren Gregory, A. B. Rosenberg and D. L. Guggenheimer.

MONEY IN ABUNDANCE.

Treasury Department Authorizes Transfer Necessary to Move the Crops.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Treasury Department received word today of the beginning of the transfer of money from New York to the crop centers of the country, and has given its usual sanction to the payment, in New Orleans and Chicago, of money deposited in the subtreasury in New York. Transfers are expected to be made almost daily from now until the end of the crop-moving season.

The almost universal belief among the Treasury officials is that money will remain plentiful throughout the fall and winter, and that there will be no stringency in the money market, necessitating the assistance of the Treasury.

"POOL" OF POLITICS.

Only One Ripple at Santa Cruz.

Will Hayes Really Give Way to Make Bulla an Elector-at-Large?

Political Dromios Flint and Oxnard Administering "Magnetic Touch."

Dr. Rowell Refuses to Give Up—Still Thinks Bard Can Succeed.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA CRUZ, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While the Republican State Convention will not formally be called to order by Chairman Stone of the State Central Committee until 2 p.m. tomorrow, that political body was practically in session tonight in the lobby of the Sea Beach Hotel. The lobbies of the hotel were filled with party workers and leaders representing the various candidates.

BULLA AND HUGHES.

The Bulla and Hughes people of Los Angeles are claiming that ex-Senator Bulla was promised at the convention two months ago that he should be given the nomination of Presidential elector-at-large by this convention. Possibly the withdrawal of J. O. Hayes, reported tonight, may make a way for Bulla.

DROMIOS FLINT AND OXNARD.

Two of the candidates for United States Senator appeared on the ground this evening. They were Frank P. Flint of Los Angeles and [illegible] came with a party of friends, and mixed freely with the delegates who had arrived before him.

HATTON'S "DARK HORSE."

Oxnard was in charge of Revenue Collector Lynch of the [illegible], Postmaster Fisk of San Francisco and George F. Hatton. The delegates who came down on the train with the trio of politicians put Oxnard on the inside of the seat and carefully guarded the sugar trust candidate, so that no one was permitted to approach him during his trip, much to the amusement of the people on the train. It was commented that the three statesmen were very fond of "sweet things."

OXNARD LIKES IT.

Oxnard, in speaking of his canvass tonight, said: "I am perfectly satisfied with my position in this fight, and would not exchange my chances for those of any other candidate, known or unknown. I shall have, in my opinion, a very large following on the first ballot. That is really all I care to say, or, in fact, all that can be said, in relating to my canvass at the present time. My purpose in coming to Santa Cruz is to meet prominent Republicans of the State whom I have not heretofore met, and to renew acquaintance with those I already know."

THE "TOUCH."

Hatton was busy this evening putting the Senatorial candidate in touch with holdover Senators, legislative candidates and party leaders. Hatton says he is Oxnard's manager. When Oxnard is questioned on the political relationship he hesitates an instant, and then explains that Hatton is "very friendly."

"LOVE'S LABOR'S LOST."

Frank P. Flint expressed great confidence in his canvass for the United States Senatorship. He said he felt much gratified at the reception he had received since he left his home in the South to come North. He had met many of the candidates for the Legislature, and they had expressed their good-will and urged him to come and address the convention, and thereby create good feeling among them. Flint said he would visit different sections of the State and present his cause. Senator Savage of Los Angeles, who has enrolled himself in the list of Frank Flint's supporters, came in on one of the evening trains and got busy with the statesmen from other sections, "creating atmosphere" for the Los Angeles candidate.

NIL DESPERANDUM.

United States Senator Bard is not expected to come here during the convention, but his interests are being looked after by E. F. Mitchell, manager of his canvass. Among the arrivals today was Dr. Chester Rowell of Fresno, who believes that the junior Senator will be easily reëlected.

"Senator Bard will have practically every county south of San Francisco," said Dr. Rowell. "I believe that as soon as the Congressional fight in the Eighth District is disposed of, he will have that district, too. The outlook for Senator Bard could not be better. The support that Bard has comes to him from his personal friends, which is not the case with his opponents."

KNIGHT'S RAILROAD FENCES.

The friends of George Knight report that he will be here tomorrow to look after his Senatorial fences.

WANTS TO BE IDENTIFIED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA CRUZ, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One of the interesting midnight developments in the contest for places on the electoral ticket is the desire that has taken possession of Henry T. Oxnard, candidate for United States Senator, to have his name enrolled among those who will sit in the electoral college from California. Oxnard's friends announced him as a candidate for Presidential elector at midnight, and his friends are now trying to discover some way by which the present plans and arrangements may be upset in furtherance of his latest ambition.

It is explained that the placing of Oxnard's name on the electoral ticket will identify him with the State in a manner so substantial that he could not be in future accused of not being a Californian. Thus should Senatorial lightning see fit to strike him next January, he would be so firmly established as an important factor in Republican politics in California that the suspicions which have injured his present candidacy could not be raised against him.

OXNARD—HE SAID:

Oxnard was questioned about the matter, and he said: "I have heard some talk that my friends, considerable of my friends, I might say, are anxious to have me placed on the electoral ticket, but I can tell you all about it tomorrow."

"It has been suggested that the plan to name you as Presidential elector is for the purpose of establishing you more definitely with the State," he was informed.

"Well, that sounds reasonable, does it not?" replied Oxnard. "It wouldn't do me any harm, would it?"

MELROSE OF ORANGE.

Early this evening it was announced by delegates from the Eighth District that the elector from that district would be Richard Melrose of Orange.

Whether Melrose will be pulled down in favor of Oxnard remains to be seen. Oxnard gives out the information that if it is impossible to break the programme for Melrose, he would be pleased to be named as one of the Presidential electors-at-large, in place of John Hayes.

ELECTORS AND CONGRESSMEN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SANTA CRUZ, Aug. 24.—The Republican State Convention, which will begin its session at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the ballroom of the Casino at the beach, promises to be as uneventful as its Democratic predecessor of this week. There is only one contest on the schedule, that of the fight for Congress in the Eighth District, between State Senator M. L. Ward of San Diego and ex-Senator S. C. Smith of Bakersfield.

Most of the electors have already been agreed upon and announced. The Fourth and Seventh Districts have yet to make a choice, and the Eighth is awaiting the outcome of the Congressional contest before making an electoral nomination. Those electors reported agreed upon thus far are: First, E. H. Vance, Eureka; Second, C. M. Hammond, Lake; Third, F. M. Smith, Oakland; Fifth, George H. Pippy, San Francisco; Sixth, M. B. Harris, Fresno.

For Congress, the First District will nominate J. N. Gillette. In the Second, Duncan McKinlay will be chosen. The Fifth may name Charles M. Shortridge. The Fourth has not thus far announced its candidate. In the Third, Sixth and Seventh Districts nominations have been made, the nominees being respectively Joseph Knowland, J. C. Needham and James McLachlan. The main convention will have Robert T. Devlin of Sacramento as its chairman and Harry Wanzer of Santa Cruz as secretary.

NEEDHAM RENOMINATED.

HAD NO OPPOSITION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SANTA CRUZ, Aug. 24.—The Sixth Congress District Republican convention met this afternoon. W. J. Hill of Monterey county was chosen chairman and H. S. Wanzer of Santa Cruz secretary. A recess was taken for the appointment of committees.

The platform adopted endorsed the administration of President Roosevelt and the nomination of Charles Fairbanks; commended the President for appointing Victor H. Metcalf Secretary of Commerce and Labor; commended the administration of Gov. Pardee; endorsed the course of the Republican Senators and Representatives in Congress; praised the course of J. C. Needham in Congress; declared his reëlection of the highest importance to the State, and recited his work at the Capital; favored legislation for irrigation and liberal appropriations for rivers and harbors and public buildings.

L. L. Dennett of Stanislaus county placed Needham in nomination, and there were a number of seconding speeches. Needham was nominated by acclamation, and in a brief speech thanked the delegates.

HIS "OPPONENT" PRESENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SANTA CRUZ, Aug. 24.—The unusual spectacle of a Congressional candidate entering the camp of his political opponent and listening to predictions of his own defeat, was furnished today at the Sea Beach Hotel. Superior Judge William Conley, the Democratic nominee for Congress from the same district, mingled serenely with Needham's supporters, and took a seat on the convention floor when the gathering was called to order. Every speaker found Judge Conley's presence an incentive to make good-natured remarks about the defeat of "the enemy," one delegate, in seconding Needham's nomination, said that the Congressman had three political scalps dangling at his belt, and in November he would add a fourth to his collection. A glance at His Honor's locks accompanied the statement. A broad smile illumined the judicial countenance during these sallies.

PASSENGERS BADLY SHAKEN UP.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Aug. 24.—A special to the Star from Joplin, Mo., says the St. Louis and San Francisco passenger train bound for St. Louis collided with a west-bound freight train near Sacroxi early today. Eleven persons were injured, none fatally. Every passenger was badly shaken up. The train was crowded.

Both trains were running at high speed. Both engines were completely demolished. The baggage and mail cars were thrown from the track, turned over, and all except two coaches left the rails.

"UNCLE JOE'S" WISDOM.

Trend of Feeling Since Parker's Speech is Toward the Republican Ticket—Get the Vote Out—Congress, Also the Labor Question.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Speaker Cannon was in consultation with the leaders at Republican headquarters today. Speaking of the political outlook, he said:

"I have just spent two weeks in the Eastern States, and while I would not assume to pass upon the situation there, as I would in a Congress district, I will say that so far as I could gather from my conversation with leading men of both parties, the trend of feeling since Parker's nomination and especially since his speech of acceptance, is toward the Republican ticket. Our main effort will be to get the vote out. In Vermont, for instance, the only question is whether the majority will be 20,000 or 30,000."

In reply to a question as to the reason for his reference to Parker's speech, Mr. Cannon said: "It was intended to be all things to all men, and, like all efforts of that kind, it proved to be nothing to any man."

"Yes," he added, "the outlook is favorable. The Republican fences are all in good order; there are no rails down, and the fences are staked and ridered in shape to add a couple of barbed wires, if necessary."

"How about the outlook for the House of Representatives?"

"The indications are for a closer vote there than on the electoral ticket, but there is no danger there, if we only get the vote out."

He expressed the opinion that he labor complications would not affect the situation.

"It is only a question of a division of the profits," he said, "and everybody knows that no such question could possibly have arisen under the last Democratic administration, for there were no prifits."

THE PRESIDENT.

WORKING ON STATE AFFAIRS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

OYSTER BAY, Aug. 24.—After a horseback ride today, the President worked for several hours in his library on government business.

National Chairman Cortelyou will be a guest of the President tonight.

LOOKS GOOD TO HIM.

WHAT TAYLOR FOUND EAST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Acting Secretary of the Treasurer Taylor returned today from a trip to New York and several New England States. He said: "From all I can see, I feel assured of President Roosevelt's election. I found the feeling that he would carry New York much more general than I had expected. The Democrats have no issues on which to make a winning campaign, and besides, there is evidence of a serious lack of organization."

"SMOKING OUT" PAT.

Parker's "Red Light" Sugar Trust Collector Declares He's the Real Power in the Democratic Executive Committee.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tread softly, speak low, this is the Democratic State headquarters. You want to see McCarren? Then be sure to ask for Senator McCarren. Do not say "Chairman" McCarren, for that is against the rules. You may say "Chairman" Meyer, or "Chairman" Rodie, or "Chairman" Dowling, but if you have any regard for the sensibilities of the various Democratic "leaders" eschew "Chairman McCarren."

Chairman Cord Meyer was on duty today, and was asked by a reporter: "Mr. Meyer, is Senator McCarren chairman of the Executive Committee?"

"I don't want to talk about that," replied Cord Meyer, as his eyebrows went up and he went out of a convenient door.

RODIE BOLTED.

A card was then sent to Chairman Rodie. Rodie greeted the reporter pleasantly, and then sat down at the table with him, as if to have a good chat.

"Mr. Rodie," the reporter began, "do you consider Senator McCarren chairman of the Executive Committee?"

Rodie's genial smile vanished, and he arose suddenly and made for convenient portieres, nervously saying, as he went: "Now, that incident is closed. I cannot talk about it. Good morning."

OVER IN BROOKLYN.

On the other side of Brooklyn Bridge there was no uncertainty on the chairmanship question. Senator Patrick J. McCarren, the Democratic leader in Kings, declared emphatically that he was the real head of the Democratic State Executive Committee, and was just as much in charge of the campaign in Brooklyn as he was before Tammany leader Murphy's friend, Senator Dowling, was placed on the committee.

MURPHY SANDPAPERS PAT.

The cause of today's outburst from McCarren was Murphy's statement, in which he declared that Senator Dowling would be entirely independent of "Long Pat," and would be in charge of the conduct of the campaign in Brooklyn. Murphy added that if there was a chairman of the executive committee he was chairman in name only, sort of political figurehead, as it were.

PAT STICKS TO FUNDS.

McCarren was seen at his desk at Democratic headquarters in Brooklyn. He set his face hard when his attention was called to the Murphy interview, and said: "Dowling has not succeeded me as the power in the Democratic Executive Committee. I am chairman in fact, with everything that that title implies. Dowling will not have anything to say in regard to the management of the campaign in Brooklyn. Neither will he have anything to do with the distribution of the campaign funds here."

"WHY IS A DEMOCRAT?"

"What is McCarren, anyway?" the reporter asked a prominent Kings county Democrat who is close to McCarren.

"What is McCarren?" retorted he furiously. "If McCarren is not recognized as the real head of the Democratic State Executive Committee, you can figure on Brooklyn not aiding and abetting Murphy in swelling his column to meet the Republican horde from up-State that rushes at us to the Bronx River. We have done it before. This time we will be vindictive."

BELMONT'S HEAVY HAND.

IS LAID ON STANCHFIELD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] August Belmont has vetoed the suggestion that John B. Stanchfield be named for Governor on the Democratic ticket. How the Elmira man had been bowled out was told tonight by a member of the State Executive Committee.

"When Hill called on Belmont in the national headquarters, Tuesday," this man said, "it was principally to talk about the Governorship situation—that and the question of candidates for the Court of Appeals.

"Hill trotted out Stanchfield as the choice for Governor, and tried to enlist Belmont's support. He didn't succeed. Belmont said in most positive terms that Stanchfield would not do."

"What were the grounds of Belmont's opposition to Stanchfield?"

"Grounds? I can tell you what the official bulletin says on that subject. Belmont thinks this is not the year to nominate a man who has run before and been defeated. The situation is too doubtful. He believes that the conditions call for nomination in New York City of a man, if one can be found, whose candidacy will not set the different factions here by the ears. As for me, I am a trifle skeptical."

ROOT OUT OF IT.

WON'T RUN FOR GOVERNOR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OYSTER BAY (L. I.) Aug. 24.—"My final word has been spoken. That I am to be considered in any sense in connection with the New York Governorship is out of the question."

Former Secretary of War Elihu Root made this statement to a representative of the Associated Press tonight.

Accompanying George B. Cortelyou of the National Committee, Mr. Root arrived in Oyster Bay at 5:45 p.m., and they will remain as guests of the President at Sagamore Hill until some time tomorrow. They came to consider with the President the latter's letter of acceptance and various matters relating to the campaign.

UTAH REPUBLICANS.

INTEREST IN GOVERNORSHIP.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SALT LAKE, Aug. 24.—A complete State ticket, including Presidential electors, will be named by the Republican State convention which meets here tomorrow. Interest centers in the nomination for the Governorship. A sharp three-cornered fight is on between the friends of Gov. Heber M. Wells, now serving his second term; John C. Hammond and John C. Cutler. Interest is added to the fight by the fact that Senator Smoot and former Congressman Sutherland, who is a candidate for the United States Senate to succeed Senator Thomas Kearns, are openly supporting Cutler, while Gov. Wells has the backing of the friends of Senator Kearns. The platform will indorse the national administration and the Chicago platform. It is not expected that the question of polygamy will be made a feature.

The Republican State Committee today selected George M. Cannon of Salt Lake as temporary chairman of the convention. This is regarded as a victory for the anti-Cutler forces.

MANY HURT IN TROLLEY SMASH.

ROCHESTER (N.Y.) Aug. 24.—A head-on collision occurred today on the Rochester and Eastern railroad near Pittsford. As far as can be learned, thirty-five people were injured, some badly but none fatally. It is said the conductor and motorman of the west-bound attempted to "steal" a switch. The collision happened at a curve, while both cars were going at a high rate of speed. Falling glass and splinters were responsible for many of the wounds.

THE VERY LATEST.

WAR NEWS AFTER MIDNIGHT.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The absence of dispatches of any kind from the Far East this morning leads to the belief expressed editorially in the London newspapers that important events are impending. The mystery regarding the movements of the Russian cruiser which recently overhauled the British steamer Comedian is still unsolved.

In a dispatch to the Central News from Copenhagen, it is declared that the large steamer flying the Russian flag which passed the Great Belt yesterday bound southward, as reported in a dispatch from Nyborg, Denmark, is the Russian volunteer fleet steamer Smolensk.

According to the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at The Hague, the officials of the Russian Embassy there are busily conferring with the leading Dutch members of The Hague arbitration tribunal, and the belief prevails, the correspondent says, that Russia is inclined to submit the matter of what constitutes contraband of war and cognate questions to the tribunal.

The Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Telegraph understands that strict orders have been issued that Russian cruisers are not to be allowed to coal in Cape Colony ports without previous reference to headquarters.

THEY WILL DISARM.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SHANGHAI, Aug. 25.—It is officially stated that the cruiser Askold and the torpedo-boat destroyer Grozovoi will be disarmed.

THANKED THE CREW.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SHANGHAI, Aug. 25.—The dismantling of the cruiser Askold and the torpedo-boat destroyer Grozovoi is by direct order of Emperor Nicholas, who sent a message to the crews congratulating them on saving the vessels and thanking them for their service to the empire.

KOUROPATKIN TO MOVE.

Reports that Gen. Kouropatkin is about to make an important move continue to be circulated, but the character of the move is not hinted at. As the reports from the front agree that the rains have ceased and that the roads are drying, a resumption of military activity is expected.

Since his retirement from Simoucheng and the Yangtse Pass, it is estimated that more than 35,000 reinforcements have reached Gen. Kouropatkin.

Nothing has been received from Russian soldiers confirming the report that the battleship Sevastopol struck a mine outside Port Arthur yesterday.

NEGOTIATIONS AT SHANGHAI.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SHANGHAI, Aug. 24.—The negotiations regarding the Russian warships here has taken a new turn. At 1 o'clock Tuesday morning, Yuan, the Taotai, requested British Consul-General Warren to order work on the Askold stopped, as the dock at which she was being repaired was British property and as Russia refused to obey China's orders respecting neutrality, Consul-General Warren replied that it was too late to take action Tuesday, but that he would do so Wednesday.

Consul-General Warren then interviewed the Russian Consul. The latter begged for further time. Consul-General Warren agreed to withold the order one day. This delay was availed of by the Russian Minister to make a supreme effort to secure at Peking a still further extension of time. As a result of his efforts, the Chinese Ministry of Foreign Affairs ordered Taotai Yuan to allow the vessels to remain in the harbor until next Sunday noon.

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs' reason for the four days' extension of time, it is stated, was that, owing to low tides, the Askold cannot get out of the dock. This reason is based on fact. While awaiting favorable tides, China allows Russia to proceed with repairs, and it is thought that at the end of the extended period the Askold will not only be seaworthy, but that her speed will be increased, thereby adding to her fighting capacity. The Japanese Consul regards this action of China as very serious, and it is reported that he and the Japanese Minister at Peking have recommended to their government that it take decisive steps. The local consular body also regards the new phase of the question as an extremely serious one, and one likely to lead to strenuous action by Japan.

The latter government has intimated that in the event of an extreme course, the consular body and neutral naval commanders will first be notified. Another cruiser has joined the Japanese fleet outside Woosung, under Vice-Admiral Urin.

RAILROAD MAGNATES SAY WHEAT'S AMPLE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Among western railroad presidents now in the city is Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific Railway. It is known that, while Elliott acknowledges that the wheat crop in the Northwest has been injured in some sections, he nevertheless believes the yield could be considerably larger than indicated by the recent pessimistic estimates. Ansel Oppenheim, vice-president of the Chicago Great Western Railroad Company, is also in town. He says that while the wheat crop has been damaged, there will be at least 500,000,000 bushels of a crop, which is enough for everybody, and that, at the prices which farmers undoubtedly will receive, will amount to more to them than the larger crop, prophesied earlier, at considerably lower prices would have brought them.

W. H. McDoel, president of the Monon Road, expressed himself very hopefully regarding the crop and business conditions in the territory served by his road.

T. P. Shonts, president of the Clover Leaf Road, was equally confident with respect to the outlook for business along the lines of the property of which he is the executive head.

Sugar Rate Complication.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—New, but fruitless efforts have been made by the western roads to bring about an adjustment of the sugar-rate complications. All the Chicago lines have put into effect a 5-cent rate from Chicago to St. Louis, which, added to the cut rate of 5 cents from St. Louis to the Missouri River, makes a tariff from Chicago to Kansas City of 10 cents a hundred pounds, or a cut of 17 cents.

Treasury Puts up Money With Which to Move Crops of West and Northwest—Statistics of Western Land Sales—Annual Pension Report Issued by Ware.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—In the absence of any official intimation that the aid of the Federal government is to be invoked at Omaha, in behalf of the packing interests, the responsible officials of the administration in Washington prefer not to discuss what course might be followed if such a request comes, except to say that it would depend altogether on the showing that might be made. It is pointed out very clearly by them, however, that a request for Federal assistance of the character referred to must come from the Legislature of the State or from the Governor. In this event, the matter would be promptly taken up for consideration.

An exception to this might be permitted in the event that the marshal of a court was unable to enforce an order that might be obtained as a result of steps taken by the packing interests, in which case that official could call on the Department of Justice for whatever assistance he might need.

PUBLIC LAND SALES.

COMMISSIONER'S REPORT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The annual report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office concerning sales of public lands during the fiscal year just ended showed a falling off of $1,761,725, as compared with the fiscal year 1903. About 78 per cent. of the falling-off occurred in California, Oregon and Washington, receipts in these States being $1,364,000 less than last year.

This was caused by the operation of Secretary Hitchcock's order suspending timber and stone entries. California land sales were $359,325 les than last year, Oregon's $572,950 less, and Washington's $431,625 less.

Secretary Hitchcock's order was rescinded last spring, and this fiscal year's business is expected to exceed that of 1903, which was the banner year in the history of the country.

Cruiser Tacoma Finally Accepted.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Announcement is made at the Navy Department that the cruiser Tacoma, Commander Nicholson, has been finally accepted from the Union Iron Works, San Francisco.

Rear Admiral Watson Retired.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Rear-Admiral John C. Watson today was placed on the retired list of the navy, having reached the age of 62 years.

Annual Pension Report Issued.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The annual report of Pension Commissioner Ware, covering the fiscal year ended June 30, 1904, was made public today by the acting Secretary of the Interior. The report shows that during the year the cost of maintaining the pension system of the government has been $144,714,787. The appropriation for this purpose was $146,461,296.

SENATOR BETTER.

Had Comfortable Day, Has Taken a Little More Nourishment and Lungs Don't Trouble Him.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WORCESTER (Mass.) Aug. 24.—Senator Hoar has had a more comfortable day. The threatened lungs are not causing trouble. He has taken a little more nourishment. There is every prospect of a good night. This bulletin was given out at 9 o'clock tonight.

Dr. Warren R. Gilman, Senator Hoar's physician, issued soon afterward the following medical summary of the case: "The condition of the lungs, which caused alarm, has improved materially during the last three days and immediate danger has apparently been averted. Changes in the heart and other organs have been marked for some years and these changes, together with the exhaustion following a long and severe attack of lumbago, made recovery uncertain."

HOLD UP AND ROB PAYMASTER.

PATERSON (N. J.) Aug. 24.—Four masked men held up the paymaster of the O'Rourke Construction Company, a man named White, on the Ridge road near here today and robbed him of $5000. The paymaster, accompanied by two men, was on his way to the office of the company, driving in a buggy, when four men, one an American, masked completely, and three Italians wearing blue goggles, came out of the woods. The American shot the horse. The robbers covered the three occupants of the buggy with guns and got away with the bag of money.

Gen. Pratt Tells Why Indian Has Not Made Progress—Red Men's Camps at Expositions Scored.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHAUTAUQUA (N. Y.) Aug. 24.—Gen. R. H. Pratt, recently removed as director of the Carlisle Indian School because of differences with the Indian office, spoke here today on "Our Duty to the Indian."

The speaker attributed the failure of the Indian to make progress to the system of segregation enforced by the Department of the Interior.

Gen. Pratt especially attacked the Indian camps at recent expositions, on the ground that the red men are made to put up their original houses, in which they have not lived for generations.

MODIFY "DIPPING" REGULATION.

DENVER, Aug. 24.—In accordance with a request from the National Livestock Association, the bureau of animal industry has modified the regulations compelling cattlemen in Western States to dip their cattle for mange before shipping to market. Fat cattle designed for slaughter originating in an infected section may be shipped to market centers without dipping or placarding cars providing they have been duly inspected and found free from evidence of scabies or mange. It is further provided that, if it is afterward decided to reship such cattle for feeding purposes or for export, this may be done after dipping at the stock yards.

Another Cloudburst Discourages the Railroads.

Convict Escapes via Steamer. Mining Congress.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

RENO (Nev.) Aug. 24.—As a result of the washouts Monday afternoon on the Tonopah and the Carson and Colorado railroads the towns of Goldfield and Tonopah are threatened with famine. They are situated in a mountainous country and the only method of [illegible] supplies is from the Tonopah road. Before it was opened they received supplies by pack trains, but since then the towns have grown to such proportions that the demand cannot now be met by such methods. Prices have risen to enormous figures.

ANOTHER CLOUDBURST.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SELIGMAN (Ariz.) Aug. 24.—Another cloudburst occurred around Crozier, [illegible], fifty-three miles west of here, at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The main line blockade on the Santa Fé Railroad continues. Trains which left Chicago and Kansas City on Friday and Saturday are still tied up. Another heavy storm is prevailing along the line. It sprang up at [illegible] from the northeast. It is raining hard in the mountains west of here. All wires west are down. The railroad officials promised that westbound trains would be moved this morning, but the present storm may cause fresh washouts.

[illegible] of the five trains which have been tied up at Ash Fork since Monday were sent to Seligman last night in order to relieve the congestion, both in the yards and the eating-house. The railroad commenced feeding the detained travelers yesterday. The lunch-rooms at Ash Fork and Seligman have been taxed to their capacity and many of the fresh supplies are running short.

STREAMS GREATLY SWOLLEN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SELIGMAN (Ariz.) Aug. 24.—During a heavy storm today a cloudburst occurred in the mountains which caused the streams in the locality to become greatly swollen.

It brought a large volume of water rushing through Crozier Cañon. Much damage has been done and the Santa Fé Railroad Company, which has been working night and day to repair the damage done by the recent rains, is practically out of business. About three hundred feet of track has been washed out at Crozier. The new abutments of the bridge at that point have been carried away by the rushing water. Telegraph poles and wires have been wrecked and water is running over the company's roadbed at Crozier.

The railroad officials have announced that all delayed westbound trains will be sent at once by way of Albuquerque and Deming, N. M., and detour west over the Southern Pacific tracks to California. Numbers one and seven started at [illegible] o'clock tonight. The Cuthbert [illegible] Party special from Canada following at Ashfork and all other westbound trains were on their way by midnight.

The Santa Fé were arranging to [illegible] their trains from Ashfork to Maricopa and Phoenix road, via [illegible] and thence to Los Angeles on the Southern Pacific. Considerable damage by washouts near Maricopa, however, put that road in bad condition and trains could not be handled readily.

SALT RIVER LOWER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Aug. 24.—Salt River is lower today than yesterday, and the flood expected tonight was but partially realized. Settlers in the lowlands were alarmed, however, and during the nights hundreds flocked into Phoenix and Tempe from the river bottoms.

Railroad bridges and dams are safe. No further trouble is anticipated. High water in Gila River last night took out part of the Phoenix and Eastern bridge at Kelvia and slightly damaged the bridge at Twin Buttes. This afternoon one tent was taken from the small bridge on the Santa Fé, Prescott and Phoenix near Prescott Junction, and the southbound train will be delayed several hours.

Another washout on the Santa Fé main line west of Ashfork was reported today.

TRANS-MISSISSIPPI CONGRESS.

CALL FOR FIFTEENTH SESSION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PORTLAND, Aug. 24.—Tom Richardson, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress, has issued o formal call for the fifteenth session of the congress to be held at St. Louis October [illegible] to 29, inclusive. President Francis of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Company has placed the Convention Hall on the World's Fair grounds at the disposal of the congress for its sessions.

That the representation at the congress will be large is shown by the provisions for representation contained in the call. The Governor of each State and Territory may appoint ten and not more than twenty delegates, the Mayor of each city may appoint one delegate and one additional delegate for each [illegible] inhabitants, but no city can have more than ten delegates. Each county in the United States may appoint one delegate through its executive officer and every business organization may appoint one delegate and an additional delegate for every fifty members, but no organization can have more than ten delegates. The Governors of States and Territories, members of Congress and ex-presidents of the Commercial Congress are ex-officio members, with privileges of voting.

The last session of the congress was held in Seattle in August last year.

WATERS CAN BE CONTROLLED.

OPINION OF FLOOD EXPERT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—The commission of engineers appointed by the State, through the River Improvement and Drainage Association, is holding daily public sessions.

At the meeting today a paper on "The Sacramento River," written by Will S. Green of Colusa, was read. The author referred to the situation around Colusa, as the Sacramento River carries gravel in its waters as far as Knights' Landing. There the gravel is deposited and makes a sandbar which retards the water in the spring, causing great destruction.

He advocated the building of canals to carry away the waste water, and also suggested that the water be stored for irrigation purposes later in the summer.

In conclusion, he declared: "With a little care the flood waters of the Sacramento Valley can be controlled and the river basins drained, so that farming can be carried on on the fertile lands now yearly covered by water."

NOT CONSIDERED FEASIBLE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—J. W. Kearth, a civil engineer, was also heard from along the same lines. While Gen. Green and Mr. Kearth were elucidating their plan, Maj. Dabney, Mr. Nurse and Mr. Richardson of the board asked innumerable technical questions about working methods. Commissioner Nurse particularly seemed convinced that the plan was not feasible and his fellow-members of the board did not express their approval. They were all of the opinion that the scheme looked well on its face, but they were skeptical about the solution of the engineering problems involved.

FILIPINOS BACK FROM EAST.

RETURN TO MANILA AUGUST 30.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—The Filipino commissioners, under the guidance of Arthur W. Ferguson, executive secretary for the Philippine Islands, arrived here today from Seattle after a tour of the United States which has lasted for eleven weeks. They will sail for home August 30 on board the steamship Manchuria. Nine members of the original party which landed here in May are returning to Manila by Europe.

Mr. Ferguson, in speaking of its trip, said it had been most successful in every respect; that all the commissioners were well, and that no untoward incident had marred their travels.

WOOD TRAIN DERAILED.

FIREMAN HAS LEG HURT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 24.—An accident took place about noon today on the Placerville railroad, seven miles east of Folsom, when five cars of a wood train and a locomotive were derailed. The train had been sent from this city to deliver supplies along the line and on the return trip the accident occurred.

When the derailment occurred Fireman P. J. Kampk of this city had a leg caught between the engine and the tender. His injuries were declared to be quite serious.

GOT AWAY ON STEAMER.

CONVICT ESCAPES SAN QUENTIN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Bert Short, the convict who escaped from San Quentin Thursday last, got away, it is now believed, on the steamer Caroline, which carries supplies to the prison. This belief is founded upon the recent discovery of a convict's shirt, coat and vest concealed on board the steamer.

Short was sentenced a few months ago to serve ten years at San Quentin for burglary.

DOWN TO DENVER AND SALT LAKE.

PERMANENT HEADQUARTERS OF THE MINING CONGRESS.

Warm Discussion Over Resolution Committing Delegates at Portland to Endorsement of Resolution That Alaska Have Representatives in United States Congress.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PORTLAND, Aug. 24.—The adoption of the resolution modifying the constitution of the American Mining Congress and empowering the board of directors to select the place for holding the annual convention has somewhat changed the aspect of the fight for the convention of 1905.

The El Paso delegates believe that a majority of the new board of directors will be friendly to the choice of that city. The time when the selection shall be made is not fixed, and it may be at any time during the ensuing year, allowing sufficient time for the preliminary work essential to the success of an annual convention.

The report of the Committee on Buildings and Permanent Headquarters eliminated any other city in the contest for this honor except Denver and Salt Lake. This subject is to be considered at tomorrow's session.

More than an hour of the forenoon session today was devoted to debate over resolutions reported back with recommendations that they be not adopted. The resolution of T. A. Rickard, editor of the Mining and Engineering Journal of New York, indorsing the action of the Postoffice Department was unanimously adopted.

WARM DISCUSSION.

A warm discussion was aroused over a resolution committing the congress to indorsement of the desires of residents of Alaska for representation in the United States Congress by one or more delegates. The Resolution Committee recommended that it be not adopted. H. S. Joseph of Utah called upon the committee for the reasons of its attitude.

Secretary Talmage of Utah explained that the committee did not wish to mix political questions with the business of the convention. The resolution was finally adopted by a very large majority.

John S. Crawford of Grants Pass, Or., delivered the only address of the morning session, taking for his subject "The Relation of Electrical Force and its Conditions to Geology."

EL PASO FAVORED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 24.—The 1905 session of the American Mining Congress will be held at El Paso if the Board of Directors is guided in its decision by the voice of the delegates and members present at the seventh annual session. This afternoon a resolution favoring that city as the place of the next convention was adopted by a unanimous vote

Late tonight it was announced that proxies held by delegates to the American Mining Congress cannot be voted and that delegates not regularly elected members of the congress will not be allowed to vote with the members, thus preventing cities seeking the permanent headquarters of the congress from voting large numbers of proxies and delegates sent here for the purpose of swelling their votes.

NATURALIST DUNN'S PLIGHT.

ASKS ALMSHOUSE'S SHELTER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—George Washington Dunn, a naturalist well known on two continents, applied today to become an inmate of the city almshouse. Although destitute and hungry, the old man has at his room at No 364 Beach street many thousands of beautiful specimens of beetles and butterflies.

Up to a year ago the scientist, who is now 91 years old, was able to collect beautiful and rare insects. With what money he could make by supplying private individuals with specimens he managed to eke out an existence.

Dunn came to California in September, 1839. Among his patrons in those days were Baron Rothschild and Lord Cholmondeley. In their behalf he made many trips to South Africa in search of rarities. Twelve times he has visited the South American continent and the results of his journeys are in the museum of the Baron and the Smithsonian Institution at Washington.

Although a recognized authority on all matters pertaining to bug and insect life, the old naturalist never went to college. He was graduated from a high school at Lyons, N. Y., but immediately sought the seclusion of the fields and avoided the ordinary associations of men. His friends were among the most eminent scientists.

THREE MEN BLOWN TO PIECES.

ARGONAUT MINE ACCIDENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

JACKSON, Aug. 24.—A frightful accident occurred at the Argonaut mine today. Four men, William J. Curnow, Amerigo Scatena, Michael Quinn and William Jewell, employed in sinking a shaft, prepared eighteen or twenty holes and while lighting the fuzes, one blast exploded prematurely.

Curnow, Scatena and Quinn were so badly injured by the explosion that they were unable to do anything to save themselves. They were therefore exposed to the débris of the other blasts, nine or ten in number. The three men were literally blown to pieces.

Jewell was struck in the back by the first blast, but managed to get out of danger before the other explosions occurred. He is severely injured, but will recover.

NEW COUNTY IS PROPOSED.

Cattleman Miller Wants One, and is Willing to Spend Money on it.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FRESNO, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Henry Miller, of the cattle firm of Miller & Lux, has planned to carve out a new county in this valley, to be known as Miller county, the county seat to be Los Banos, and upon public buildings which will have to be erected for county offices Miller will spend $500,000 out of his pocket.

It is proposed to make the new county out of parts of Fresno, Merced and Stanislaus counties, so that Los Banos will be in the center of the county. This will leave the boundaries with Fresno, Slough and San Joaquin River on the East, with San Benito, Santa Clara and Monterey counties on the west. Coalinga, with its oil fields, will be included.

If Miller can convince the Legislature, he will start the county off in good financial condition. He will put up a $150,000 stone courthouse and jail and give all land needed for county purposes. Miller will put in a new irrigation system and endeavor to make the new county the leading one of Central California.

GOVERNOR AT MANEUVERS.

Final Problem, Passage of a Defended Defile.

Good Generalship Displayed at Atascadero.

Militia Will Spend Today in Breaking Camp.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CAMP ATASCADERO, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] This has been an important day in camp, its principal features being the arrival of Gov. Pardee and party and the execution of the military problem which ends the series of exercises and marks the close of the joint maneuvers of the regulars and the National Guard of California.

Gov. Pardee was accompanied by Mrs. Pardee, Col. and Mrs. E. F. Beck, Lieut.-Col. Hugh T. Sime, Col. Robert Wiencke, Col. Bullen and Col. Crowley. He came on a special car, and, his visit today being informal, he was not received with ceremony. Col. S. P. Jocelyn, Gen. MacArthur's chief of staff, was sent to Paso Robles to receive the Governor, who, it was reported, would spend the night there, but instead, the gubernatorial car came direct to Asuncion, whence the party rode by automobiles to division headquarters, where Gen. MacArthur held an informal reception in his tent. The Governor will spend the night in camp.

At 7:45 a.m. tomorrow morning a salute of seventeen guns will be fired in honor of Gov. Pardee, who, at 8 a.m., will review the entire division on the parade grounds south of the First Brigade camp.

THE FINAL PROBLEM.

The final problem of the maneuvers undertaken this morning, was the passage of a defile defended by the Browns, by an advancing force of Blues. It was assumed that a Blue force was detrained during the night at Asuncion Station for the purpose of taking an inferior Brown force, holding the Graves Creek road to the south. Col. A. C. Markley, U.S.A., commanding the Blue force, determined to advance up the road and attack his enemy wherever found. The Browns, under Col. H. C. Ward, U.S.A., moved to a deep gorge on the road and decided to give battle at that defile.

The Blues were a strong force, consisting of the Fifteenth U. S., the First, Second and Fifth California Infantry, the First Battalion California Artillery, Troops K and L, Ninth U. S. Cavalry, and the squadron of California Cavalry, the Fifth U. S. Field Battery and a platoon of the First Battery.

The Browns comprised the provisional regiment of U. S. Infantry, the Sixth and Seventh Cavalry Infantry, Troop M, Ninth U. S. Cavalry, the Twenty-Fourth U. S. Field Battery and two platoons of the First Battery.

WAS A RATIONAL TEST.

Unlike the other problems, that of today was a rational one and did not exhaust the troops. The marches to starting points were not excessive, the point of contact was not far from camp. The troops took interest in their work and returned to camp by 1 p.m. in a cheerful frame of mind.

Good generalship was displayed by both Markley and Ward. The latter posted his numerically weaker force as advantageously as he could about the defile commanding the gorge with his artillery on a high hill in the rear; seizing the hill on one side with his cavalry and that on the other, and threatened one, with the Sixth and Seventh California.

The provisional regiment lined along a sharp ridge south of the defile.

It was about 9 a.m. when the scouts of the two forces came in conflict. The Brown artillery opened the engagement from the high hill they had reached, overcoming all obstacles. A brisk musketry fire was opened up on the main body of the Blues as it approached the defile, but in spite of the heavy losses it pressed on, driving back the Browns on the hills.

MET BY DEADLY VOLLEY.

As the on-rushing Blues dashed through the defile, they were met by a deadly volley fire from the provisional regiment and wavered. Whole groups of men were ruled out by the umpires as slain or disabled. Artillery vied with infantry with its volume of fire.

Suddenly, to the astonishment of the Browns, two heavy peals of cannon roared out on their right. Looking up, the provisional regiment, which had up to this time been exulting in its supposed repulse of the Blues in front, saw on a commanding hill on the right flank a platoon of Blue artillery, which was pouring a murderous fire, enfilading the whole regimental line. By a swift, clever, daring movement, Lieut. J. A. Langdon, of the Blue artillery, had made a detour and planted two field pieces on a crest commanding the Brown supposedly impregnable line.

A whole company of Browns was caught in between this battery and its supports on the one hand, and the Blue main body, coming through the defile, on the other other.

Things looked gloomy for the Browns at this time, with part of its infantry forced back, the rest flanked and enveloped, but the Brown artillery was still in full action and doing great execution from two splendidly-chosen positions when the recall was sounded by orders of the umpires and the exercise was terminated, with the Blues in the defile and the Browns in sore straits.

REAL ENEMY ENCOUNTERED.

While awaiting the approach of the Blues, several soldiers of the provisional regiment had a narrow escape. They were lying close together, on their stomachs, when one of them felt something move under his arm. It was a lusty young rattlesnake, and at once started its rattle, but the butt of a musket quickly ended its life before it could attack those near.

After the review by the government tomorrow morning, the militia will be paid off for the time they have been in the service of the United States. They will spend the rest of the day packing up, getting their baggage to the depot and breaking camp generally. Friday they all go home again, to await the next call from national or State government.

Adjt.-Gen. J. B. Lauck, N.G.C., who has been in constant attendance at the maneuvers, will not leave camp until Saturday.

All the umpires, twenty-two in number, who are on duty outside the Department of California, left for their stations tonight. Only seven umpires remain in camp. The regulars will leave August 30.

UP AGAINST DIFFICULTY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ASUNCION, Aug. 24.—The problem of today in the army maneuvers was that of the passage of a defile. A Blue force composed of the three arms was supposed to have detrained during the night at Asuncion station for the purpose of attacking an inferior Brown force of similar composition said to have been holding the Graves Creek road to the south. The commander of the Blues, Col. Markley, decided to advance up the Graves Creek road and attack the enemy wherever found. The Brown force, under Col. Ward, was encamped at Paradise Spring. Scouts having informed the commander of the arrival at Asuncion of a superior Blue force, he decided to move to Needle Gorge and attempt to defeat it at that defile. In passing through the defile in safety was the problem of the day.

Todays' problem demonstrated the difficulty of passing a defile, for in spite of the hard figuring done by the Blues, they failed to take an artillery position of the Browns commanding the gorge, and which had to be taken before the train of Blues could be brought through. The Blues executed a very pretty right-flank movement on the Browns when the Fifteenth Infantry swept down on them and drove them from their position on the ridge to Needle Flat. The reserves of the Blues were then brought up from a gully in the rear and attacked the Browns on the left, hemming them in and practically wiping out two battalions. Meanwhile, the Blue artillery on two separate hills commanding the gorge had been shelling the Brown's artillery position, but without effect.

The effect of the whole maneuver was that the Blue force took all the positions in the defile except the artillery position. It was then decided to attempt to outflank this by a movement of troops on their right, but the artillery fire was concentrated on the approaching column, and the umpire's whistle blew the recall.

GIVING THE BOY A ROYAL SEND-OFF.

Russia Enthuses Over Her Young Hopeful With Booming Cannon and the Ringing of Innumerable Bells. Magnificence Touches the Barbaric.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 24. 5:15 p.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] A wave of rejoicing and festivity swept over Russia with the rising of the sun on the christening day of the heir to the Russian throne, culminating when the Te Deum, softly chanted in the beautiful little church of the Peterhof Palace, announced that the ceremony was accomplished and the news was heralded to the world without by the crash of cannon and the chiming of innumerable church bells, echoing from the Baltic to the Black seas and from the the frontiers of Poland to the confines of the Farthest East.

Notwithstanding the momentous events passing at the front, the whole population turned gladly, for the time being, from more serious considerations to participate in the day of glittering ceremonial and pageantry at the Peterhof, where the tiny successor to the "Great White Car" received, at the hands of the church, the name of Alexis Micholaevitch, from which he is destined to pass, in course of time, to the dignity and responsibility of Autocrat of All the Russias.

While some of the festivities usual on such occasions, for instance, the state banquet, were omitted, a simple breakfast being substituted in deference to the grave struggle in which the country is engaged, nothing was discernible in the bright morning at Peterhof to put the slightest damper on the christening day. From every angle and corner of the palace flags waved in the crips, cool wind, driving in across the clear, blue water of the Finnish Gulf. The historic wall fountains, stretching in magnificent vistas below the palace terrace, broke into snowy foam and rainbow spray in the clear sunlight. The soldiers of the guards, moved in a continual swirl of color around the doorways of the palace.

St. Petersburg itself awoke to the flutter of flags from every house-front. Even the street cars flew pennons, like those of battleships under way, and the droskys were nearly all decorated with flags. The garrisons of the fortresses were more alert than usual. There was a bright panorama of guard mounts and dress parades, and the gunners were early at their stations, ready to fire a national salute in honor of the baby heir.

Within the royal part of the Peterhof Palace, from the moment the cortege issued from the gates of the Alexandra Villa to the instant the glasses were clinked around the imperial table in the great palace, the scene was one of magnificence and brilliancy almost touching the barbaric.

THE IMPERIAL CORTEGE.

Over perfect roads, beneath stately overhanging trees, the procession moved through the royal park, a beautiful, slowly-changing picture, perfect to its smallest detail. It was headed by the Master of the Imperial Household, his uniform ablaze with gold and decorations. He was surrounded by a retinue of officials only a little less brilliant.

The center of interest, of course, was the golden state carriage, drawn by eight milk-white horses, with riders and walking grooms, in which sat the Princess Galatzin, Mistress of the Empress's Household, with the imperial heir. At the door of the coach on one side rode the Grand Equerry of the court, Lieut.-Gen. De Grunwald, and on the other side the commander of the household troops, Lieut.-Gen. Hesse, both superbly mounted and uniformed like glittering equestrian statues.

BLUE COSSACKS.

Following the coach came an armed escort, with poised lances, of the famous Blue Cossacks of the Don, of which the baby heir is now commander-in-chief. Each man and horse of this picturesque guard was groomed to perfection, the very ideal of the wild, light cavalry of the Russian steppes. The procession passed the palace to the church. There was another picture in the waiting rooms. The royal salons were filled with a most brilliant assemblage, the ladies of the court, all in sparkling jewels, the officers resplendent in the gorgeous uniforms of the empire.

CZAR AND CZARINA.

The Emperor, his face wreathed in smiles and with the Dowager Empress on his arm, led the procession, followed by the other members of the imperial family—the Grand Dukes and Grand Duchesses in the order of their rank, the baby bringing up the rear, the youngest of all. His Majesty was met at the door of the church by the Metropolitan of St. Petersburg, with raised cross. But here the Emperor retired, as the rules of the orthodox church give him no place in the ceremony in which the baby was presented by his spiritual parents to the Heavenly Father.

Inside the chapel were assembled M. Pobiedonostzeff, procurator-general of the Holy Synod, and members of the Holy Synod, the diplomatic corps, with whom was Ambassador McCormick and imperial guests from every court in Europe.

The christening party gathered at the jewel-crusted font. The baby was carried by Princess Galatzin, and the cushion on which it was borne was supported by Gen. Richter and Prince Dolgorouki, aides-de-camp to the Emperor. The sponsors represented the Emperor and Empress, two Kings, one Princess and four Grand Duchesses.

HIS INFANCY.

The baby was so shrouded in filmy lace, dainty flannels and a purple silk overmantle that it was almost impossible to distinguish the form that lay so still and quiet as the Metropolitan of St. Petersburg anointed its hands, breast and forehead with the mystical holy oil, compounded for the purpose in solemn secrecy at the Kremlin. But, when the moment came to complete the immersion in the warm water of the font, the royal infant showed his humanity by a lusty yell, which echoed through the chapel and was greeted by a murmur of amusement and approval, as being a sign of luck and good augury for the future.

The Te Deum, melodiously chanted by a hidden choir, was the signal to the bells overhead, which swung clamorously, while from the royal yacht, off the shore of the gulf, thundered a salute of 301 guns. The signal was taken up at Kronstadt and St. Petersburg, and Moscow's 500 bells chimed while the guns of the Kremlin rolled.

THE CZAR ENTERS.

As the message sped forth from the fort to the town, the Emperor entered the chapel and mass was celebrated. During the singing of the psalm, His Majesty conferred on the heir the cross of the Order of St. Andrew and tenderly draped the distinguishing ribbon around the baby's shoulders. Congratulations were pressed upon the father through the crowded length of the salons where passed the baby, now the head of the royal party, next in rank to the Emperor himself.

Breakfast at the great palace completed the ceremony, and then rain, which had been gathering late in the forenoon, fell in torrents as the guests scattered to the various quarters and made the best of their way back to the capital.

WHEREIN THE PEOPLE JOY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 24, 6:05 a.m.—The manifesto of Emperor Nicholas on the occasion of the birth of an heir to the throne, the text of which is published this morning, is a very lengthy document. It is exceedingly liberal in the benefits bestowed on many classes.

One of the most important provisions relates to the entire abolition of corporal punishment among the rural classes and its curtailments in the army and navy.

The remission of land-purchase arrears affects one of the largest classes of the population throughout the empire, and its benefits are also extended to estates in Finland. The amelioration of the conditions which prevail in Finland are more extensive than had been expected, and include the establishment of a State land fund, amnesty for various offenses and remission of penalties inflicted for noncompliance with the conscription acts and for emigration without permission.

The general provisions of the manifesto include an all-round reduction in sentences for common-law offenses, a general amnesty for political offenses, except in case of murder, and the education of children of officers and soldiers who have been victims of the war, as well as assistance for such families as need it whose breadwinners have fallen in the service of their country.

The manifesto is introduced in the following message to the people:

"By the will of God, we, Czar and Autocrat of all the Russias, Czar of Poland, Grand Duke of Finland, etc., announce to our faithful subjects that on this, the christening day of our son and heir, the Grand Duke Alexis Nicholievitch, following the promptings of our heart, turn to our great family of the empire and, with the deepest and most heartfelt pleasure, even amidst these times of national struggle and difficulty, bestow upon them some gifts of our royal favor for their greater enjoyment in their daily lives."

The Empress left her bed yesterday for the first time since the birth of her son. Both she and the infant are in excellent health. The heir weighs about ten and one-half pounds.

In making the rounds of the diplomatic corps, the Emperor displayed especial cordiality toward Ambassador McCormick.

The weather cleared late in the afternoon, and tonight both the grounds of the Peterhof Palace and the city of St. Petersburg were illuminated. There was an extensive display of firework in both places, music was rendered in the parks, and a free performance was given at the Imperial Theater.

CZAR CONFERS ORDERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 24.—An imperial autograph letter was published today, making a number of promotions and conferring decorations on the occasion of the baptism of the heir to the throne, including the bestowal on M. Witte, president of the Council of Ministers, of the Order of the White Eagle; on Foreign Minister Lamsdorff, the St. Alexander Nevsky order in brilliants, and on Minister of Justice Muravieff and Minister of Agriculture Yermoloff, the St. Alexander Nevsky order. Prince Heikoff, the Minister of Railroads, is appointed a secretary of state. An imperial order for the day directs that the Finnish military district be abolished as a distinctive district and that it be merged in the St. Petersburg district. Special acts of grace to the army and navy are also announced.

WAR BULLETINS FROM MANY POINTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SHANGHAI, Aug. 24.—[By Asiatic Cable.] In view of the fact that the Chinese Ministry of Foreign Affairs has given the Russian warships now here four more days in which to make repairs, the situation is believed to have become more serious.

UNTIL NOON OF AUGUST 28.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The State Department has been advised that the Wai Hu Pu has extended the time for repairs on the Russian ships in Shanghai to noon on August 28.

IF ONLY JAPAN AGREES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, Aug. 24.—A dispatch to the Temps from St. Petersburg says the Askold, the Grozovoi and the Diana will be disarmed if Japan will give the powers a specific promise not to attempt thereafter to seize them.

WHAT ENGLAND EXPECTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, Aug. 24.—British official advices lead to the expectation that Russia will order, if she has not already done so, the disarmament of the protected cruiser Askold and the torpedo-boat destroyer Grozovoi at Shanghai, and thus end the controversy. The British dock, which the Askold occupies, is outside the foreign settlement and within Chinese territory, and therefore under Chinese jurisdiction.

NO REDRESS FOR DAMAGES.

Dr. Peltham Warren, British Consul-General, is without authority to order the dock company to stop repairs on the ships, but his advice that no further work on the vessels should be done has been sufficient to convince the dock officials that if they persist in repairing the Russian vessels and a naval combat occurs in which the dock is damaged they will obtain no redress through the British government.

JAPS TO SEE FOR THEMSELVES.

The Japanese legation here is now hopeful that the incident will be satisfactorily ended, but it is added that Japan proposes to see for herself that the ships are dismantled; and therefore she will send an inspecting officer on board, as she did in the case of the Russian warships which sought refuge at Tsing Tau, the German port on the Shantung promontory.

REDUCING RUSSIA'S UNITS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, Aug. 24.—There is reason to believe that a decision is about to be taken providing for the voluntary disarmament of the Russian cruiser Askold and the torpedo-boat destroyer Grozovoi, now at Shanghai, and the Russian cruiser Diana, at Saigon. This will be done primarily to avoid international complications and will have the effect of reducing the Russian strength by three strong units, but the Russian authorities consider that it will be offset by the avoidance of the possible capture of the vessels named by the Japanese.

DIANA BADLY CRIPPLED.

Advices received here from Saigon show, contrary to previous announcements, that the Diana is in a very bad condition. She has one large hole in her hull below the water line. Her injuries will take weeks to repair. This would have permitted an extension of her sojourn in a neutral port beyond the twenty-four hours, which expired yesterday; but it is foreseen that the repairs would entail such a stay at Saigon that it is possible that questions affecting the neutrality of the port would be likely to arise, and therefore Russia is disposed to disarm the Diana. Action to be taken at Shanghai and Saigon will relieve the cases of international significance and practically close them.

CONFERENCE AT WASHINGTON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—There was a conference at the Navy Department today between Mr. Adee, Acting Secretary of State, and Mr. Darling, Acting Secretary of the Navy, regarding the situation at Shanghai. Mr. Adee had some advices from the department's agents, but no word has reached here from Admiral Stirling, who is under orders to report every development to the department. After the conference the announcement was made that Admiral Stirling would delay his departure to Manila Bay, where he was due September 1 for the purpose of holding the regular autumn target practice of the Asiatic fleet. The Navy Department can fix no date now for the target practice.

NOVOSTI TO SMASH NEUTRALITY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 24, 9:10 a.m.—The Novosti today says: "Continued violation of neutrality laws in the Chinese ports by the Japanese will compel Russia to regard the Chinese empire, or at least part thereof, as being within the sphere of active hostilities. China lacks either power or the inclination to prevent Japanese incursions. The warships of neutral powers idly watch these violations. Therefore, the agreement as to China's neutrality made at the beginning of the war, becomes a dead letter and Russia must ignore it in self-defense."

The Novoe Vremya says that the action of the British authorities in issuing new coaling regulations was aimed directly against Russia. The paper adds: "They will not affect the carrying out of Russia's plans. They indicate how much reliance can be placed on the professions of British friendship."

THE COMEDIAN CASE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 24, 7:05 p.m.—Owing to the holiday there was no one at the admiralty here who could speak authoritatively on the reported stopping of the British steamer Comedian by the Smolensk off the southeast coast of Cape Colony, but at the Foreign Office the correspondent of the Associated Press was informed that it is not certain whether the orders to desist from stopping neutrals had reached the Smolensk, as she did not report after leaving Suez, but a ship was sent out to convey orders to her. If the reports that the Smolensk stopped the Comedian prove to be correct, the Foreign Office holds that it will come within the arrangement announced at the time of the Malacca affair, whereby it was agreed with Great Britain that in the event of any repetition of such act, pending the receipt of orders by the vessels of the Russian volunteer fleet, ships, if seized, are to be forthwith released and the acts are to be considered as not having occurred.

IDENTITY YET IN DOUBT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The British Foreign Office has not yet been able to establish the identity of the Russian cruiser which recently examined the papers of the British steamer Comedian off the southeast coast of Cape Colony. Telegraphic reports from the authorities at Durban confirm the examination of the papers, but as no person on board the Comedian could read Russian characters, difficulty has been found in determining the name of the cruiser.

The description by the commander of the Comedian tallies with that of the Smolensk, but it might also be the description of the converted liner Don The authorities are continuing the investigation, but, pending a settlement of the all-important question whether the Smolensk conducted the search, Great Britain is unable to act as determinedly as it is asserted at the Foreign Office she would be entitled to if the fact was definitely established.

There is reason to believe that Ambassador Hardinge will make inquiries at St. Petersburg and he may even go so far as to express the hope that neither the Smolensk nor the St. Petersburg are continuing the examination of neutral vessels, contrary to assurances given by Russia. In any event, it is said, the Ambassador will enter a fresh protest against the examination of a neutral ship at a point so distant from the scene of hostilities.

MANCHURIA'S FUTURE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Baron Matsudaira, member of the House of Peers of Japan and vice-president of the Imperial Japanese Commission to the St. Louis Exposition, is here on his way home. In an interview published in the Chronicle this morning he is quoted as follows on the Russo-Japanese War situation:

"The true cause of the present war is the eagerness of the Japanese to carry western civilization into the Orient—into Manchuria and into China proper. She feels it her duty to do for the Orient what America has done for her.

"The best way to do this was, she thought, to open up the ports and other cities of Manchuria and of China proper to the commerce of the world.

"She had no reason to expect a controversy from Russia in accomplishing this object—she did not expect war but a peaceable settlement.

"The world is familiar with the immediate occasion of the conflict.

"The fall of Port Arthur will probably not close the war, because it may not settle the purpose of the war—it may not convince Russia. By the time that the Russians get to Harbin, it will be time for Russia to be convinced that she was wrong.

"In case the Japanese win in this war, they will not treat Manchuria according to Russian policy. There are many possibilities, but probably she will not make it a Japanese territory, but will handle it in accordance with the original purpose. The victory of Japan will greatly increase American oriental commerce."

Baron Matsudaira will sail for Japan on the Manchuria tomorrow.

RUSSIAN PRISONERS' LOT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—The American Board has received from Rev. Sidney L. Gulick of Matsuiama, Japan, a report of missionary work which states that more than twelve hundred Russian prisoners have been brought to that city. The prisoners are quartered in several large temples, are lightly guarded and are given unusual liberty for prisoners. Some at least are permitted to walk around town with a small guard and even to go for baths in the sea and to the mineral hot springs, a mile east of Matsuiama.

Special buildings have been erected on the drill ground north of the city for use as a hospital, where some seven hundred wounded have been or are being treated with the best care the country can provide. Out of the total number treated, only five have died, one is considered hopeless; but of the wounded thus far reaching Matsuiama 99 per cent. have been successfully treated. Many cases have been terrible.

The chief surgeon apparently takes great pride in the showing. He attributes it to the special character of the Japanese rifle, a variety the general adoption of which he urged five or six yearsago, on the score of the humane nature of the wounds it inflicts, disabling and not killing. He feels that his prediction has been wonderfully verified.

Five prisoners who escaped were captured after a sharp resistance with knives. To escape from the island is practically impossible.

BAD WASHOUT ON SANTA FE.

Storm on Desert East of Bagdad Forces Trains Back—Officials on Way.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 24. The worst washouts yet experienced by the Santa Fe occurred this afternoon on the desert east of Bagdad. The extent of the damage is not known, but it is so serious that several eastbound trains which had reached Barstow and other desert places were brought back here tonight and detoured over the Souther Pacific via Deming and Albuquerque.

A special left tonight with a large force of men and General Manager A. G. Wells, Superintendent Hibbard and Roadmaster McNeil on board, to commence the work of repairing as soon as the flood abates. A storm is still raging in the desert country tonight. Officials state the washouts are the worst in the history of the road.

PACKERS WIN FROM CHICAGO.

City Enjoined from Interfering With Lodgings.

Miners are Backward About Swelling Strike Fund.

Marseilles Strike Prostrates Marine Interests.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Judge Theodore Brentano today issued an injunction restraining the city of Chicago from interfering with the lodging of non-union employés in the packing-houses at the stock yards. The city announced that an appeal would be taken to the Appellate Court.

The injunction was issued in a test case brought by the G. H. Hammond Company. Seven additional petitions were at once filed, following the decision of the court for an extension of the temporary injunction to all the packing companies within the stock yards, with the exception of the Omaha Packing Company. In the Hammond case the court found that the building in controversy is not within the fire limits and cannot therefore be regulated by the fire or building ordinances, [illegible] city. Judge Brentano asked that the additional petitions be left with him so that he could look them over.

MINERS NOT GENEROUS.

President Donnelly returned from Indianapolis today after having made an appeal to the miners' national organization for assistance in conducting the stock yards strike. Donnelly had received no definite reply from the union when he left.

[illegible] Stocker, business agent of the Park Cellarmen's Union, announced today that six non-union men from the Armour plant had been initiated into the union, after they returned to the stock yards today, promising to lead out 1500 non-union Greeks.

[illegible] colored women strike-breakers left the stock yards today, proclaiming they had deserted the packers. The packers asserted that they were [illegible]d.

Booker T. Washington has been appealed to by the leaders of the stock yard strikers and labor union officials of Chicago to use his influence in inducing negroes to refrain from working in the packing plants until the conflict is at an end. A telegram was sent to him tonight, asking him to address a mass meeting of colored men and women of Chicago on the subject "Should Negroes Become Strike-breakers?"

WANT FEDERAL TROOPS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OMAHA, Aug. 24.—T. J. Mahoney, one of the attorneys for the South Omaha packing interests, today made a statement that efforts were being made on the part of his clients and his associates to have Federal troops stationed at South Omaha and along the railroads leading to Omaha, over which the packers are running, morning and evening, a chartered train for the accommodation of their workmen. The packers' representatives claim this course has been determined upon for several reasons, one of which is that they cannot get justice in South Omaha, and that they do not wish to burden the county court with a lot of cases which should not be brought.

SMALL BLAZE CAUSES PANIC.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—A fire which in itself amounted to very little caused a panic tonight in the packing-house of Nelson Morris & Co. at the stock yards.

The firm has, since the commencement of the strike, housed about two hundred men and women in its oleomargarine building, and tonight there were ninety women and fifty men in the place when a fire started in the clothes closet on the fourth floor. The cries of the people on the fourth floor as they ran for the stairways brought out the occupants of the other floors, and for a few minutes there was fierce fighting in the hallways leading to the stairs. Finally it was seen by the occupants of the upper floor that the fire would amount to nothing, and they turned back and allowed the people already on the stairs to reach the street. There were many torn garments when the excitement subsided, but nobody was injured.

SECOND EFFORT TO SETTLE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—The city authorities are to make a second effort to settle the stock-yards strike. At a meeting of the City Council tonight, a resolution was passed, empowering Mayor Harrison to appoint a committee of eleven aldermen who are to make it their business to bring about a settlement. Therre was some opposition to the solution, a number of aldermen declaring that in their opinion the result would be nothing.

Invitations were at once sent to the leaders of the strikers and to representatives of the employers, inviting them to meet the memberrs of the committee tomorrow morning. The aldermanic committee intends to see what it can do after it has listened to the statement of both sides.

MARSEILLES STRIKE.

MARINE INTERESTS TIED UP.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

MARSEILLES (France) Aug. 24.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The strike of sailors and dock laborers here has completely prostrated the extensive maritime interests of Marseilles, and threatens serious results to the city. The strike, which has continued intermittently for two years, has now become acute. It is estimated that 18,000 workers of all grades refuse to load, unload or operate ships.

The sixteen companies carrying on the principal commerce of the Mediterranean have formally decided that it is useless to continue their service, and today began their withdrawal of all merchant ships. The government has ordered a number of gunboats and torpedo boats to take up the Mediterranean military routes. Thus far, there has been no disorder, but a large force of troops is ready to move in all eventualities.

The companies engaged in the trans-Atlantic traffic are not affected, but the strikers are seeking to extend the movement to Havre and other ports of departure for America.

PETITION TO THE PRESIDENT.

MAIL FROM CRIPPLE CREEK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

DENVER (Colo.) Aug. 24.—A petition has been mailed to the President, asking him to intervene in behalf of the men deported from Cripple Creek last Saturday night and protect them in their return to the district. The petition is a voluminous affair.

Affidavits and preliminary papers necessary to the commencement of criminal actions against alleged leaders of the mob have also been prepared and forwarded to the District Attorney of Teller county. The affidavits are signed by all the men driven from the district last Saturday.

CHAMBERMAIDS WALK OUT.

NEW YORK HOTEL TIED UP.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A new manager of the hotel opened here some time ago for the exclusive entertainment of women has caused a strike by dismissing the housekeeper. The manager is a man and the assertion of his power was quickly resented by nineteen of the twenty-four chambermaids, ten scrubwomen and cleaners, six waitresses, two stewards and three cellermen. They walked out in a body, leaving the beds unmade and rooms undusted.

For a time the service was paralyzed, but a telephone girl and the stenographer took hold and in a few hours had things running, with the aid of servants procured from employment agencies.

SANTA FE STRIKERS.

"TRIP OF INSPECTION."

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Aug. 24.—Thomas L. Wilson and A. E. Ireland, leaders of the Santa Fé machinists' strike, will start at once on a trip of inspection over the system. They will visit the striking machinists at all points on the road and prepare them for a new movement which will soon be made in the interest of the strikers. They say they will have the strike won inside of a month, as soon as the heavy fall freight business sets in. The Santa Fé officials assert, however, that the situation is perfectly satisfactory to them.

Two Pittsburgh Strikes Delared.

PITTSBURGH, August 24.—Two strikes, affecting 2000 men, were declared today by the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers at the plants of the Republic Iron and Steel Company on the South Side and the Monongahela Steel and Iron Company, near McKeesport. The refusal of the companies to abide by the association wage agreement is the cause.

Special Officers Guard Workmen.

GIRARD (O.) Aug. 24.—Twenty strike breakers, accompanied by a guard of special officers, arrived today and were escorted into the plant of the American Steel Hoop Company. The arrival of the non-unionists created much excitement, but there was no violence.

Killed in Havana Strike Riot.

HAVANA, Aug. 24.—In a collision today between two groups of 300 wharf laborers and strikers, one man was killed and three wounded.

REDMOND ARRIVES.

Irish Leader Reaches New York and Immediately Begins to Talk Politics.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The White Star liner Teutonic, on which John Redmond, the Irish leader, Mrs. Redmond and the Nationalist members of Parliament, Patrick O'Brien and Capt. A. C. Donlan, were passengers, arrived tonight from Queenstown and Liverpool.

The members of the Redmond party have come to attend the convention of the Irish League, which is to be held in New York the last two days of August. Mr. Redmond was met at Quarantine by the United States revenue cutter Mackinaw, with about thirty members of the Irish League aboard.

In discussing his visit, Mr. Redmond said:

"We come here first to attend the convention of the league which has given such moral and material assistance in the past two years.

"Just at present we are anxiously watching developments in England, for we are now on the eve of a crisis which may change conditions and so materially affect our party. The present government is doomed, and it is only a question of a few months or weeks when we will face a general election.

"Mr. Chamberlain, who broke up the Liberal party, has succeeded now in breaking up the Unionist party, and for this reason there is no question that the next general election will result in the defeat of the government."

POLITICAL BRIEFS.

HELENA (Mont.) Aug. 24.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw opened the campaign in Montana this evening, speaking to a large audience at the Auditorium. He spoke for two hours, devoting his attention to a definition of the issues between the two great parties. He defended the tariff as advocated by the Republican party, saying that the Democrats insisted only upon top prices to the consumer, while the Republicans insisted upon a good market for the producer, whether he produced labor or manufactured materials. He said he would welcome an issue that would deal with candidates rather than policies, but he did not think the Democrats would stick to that issue, as they could not successfully attack the personal or official integrity of the President.

PARKER AND HIS LETTER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ESOPUS (N. Y.) Aug. 24.—No visitors came to Rosemount during the forenoon today. Ex-Judge Parker worked on his letter of acceptance, which will be made public probably about September 12 or 15.

GODFREY'S RESTAURANT ON BROADWAY.

This Popular Caterer, Formerly on Spring Street Opens in His New Quarters Today.

Old patrons of Godfrey's restaurant (formerly on Spring street) will be pleased to learn that Mr. Godfrey will throw open the doors of his new and commodious quarters in his new building, 336 South Broadway, at 6 o'clock this morning.

No expense has been spared to make this restaurant thoroughly hygienic, light, airy and cool. Modern appointments have been installed and nothing will be lacking to supply the wishes of the most exacting customer. The beautiful dining-room, shaped in the form of a large L, has been tastefully decorated, fitted with large electric arc lamps and fans of the latest design, and the height of the ceiling excludes that stuffiness found so often in many dining-rooms.

Speaking of the service to be given, Mr. Godfrey states that it will be of the best, rapid and courteous, and as to the bill of fare he will keep it to its former generous proportions and variety and that popular prices will prevail, thus giving customers a maximum of good things for the inner man at a minimum of expense.

CRIME LAID TO "BLACK HAND."

SICILIAN, OUT OF REVENGE, MURDERS NEW YORK ITALIAN.

Enemy of Organized Gangs of Foreign Convicts Infesting Mulberry Bend Shot Down for Informing Police of Their Evil Intentions—Police Narrowly Avert Lynching.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Savalator Bossoto, 18 years old, was shot to death at his father's restaurant in Park street by Carlo Roosati, 35 years old, today, because he had disclosed to the police secrets of the Black Hand.

The father was knocked down and choked into insensibility by the slayer, who then ran down the street, followed by a great mob. Italians to the number of 1000 later attacked the Elizabeth-street Police Station, hurled missiles at the police, hurting two detectives and one policeman.

They would have torn the murderer limb from limb if it had not been for the arrival of the reserve police from two station houses, who were forced to use clubs and fists and threaten to shoot.

According to the police, the murder was deliberately planned by an organized gang, which is alleged to have sent to Torrento for Rossati, who arrived here last night. After his arrival he was seen about Mulberry Bend with Italians and because of his immense stature attracted attention.

Bossoto is an enemy of these organized gangs and his son inherited his father's opposition to this lawless element among his countrymen. When not studying music young Bossoto helped about the restaurant. Several weeks ago he learned that the murderous gang about Mulberry Bend had planned to rob a number of miners who were coming through New York and who had engaged board in the lodging-house over Bossoto's restaurant.

DETERMINED UPON HIS DEATH.

Young Bossoto went to the police and asked protection for the men and an Italian detective arrested twelve suspicious characters who were held until the miners had taken a ship for their homes. Once out of jail, it is said, the gang determined upon Bossoto's death.

Early today Rossati entered the restaurant and when approached by the elder Bossoto said he wanted nothing. As Bossoto was about to close the place he asked Rossati to leave. The latter became insolent and refused.

Young Bossoto, who was in the kitchen, heard his father and the man in an argument and came out. Up to this time the man had made no demonstration of violence, but the instant he saw young Bossoto, Rossati took a pistol from his pocket, leveled it at the youth and fired. The bullet struck the boy between the eyes and he fell dead. Rossati then, according to the police, struck the elder Bossoto with his fist, knocking him down, and started to run, but was captured before he had gone two blocks.

Sunday the Bossotos found on their door the "bridge of death," a caballistic sign of the Sicilians. The elder Bossoto looked upon this as a joke at the time.

FLASHES FROM THE WIRES

Cardinal Satolli and his suite arrived yesterday at Naples on the steamer Sardegna from New York.

G. W. Proctor, 80 years old, was run over and killed yesterday by a New York street car.

Fire yesterday in the glue factory of Armour & Co., near the stock yards, Chicago, caused a loss estimated at $100,000.

Members of the Pennsylvania Society in New York have given a dinner in honor of the Earl of Ranfurty, Governor-General of New Zealand, and a great-great-great grandson of William Penn. The Earl's cousin, Maj. Dudley Alexander, also was a guest.

The revolution in Uruguay is approaching a decisive phase, according to a New York Herald dispatch from Buenos Ayres. The insurgent leader, Sarvia, has now about 18,000 men. The government forces amount to 20,000. A decisive battle is believed to be imminent.

The body of L. B. Dunham of Pueblo, Colo., one of the victims of the Rio Grande wreck at Eden, August 7, has been found in the Arkansas River, five miles below Pueblo. The corpse was lodged against a snag in midstream. The body was badly decomposed. Dunham was an employé of the Santa Fé Railroad.

That W. A. S. Virmillion, the Salt Lake druggist found dead in his store Monday night, did not commit suicide, but was murdered, was apparently proven yesterday by the autopsy; the bullet which caused Virmillion's death was of 38-caliber, while his own weapon, found near his body, was of 32-caliber.

AN OLD-TIME ROMANCE.

House Where Jefferson Davis Married the Daughter of Gen. Taylor.

[Louisville Post:] A little frame house that stands amid great beech trees in the rear of an imposing structure of recent date near Crescent Hill and a record in the Jefferson County Court are all that is left to tell of a romance involving famous names that was consummated sixty-nine years ago.

It is little known by Louisville people that in this house, which is now used as servant quarters, Jefferson Davis, afterward President of the Confederacy, on June 17, 1835, married Miss Knox Taylor, daughter of Gen. Zachary Taylor, afterward conqueror of Mexico, and President of the United States.

In the Jefferson County Court's archives there is a record of marriages for 1835 which contains the following: "Jefferson Davis and Miss Knox Taylor, of legal age, daughter of Zachary Taylor."

It was a romance with a sad sequel. Davis took his bride to his plantation in Mississippi. The climate was not favorable, and the young woman, accustomed to the purer air of Kentucky, could not stand the miasmatic exhalations of the swamps. Soon after her arrival in Mississippi she grew ill, stricken with malarial fever. Within three months of the time she became a bride she was dead.

The pathetic sequel makes Gen. Taylor's objection to the wedding seem to have been due to the prophetic feelings of a devoted father. He strongly disapproved of the match between his daughter and Jefferson Davis, who was then a soldier, with nothing to indicate the great, though mournful, career that was before him.

This opposition was not due to dislike or mistrust of Davis, it seems, but to Gen. Taylor's fear that as the wife of a gallant soldier, on what was then the frontier, his daughter would be subjected to many hardships.

But Miss Taylor was willing to face any future for the man of her heart. Mrs. Gibson Taylor, her aunt, espoused the cause of the young lovers, and when Miss Taylor came to visit her she added her pleadings to those of her niece. After a long course of persuasion Gen. Taylor, though not relinquishing his objections, was prevailed on to permit the marriage, which took place in the home of Mrs. Gibson Taylor. It is not known whether Gen. Taylor attended the wedding, though Hancock Taylor is of the opinion that he was not present.

It was from this house that the young soldier and his bride, after the usual merrymaking, congratulations and blessings, set out on a journey with happiness that was so soon to be changed to grief.

Such is the story of long ago that centers around this little house, which now stands to the rear of the residence occupied by A. Levy on the Brownsboro road.

At the time Jefferson Davis and Miss Taylor were married within its walls it was a two-story structure, with broad verandas built after the then prevailing style for southern homes. Now it has been reduced to one story and has been transformed into a cottage.

JACKSON, Aug. 24.—Rocco Caminetti, father of Former Congressman A. Caminetti, died today at the home of his son, three miles east of Jackson. He was 83 years of age and has been a resident of Amador county since 1849. A. Caminetti returned home last night in response to a telegram announcing the serious turn of his father's illness and was present at his deathbed.

SAVE $200 TODAY.

If Anyone Thinks the Above Is a Joke They Will Find Out Later.

When they go to buy that piano next week, next month, or next year, they will find out that it was no joke—that the time to have bought a piano and save $200 was when Fisher was here closing out the Pacific Music Company's stock of fine pianos at factory wholesale cost—not because it was a pleasant job, but because it was absolutely necessary to dispose of same for the purpose of settling with their creditors and placing themselves on a safer basis financially, preparatory to forming a connection with the Wiley B. Allen Company of San Francisco.

"Desperate cases require desperate remedies," and when it becomes necessary to settle up it becomes necessary to produce the wherewith to settle.

This is the case in a nutshell, and we've got to sell. We have got to produce the "wherewith" in cash or good negotiable customers' paper at once; hence my presence here, and hence this sacrifice sale of the entire Pacific Music Company's stock, regardless of a single thought of profit, or anything but a quick turn of pianos into proceeds.

This is why no thinking man or woman who has use for a piano can afford to let this opportunity pass, without at least investigating the facts as to whether or not I can actually save them the money I claim, and which I here state to be at least $200 on a first class piano, and on some styles as much as $250. Just suppose you come to 437 South Broadway and see what I can do for you in the way of a piano at $25 down and $10 a month.

Latest in Canes.

Canes are not so constant an article of use as they used to be, but there is still a distinct fashion in them. The partridge cane, so exclusively fashionable last year, keeps a deserved place in public favor, but it now has a highly ornamented handle, generally of silver, and often inlaid with copper or gunmetal.

Some tortoise shell handles are now also used. This is the dress cane. For a country walk a short natural English oak is the best form, the handle inlaid in silver. For umbrellas, a partridge cane with plain tortoise shell handle and gold mounts is the style this season.—[London Letter to Haberdasher.

RECALL FAKE NOW EXPOSED.

Statements in Petition are Proven False.

Calling of Special Election Was Illegal.

Progress of Hearing Before Judge Oster.

And, lo, it is the circulators of the recall petition who are pleading a technicality to give their abortion a standing in court!

Admitting that the statements in the recall started by Ed Earl are false, and that the signatures were not verified by the City Clerk in the manner provided by statute, attorneys for the petitioners are basing their defense on the novel contention that the court cannot hear testimony as to the sufficiency of the petition; that the report of the City Clerk is final.

Judge Oster of San Bernardino, sitting in Department Four of the Superior Court, yesterday listened to arguments pro and con on the validity of the ordinance passed by the Council two weeks ago calling for an election for Councilman in the Sixth Ward.

The Express-Typographical Union gang, who compiled the petition, again displayed their yellow streak by turning tail at the first smell of powder, leaving the City Attorney's office to extricate itself from the dilemma as best it could.

Former Judge J. S. Chapman, senior attorney for Councilman Davenport, the plaintiff in the case, opened his argument with the startling statement that the report of City Clerk Lelande on the sufficiency of the recall petition was false; that the City Clerk had never examined the Great Register to ascertain whether the names of the petitioners were written there, and that, in reality, not half the names of signers of the recall petition appeared in the Great Register.

In support of this allegation, Judge Chapman cited numerous decisions, many of them made by the Supreme Court of California, to show that by no possible distortion could affidavits of registration on file in the County Clerk's office be taken for the Great Register. He cited the report of the City Clerk on the sufficiency of the recall petition as prima facie evidence that it was not the Great Register, but these affidavits that had been examined, and he argued that this in itself was a fatal defect in the proceedings by virtue of which the election was to be held.

Assistant City Attorney Goudge, who all day made a heroic effort to bolster up an impossible cause, replied to this argument with the unique contention that "the Clerk's certificate is final and conclusive. This court has no jurisdiction to examine into the process by which he arrived at his conclusion. In the recall he occupies the position of the court of the last resort."

This was a poser for Judge Oster. It opened up to him some new possibilities of the recall.

"If it should appear that the Clerk has been in error," the judge questioned in a tone that indicated incredulous surprise, "in regard to the sufficiency of the petition, and the contention should be raised, do you say that it would be improper for the court to hear argument to the effect that fraud had been committed?"

Mr. Goudge smilingly allowed that such was his contention, and he went further to assert that the court could not question the truth of the grounds set forth in the petition for the recall of the Sixth Ward Councilman. "The grounds set forth in the statement may be false and yet legal," argued the Assistant City Attorney. "I am not contending that those statements are true. The point which I desire to make is that if they were true, they would constitute a legal cause for removal, and that it is the sovereign people who must determine by their votes the truth or falsity of the statements."

Favorable decision on these two points are absolutely necessary to sustain the case of the petitioners. Attorneys for Davenport have practically established the facts that the statements in the recall petition are false, and that not half the names of the signers are in the Great Register. If Judge Oster decides that he has jurisdiction to examine into these matters, then the recall petition will fall as flat as its predecessor.

Should he decide, however, that the petition is a closed incident, Davenport's attorneys will still have in reserve the seemingly incontrovertible argument that "either the recall provision is void or it does not apply to a member of the Council."

MR. LELANDE'S STATEMENT.

City Clerk Lelande last night admitted that he had not examined the Great Register in making up his report on the recall petition, but the affidavits of registration and duplicate affidavits on file in the County Clerk's office.

"When the recall petition was filed," said Mr. Lelande, "I asked the City Attorney what I should do. He told me to send my deputies to examine the affidavits of registration. He said that they were the uncompiled Great Register. I sent deputies to the County Clerk's office to make such examination. They brought back their report as to what they found in the affidavits. It was upon affidavits alone that I made my report to the Council. I was informed by my deputies that not more than 20 per cent. of the names on the petition appeared in the Great Register of 1902."

City Clerk Lelande's report to the Council on the sufficiency of the recall petition was as follows:

"I have examined and from the Great Register ascertained whether or not said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors and as a result of said examination I find that the petition is signed by 784 electors entitled to vote for a successor to the Councilman in the Sixth Ward, and I hereby certify that said amended petition is sufficient.

"Five hundred and fourteen names were compared with the duplicate affidavits of registration, and the balance with the originals."

Yet the petitioners insist that this report from the City Clerk is final.

WHY RECALL IS VOID.

The main grounds set forth in the plaintiff's affidavit asking for a temporary restraining order to prevent the holding of a special election in the Sixth Ward are as follows:

That the allegations in the recall petition are false.

That the report of the City Clerk was based on an examination of affidavits on file in the County Clerk's office and not of the Great Register.

That a large number of names on the petition are those of persons who are not qualified electors in the Sixth Ward.

That many of the persons purporting to sign the petition registered in the city more than once, each registration being in a different name, and subscribed to the petition by such different and fictitious names.

That of the 784 names purported to be entitled to vote for a successor to the plaintiff, more than 250 thereof are not entered upon the Great Register.

That the recall provision of the City Charter does not and was not intended to apply to the office of a member of the Council of the city.

That the recall is in violation of the Constitution of the United States and of the State of California, and that the same is utterly void.

That the statement in the petition that the Council had given a contract for city printing to The Times at a rate higher than that of other qualified bidders is false, for the reason that, calculated on the basis of circulation per thousand of The Times, compared with the other bidders for said city advertising, the bid of the Times-Mirror Company was much lower that that of any other bid submitted.

That the statement in the petition that the plaintiff gave his support and influence to measures to further the proposed erection, construction and maintenance within the Sixth Ward of a large and offensive slaughter-house is false and untrue as shown by the public records of the city. (Copies of the minutes of the Council were submitted as evidence to show that before the petition was circulated Davenport, by his vote and influence, was seeking to secure the repeal of the ordinance permitting the erection or maintenance of slaughter-houses in the Sixth Ward, and that through motion made by him and with his vote the Sixth Ward slaughter-house district had been wiped out.)

That the Council passed the ordinance calling for the special election in the Sixth Ward upon the advice and direction of the City Attorney; that the Council had no power or authority to determine by any means whether or not the statements of said petition were true in fact or sufficient in law, and had no power to investigate any of the matters set forth in the petition.

CITY ATTORNEY'S CASE.

Most of the day yesterday was consumed by argument of attorneys on a motion made by Assistant City Attorney Goudge to strike out certain portions of the complaint as irrelevant. These portions comprised of sections making the allegations that the statements to which the signatures of purported electors were obtained were false, and the other allegation that the City Clerk had erred in his findings as to the sufficiency of the petition.

Attorney Goudge during the whole morning session of the court argued in favor of this motion. Some of his contentions were:

"The City Clerk's findings may be erroneous, it may be illegal, but he was acting within his jurisdiction and his finding cannot be reviewed by the court. There is nothing to show what evidence was considered by him in reaching this conclusion.

"Allegation is made in the complaint that the petition is not signed by a sufficient number of electors to call an election. We hold that this matter is absolutely concluded and that the court cannot listen to argument or examine evidence.

"Allegation is further made that the statements in the petition are false. We hold that under the provisions of the recall itself no investigation can be had of the truth or falsity of those statements.

"No turpitude is alleged against the plaintiff, no corruption or malfeasance. The removal sought may be unjust, it may be sought from reprehensible motives, but it is still legal. The sovereign people must pass on the character of the charges, and on the foundation for the complaint and on the actions of their Councilmen while in office. His action on the printing contract, whether conductive to extravagance or economy cannot be discussed before the bar of this court.

"All the other Councilmen are in the same boat as Mr. Davenport. They are liable for removal for their votes on the same questions for which he might be removed. It would be absurd to say that they cannot pass upon a matter directly affecting their own interests and undertake to say what grounds for prosecution were sufficient in one case, when their decision might be applied to any case that might arise in which they were themselves involved."

It was painfully evident during the whole of the Assistant City Attorney's argument that he was laboring under a serious handicap. Forced by the action of the Council in calling the election to defend the legality of the ordinance under which it was called, he probably made the best defense possible. The tenor of his argument was that all extraneous matter should be cast out, and that the case should be argued on the broad ground of the constitutionality of the recall provision of the city charter.

JUDGE CHAPMAN'S REJOINDER.

Former Judge Chapman in reply argued that the court had authority to review the findings of the Council and of the City Clerk. He laid special stress on the argument of the Assistant City Attorney that the Council had no jurisdiction in the matter of the calling of an election, but was compelled to pass the ordinance when the City Clerk reported that the recall petition was "sufficient."

"It is an axiom of common law," said Judge Chapman, "that no one ought to be a judge in his own case. This election can be called only by ordinance. Can anything be more absurd than to say that a Councilman has a vote but that he must cast that vote just as the City Clerk tells him to vote, and that he cannot vote otherwise?

"Such a contention is in violation of article 14 of the Constitution of the United States.

"This has been passed upon by the Supreme Court of the United States, and the English courts have held that even an act of Parliament making a man a judge of his own case was nugatory.

"To insist that the Council has no jurisdiction under the statute is a confession that the recall provision is void. The whole matter reduces itself to this: Either the recall provision is void, or it does not apply to the members of the Council.

"In calling this election, however, the Council did not act of its own volition. The members consulted with the City Attorney and acted on his advice that they could not do otherwise.

"We maintain that the Council had a right to refuse to call an election. Stripped of its redundant verbiage the statements in the petition reduce themselves to the single proposition that Davenport voted to give the city printing to one paper and that some persons thought that it should have been given to another. The courts have passed on that award, and have sustained its validity and the falsity of the statement in the complaint can be proved by the records of the Superior Court.

"We hold that this was a matter on which the Council was competent to pass. Davenport was assailed because he dared to do that very thing which he pledged himself to do when he took his oath of office! to vote on all matters according to his judgment. He did vote to award the printing contract to the paper that made the lowest circulation bid.

"Nobody says that he acted fraudulently in voting as he did. There is nothing in this statement to show that he violated the trust reposed in him by his constituents. The grounds on which his removal is sought are simply no grounds.

"Everybody is not so excited about this matter as some of the newspapers are; they have not the same reason to be.

"The statute never authorized the City Clerk to do anything except to examine the Great Register. We can prove that the Clerk's certifiate is false. Yet we are told that his certificate is conclusive; that the Clerk is necessarily acting in a judicial capacity; that the statute makes the City Clerk a final judge as to whether Davenport is guilty or not guilty. If that were so the statute is plainly unconstitutional."

Assistant City Attorney Goudge made the concluding argument in favor of his motion to strike out certain sections of the complaint, and Judge Oster took the matter under advisement, adjourning the court until 10 o'clock this morning.

KNIGHTS TEMPLARS.

Distinguished Guests Will be in During the Early Part of Next Week.

The Knights of the Temple are scattered, and the nodding plume and glittering sword appear not on vision's horizon when one is hunting them. Perhaps the knights are hidden away polishing and cleaning these same articles of adornment preparatory to the great conclave in the north.

All the eminent sirs do show up, however, when it comes to a question of hotel and sleeping-car accommodations. Said W. B. Scarborough last night: "Every Templar going from Los Angeles wants a whole lower berth and the best room in the Palace Hotel. It is a trifling annoyance, of course, to grant these requests, but we are doing our best."

The big men from the East have not yet arrived in Los Angeles, and no concerted action of entertainment has been taken by the men in charge of this work. Isolated parties have arrived, says R. C. Martin, and doubtless man visiting Templars are in the city, but they are not known to be such, and consequently nothing has been done of especial moment toward their honor. Masonic Temple is kept open, and is made a headquarters for information.

Some of the eastern grand commanderies, with their distinguished officers, might have arrived ere this had it not been for the phenomenal series of washouts along the incoming railway lines. Next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday will see the specials at Arcade station, few of consequence arriving before the late hours of Monday night or Tuesday morning.

Raissuli's Own Story.

The brigand Raissuli, who captured Perdicaris, tells his own story in Leslie's Monthly Magazine for September.

"Now some eight years ago Abd-er-Rahman Abd-el-Saduk," then the Basha of Tangier, said Raissuli, finding that he could not subdue our party by the troops at his disposition, made overtures of peace, and sending me a safe conduct, invited me to come and discuss a friendly solution of our difficulties. I went to his official residence alone and unarmed—and, while we sat at a table (literally—about the tray—) I was suddenly seized, bound, hurried to prison and heavily ironed, an iron band was riveted about my neck, handcuffs with intervening bars so that I could not bring my two hands together were fastened on my wrists, and similar fetters were also riveted about my ankles. Then I was sent to Mogador and there confined with the lowest criminals who reeked of filth and who swarmed with insects—these latter cut into my flesh as did also my irons. Thus I remained four long years, chained to the walls so that I could not lie down, until at last the neck band and handcuffs were removed. After that I passed still another whole year in that horrible prison. Do you now wonder," he asked, "at the oath I swore to be revenged upon so treacherous an enemy? You know," he continued, "of the column of government troops lately sent against us. They remained in the valley, yonder, capturing defenseless peasants at the plow and violating their daughters, of whom eighteen among them children of six years old, have been thus dishonered. Then came the treacherous capture of the M'zorra deputation who went at Hadj Abd-er-Salem Abd-el-Saduk's summons, bearing, not arms, but presents in their hands. Then I determined to seize upon some European and to hold him till these men should be released and until the Abd-el-Saduks make restitution for the wrongs we have suffered at their hands."

How long will it take the man to fill the sack if he does not stop the leak? To attempt to nourish the body when the stomach is diseased is like trying to fill the sack with the hole in it. When the stomach and other digestive and nutritive organs are diseased, there is a constant loss of nutrition.

Enough is eaten but the body loses flesh,—plain proof that the food eaten is largely wasted because it is not digested and assimilated.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It stops the leaks by which nutrition is lost, and enables the building up of the body by the nutrition derived from food. The gain in weight proves the cure.

"Three years ago I was taken sick with what the doctor called nervousness and indigestion," writes Mrs. Warren E. Parker, of Orange Street, Nantucket, Mass. "He gave me medicine for the trouble, but I could not eat even a little toast or oatmeal without suffering severely. In a few months I began to have distressing pains right in the pit of my stomach. I called the doctor again and he said I had catarrh of stomach; gave me medicine but it did not do any good. I lost 28 pounds in three months. I then commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicines and soon began to feel better. I have taken six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' two of 'Favorite Prescription' and six vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets. I have gained ten pounds. Can eat everything."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

KERN COUNTY.

SANTA FE AGENT ARRESTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 24.—B. L. Hugg, late Santa Fé agent at Kern Junction, was arrested this afternoon on a warrant charging him with embezzlement. The complaint was sworn to by G. W. Lupton, agent of the Santa Fé at Bakersfield. It is alleged Hugg is short about $300 in his accounts with the company. He has been in the company's employ several years, and his arrest comes as a surprise.

BACK FROM VACATION.

Back from my summer vacation,
In the noisy old town once more,
Away from the vicious mosquitoes
And the chiggers that sting and bore,
With my neck all raw and blistered
And my nose as red as a beet,
I find that the city is welcome
And that life in town is sweet.

Back from my summer vacation,
Away from the worms that creep,
And the gnats that crawl down my neck-band,
And bother me while I sleep,
Afar from the flies and the spiders
And the June bugs that biff and pelt,
I am glad to get back from the country
And the loneliness I have felt.

Back from my summer vacation,
And the soggy old stuff to eat,
Where a restaurant meal is a pleasure
And a table d'hote is a treat,
Where there's something to do beside grumble
And something to do besides wait,
Where I get my papers each morning
And they're never a whole day late.

Back from my summer vacation,
In the good old town once more,
Afar from the oppressive silence,
To the rush and the rout and roar.
In the city there's something doing,
There's joy in the meet of might
And the soul expands with the struggle
And grows in the shock of fight.

MERRY HOURS OF CATHOLICS.

Great Picnic at Ocean Park Beach Yesterday.

Baby Show and Other Beauty Contests Features.

Scholarly Address by Bishop. Sports on Strand.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

OCEAN PARK, Aug. 24.—The gates of the Ocean Park community were thrown open wide today and the key tossed into the ocean in a spontaneous welcome to the several thousand visitors who joined the Catholics in their annual reunion and beach picnic. The excursionists were from near and far. They began to arrive on the strand early in the morning, and by 10 o'clock every car was tested as to capacity. Long before noon the broad walk and the beach were one living, moving mass of humanity. Wherever there was room for anyoody the space was filled, and still the electric and steam cars poured a solid stream of people down Pier avenue to mix with the thousands already disposed along Ocean Front.

Watching the Sports at the Catholic Picnic.

At about 11 o'clock the Pasadena band opened the exercises at the pavilion. A speech was made by J. P. Byrne, president of the day. Dana Burks, chairman of the City Trustees, of Ocean Park, also spoke.

Mrs. K. A. Hamer gave a reading, and A. R. Fraser, president of the Ocean Park Community League, extended a welcome.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Conaty was warmly greeted when he arose and faced the multitude. The bishop delivered an eloquent extemporaneous address filled with patriotism that fired his hearers and brought forth round after round of applause. He said the Catholic Church recognizes the right of every man to serve his God as to him seems best.

"We are all Americans today," he said, "proud of our nation and of our church." He referred to the early history of the pioneer padres as being the strong link that binds the California of today to the California of the long ago. He said the pioneer fathers planted the cross from San Diego on the south to the northern end of the State, and made possible the present civilization.

"These occasions," he said, "bring people away from their busy cares to enjoy a day by the sea, make and renew acquaintanceships and receive the benefit which always comes from a closer contact with nature.

"The ocean with its ceaseless ebb and flow, surging to the shore only to fall back again in its immensity, never ceases to sing the great hymn of the eternal God who made it. These reunions create a neighborhood feeling which tends to better fellowship, and they unite the people in reaching the better to the realization of our common aims and purposes. From many nationalities we are one in the faith which we profess, as from many nationalities and creeds we are one in the citizenship of which we are justly proud. In our faith is the source of the goodness of life which develops in us the manhood which our republic needs. As Catholics we are proud of our church record in all the fields of human endeavor. The great Columbus who discovered this continent, and the explorer who found for civilization yonder mighty ocean, were humble children of mother church.

"The traditions of the padres are entwined with all that is glorious in the history of California. Their brown habits, shaven heads, sandaled feet and rosaries form an important part in the story of civilization, and the Camino Real is the highway which binds together the mission houses which were centers of the truth of the gospel of Christ which they taught to the heathen tribes who filled the cañons of those mountains and the new fertile plains of our glorious State.

"The story is one of sacrifice for God and civilization, and it forms a glorious chapter in the record of the great old Catholic church. For God and country is our watchword. We yield to no one in our love for the faith of God—nor do we yield to anyone in our love for our beloved country and hope for a still more glorious future. The political hopes of mankind are in our keeping and we should live that they may be fully realized. We have too much to do to waste time with bigotry or narrow-mindedness. A common country and our common citizenship demand the best that is in us. Let us be true to God and we cannot be false to our fellow-man."

The baby show immediately followed the literary feast, and the sight then presented as fond mothers and doting fathers—to say nothing about numberless cousins, sisters and aunts and grandsires and dames—hied themselves in order that the charms of their offspring might be properly presented before the august judges. There were large babies and little ones, fat babes and lean ones, short ones and some that were tall, boy babies and girl babies—and all just as sweet and pretty and cute as any mother could wish for.

The judges of the baby show, who also served in capacity of executioners for the mothers whose babies were among the "also rans," were: H. X. Goetz, John Clench, R. T. Byrne and S. Buhr.

Ten babies answered as being present when their names were called in the free-for-all for girls under one year of age. The prize was awarded to Gladys Anna Remiers. The child is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Remiers, late of Redlands, but whose present home is at No. 943 West Forty-first street, Los Angeles.

In the beauty contest for men of the same age, there were eight starters, but William Charles Hayes is the only one who saw his finish. William, the second son of William the First, a Southern Pacific conductor, who resides at No. 518 Solano street, Los Angeles.

In the dash for girls over one and under two years a sweet little dream drifted in from far-away Arizona and won in a field of eight against the favorites. The name of the fair vision is Lossaine Margaret Davis, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert C. Davis of Phoenix, but who are temporary sojourners at Ocean Park.

The dash for two-year-old boys brought out a field of a round dozen, among whom were numbered several future Presidents, Governors and editors. Edward Markey came under the wire several lengths ahead, much to the satisfaction of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Markey of No. 1417 Buena Vista street, who affectionately call him son.

Luncheon on the beach was the star attraction following the beauty show, and to say that this feature of the day's programme was not enjoyed by the 11,672 persons whose appetites had been whetted to an edge of keenness by the ozone-laden air, would be to express a misrepresentation.

After luncheon, athletic sports attracted the crowds to the beach, where there were exciting contests. The tide was low and the hard sandy beach afforded a hard, smooth floor for the events. Eager spectators, however, who approached too near to the tide line were reminded that old ocean is quite a joker when the found themselves standing in water knee deep.

The first event was the 100-yard running race, open to all. It was won by Arthur Shafer of No. 326 West Twenty-third street, Los Angeles.

A similar dash for boys under 15 was won by John Doyle of No. 1027 Hawley street, Los Angeles.

REV. MICHAEL L. HENNESSEY.
Parish of Ocean Park.

EDWARD MARKEY,
Prize Winner.

There were so many starters in the race for fifteen-year-old girls that they had to be started in two sections. The fleet-footed deer of both bunches was Anna Bella Moore of No. 1403 Elwood street, Los Angeles, Annie Mellus of No. 511 East Pico street, Los Angeles, was given a prize, as she tied Miss Moore in the first heat.

James Gavin of No. 1027 Hawley street, ran away from all starters in the dash for ten-year-olds.

Lizzie Roach of No. 229 Aliso street distanced all competitors in the race for girls under 10 years.

In the fat men's race John Underwood of Los Angeles proved too swift for his round and jolly competition. He actually ran the full hundred yards and set a pace that would be difficult to follow.

In the tug of war the married men proved to the unwedded fellows that single blessedness is a snare and a delusion. With ten men on either side the voters who have wives to split the kindling wood, easily outpulled the bachelors.

The running broad jump was won by William Truman of Ocean Park, who cleared fifteen feet and six inches. There were seven contestants.

In the running high jump for boys under ten, Joseph O'Connor of Los Angeles showed his prowess by clearing three feet and ten inches.

But by far the most amusing contest of the afternoon was the pie-eating race. This event was participated in by a couple of dozen boys, to each of whom was handed half of a pie. At a given signal all began to eat, and to the first who got outside of his pie the prize was given. The sight presented when the half-starved lions broke their fast upon the gladiators at Capua of old, wasn't a "marker" to the manner in which pies sought shelter in this anti-digestion contest. The first to swallow his pie was Alois Mauch, who still lives to tell the story. His home is at No. 313 East Twelfth street, Los Angeles.

Owing to the choppy condition of the sea, the swimming and boat races were postponed until next year.

During the day there were numerous excursions by gasoline launch to the long wharf, and the blanched faces of the returning visitors gave evidence that old Neptune was getting in his work. During the afternoon and evening there was dancing in the auditorium.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

ANOTHER CUT IN KERN OIL.

Associated Company Makes a Heavy Reduction.

Prices Hammered Down by Two Great Corporations.

Ruin Faces the Independents in Bakersfield.

And still another cut in the price of Kern River oil.

This time the Associated Oil Company makes the reduction, dropping the price from 15 cents to 12½ cents a barrel.

An Associated Press dispatch from Bakersfield last night says: "The Californian today will say that the Associated Oil Company has announced that hereafter it will pay only 12½ cents a barrel for Kern River oil. When the Standard announced its sensational cut from 15 cents to 11 2-3 cents, the Associated sent out word that it would take oil at 15 cents on two and three-year contracts. Overproduction is given as the reason for the latest cut."

Up to the moment of the announcement of the Associated cut, the Kern River operators thought the bottom in oil prices had been reached. They relied on President Porter's company to take all of the product offered at 15 cents, but this last prop has been knocked from under them, and now utter ruin stares many of the independents in the face. When the Standard first announced that the price would be cut to 11 2-3 cents and almost immediately followed with the statement that no oil at any prie would be taken from the Kern River field, the blow fell heavily, but now the fiat of the Associated is crushing.

It is conceded that independent producers cannot mine petroleum in Kern River at the prices offered, and it will occasion no surprise if many of the leasers abandon their holdings and allow leases to lapse.

STILL BUILDING RESERVOIRS.

Operators find it a hard matter to reconcile the statement of the Standard that it has all the Kern River oil needed, with the fact that the great corporation is steadily building new reservoirs. It is claimed that the Standard has room in one of the newly-completed reservoirs in the Kern field for 300,000 barrels, and a 500,000-barrel reservoir is now being roofed; also that the Standard is still building these 500,000-barrel reservoirs at the rate of one every month.

The oil-storage facilities are being increased at the other end of the pipe line at the rate of one 35,000-barrel tank every two weeks, and every three weeks a similar tank is completed along the line; all this in addition to the storage reservoirs which the company is building in connection with its refinery at Point Richmond.

In local oil circles the Kern River situation is watched with the keenest interest. The impression prevails here that the Standard and Associated have all along secretly connived for entire control of the petroleum industry in the State by allowing the Associated the full product, while the Standard would take care of all refining oil, and recent events tend to prove the correctness of the theories.

LOCAL CAPITALISTS ABROAD.

The demoralized condition of the oil industry throughout the State has caused a number of local oil people to turn their attention to other fields recently. Kansas has claimed the attention of several Los Angeles operators and local money and brains have added not a little to the impetus given the petroleum business in the republic of Mexico. A new field distant about fifty miles south from the great district centering around Independence, Kan., is the latest to claim attention, and Los Angeles money is going into this field.

Charles K. Books, known to the oil fields of Pennsylvania before locating in Los Angeles, and Mrs. Emma A. Summers, popularly termed the "Oil Queen," have secured a lease on 1000 acres in the new, but demonstrated field which is near Cleveland, Ohio. A rig has been set up and drilling will be started in a few days. Mr. Books has had men from Bradford, Pa., in that field for a number of weeks, and he is confident that the district will prove an important one. A 200-barrel well only a few rods distant from his own property, was brought in last week.

The Oklahoma field is thought by some to be an extension of the field that made Eastern Kansas famous, but by experts it is claimed that the deposit is entirely separate and distinct. The Oklahoma oil is of a higher grade, averaging around 40 per cent. gravity and readily brings $1.50 per barrel. The product is sold to the Standard Oil Company, which takes all offered.

MATSON CONSTRUCTION.

Work on the Pacific Oil and Transportation pipe line from Coalinga to Monterey has been resumed, and the company now expects to have the line completed, and in operation by November 1. This is generally called the Matson pipe line and many obstacles have been encountered in its construction. The most recent trouble was occasioned by a labor strike, and operations were discontinued for several weeks. A truce has now been patched up, however, and work is proceeding.

In the Coalinga field it is openly stated that the P.O.T. line is a thorn in the side of the Standard, and the big corporation is after Capt. Matson's scalp. Formerly the Standard purchased the product of the P.O.T.'s Graciosos wells and wanted to make a ten-year contract at 80 cents per barrel for the high-grade oil, but Matson would not sign, and started his pipe line to tide water. Then the Standard announced a cut to 40 cents for Coalinga oil, and war is on to the knife.

NEW UNION LEAGUE CLUB.

The Union League Club of Alameda county, California, became an assured fact at Oakland recently. Permanent officers were chosen as follows: President, George C. Perkins; vice-president, Victor H. Metcalf; second vice-president, George C. Pardee; secretary, S. J. Taylor; treasurer, F. K. Mott; directors, W. W. Garthwaite, W. Frank Pierce, George W. Scott, M. C. Chapman, James A. Johnson, George D. Metcalf.

Mr. Perkins is United States Senator and former Governor of California; Mr. Metcalf is secretary of the Federal Department of Commerce and Labor, and was recently Congressman from the Third District of California; Mr. Pardee is Governor of the State and former Mayor of Oakland, which latter dignity was once held by his father, the late Dr. E. H. Pardee.

Mr. Taylor is secretary of the Realty Syndicate, which corporation has developed this region so amazingly; Mr. Mott is a leading merchant and has been president of the City Council.

Mr. Garthwaite is cashier of the Oakland Bank of Savings.

Mr. Pierce is head of the Standard Electrical Company of California, and other great enterprises; Mr. Scott is president of the Alameda Advancement Association and is a member of the firm of Scott & Van Arsdale, San Francisco lumber magnates.

Mr. Chapman is a former Mayor of Oakland.

Mr. Johnson was for many years City Attorney of Oakland and Mr. Metcalf, a resident of Berkeley, is law partner in Oakland of Victor H. Metcalf.

CAUGHT BETWEEN COG WHEELS.

William Nieman, whose father is at the head of the firm of Nieman & Co., cement contractors, was seriously injured yesterday on Flower street, near Pico, by being caught in the cog gearing of a concrete-mixing machine. The huge drum was operated by a gasoline engine, and young Nieman was showing one of the workmen how to operate it. Another workman, who was using a pick near by, accidentally struck the machine with his pick and broke it in such manner that it was impossible to stop it. Nieman tried to turn off the power and his clothing was caught in the cog wheels. He was thrown violently to the platform and his head struck some hard substance, cutting his scalp open, the gash being more than five inches long. He was taken to the California Hospital, where Dr. Hitchcock attended him. He will be confined to his bed for several weeks.

MANY INVESTMENTS.

The Delta Investment Company, which recently purchased of C. M. O'Leary, through the C. J. Heyler Company, about 120x160 feet, unimproved, on the west side of San Pedro street, between First and Second streets, consideration named $36,000, is said to be considering substantial improvements on the property. Mrs. Romulo Pico sells to Albert Dalamore, through the company named, 60x165 feet, on the west side of Grand avenue, about 240 feet north of Sixth street, with an eighteen-room frame apartment building; consideration named, $18,000. Michael H. King buys of J. B. Lankershim, through T. W. T. Richards, 100x140 feet, on the southeast corner of Main and Twenty-eighth streets, with three small stores and a sixteen-room frame double dwelling; consideration named, $12,000.

MILLER'S FLUKE.

Day before yesterday Actor Henry Miller, with his company, was hooked onto a Santa Fé train leaving for San Diego, where an engagement was on for Tuesday night, at the Isis Theater. By some mistake the railway employés coupled up a baggage car containing a lot of deadwood in the way of trunks and other uncalled-for material, and left Miller's car, holding his entire costumes and scenery, standing sidetracked in the yard. The mistake was not discovered until the car was opened in San Diego just before the play. As there were no costumes of any sort, the show was declared off, and the entire trip went for nothing, Miller returning to Los Angeles early yesterday morning.

SPECIAL FOR TODAY.

I Have the Following Bargains in Pianos Below Two Hundred Dollars.

One "Martin & Co." upright piano in mahogany case (bran new,) fully warranted, worth at retail $225, for $106.

One "Dunbar & Co." upright in mahogany case—fresh and new—regular retail price $325, for $137.

One "Haines & Co." upright—new—in Flemish oak case, very fine toned, worth $375, for $166.

One "Rembrant," in case of Flemish oak, deep rich tone, light repeating action (would be cheap at $350,) for $172.

One handsome new Marshall & Wendall piano, slightly varnish marred on end of case in shipping, worth at retail $350, for $170.

One handsome "Hamilton" upright piano, in mahogany case, deep rich tone, light double-repeating action, large size, worth $375, for $195.

Also two of "Smith & Barnes's" make—one in curly walnut, the other mahogany—for $196 each. They are either worth double the factory cost price, and at which they are here offered.

Besides the above special bargains we expect to dispose of today, I have many other fine, high-grade pianos to sell—or rather, give away—today, and this evening, ranging in price—which means ranging in cost—from $195 to $298; all on terms of $25 down and $10 per month.

Any buyer of either of the above pianos can actually save enough money in the deal to buy the finest set of parlor furniture in town to match it.

Not one dollar, not one cent, is gained in waiting, but much may be lost—the piano you would have taken today may be gone tomorrow. We are in a hurry, and if you knew what I do about pianos you would be in a hurry too.

See 'em, hear 'em, try 'em and buy 'em, at 437 South Broadway.

To preserve the original freshness and color of your dainty summer fabrics, avoid the use of ordinary yellow soaps. These contain rosin and strong acids that destroy the color and do not rinse perfectly. Ivory, a soap made of clean, fresh oils and simple alkali, perfectly combined, rinses readily and will not destroy color or fabric. The saving in wear and appearance is much more than the slight additional cost of Ivory over ordinary soap. 99 44/100 per cent. pure.

RETURN OF THE SPELLBINDER.

His stately frock coat's newly pressed,
  His silk hat's ironed bright,
His trousers have a lovely crease,
  His tie is a delight.
At the hotel he's prominent
  On the headquarters floor,
Where most he loves to linger round
  The "speakers' bureau" door.

He has a smile and word for all
  And much he has to say;
He's full of cheery confidence
  And eager for the fray.
His voice brings up old memories
  Of crowd and torch and band
That make you long to sky your hat
  And grasp his willing hand.

To save the party woe and work
  Will be his ardent part;
The temporary chairman's speech
  He can repeat by heart.
He tackles each committeeman
  As patiently he waits
To have fixed up the price per speech
  And get his opening dates.

He'll set the Filipinos free
  And stop the "game of brag,"
Or make the eagle scream and shoot
  The man who lowers the flag;
He'll scorch the sordid robber trusts
  With language bold and high,
Or show that trusts are useful things
  And capital is shy.

This four-year plant political
  With joy we see appear
With blossoms bright of eloquence
  Each Presidential year.
Like planet periodical
  His suave and genial smile,
A milestone in the march of time
  His glossy silken tile.

Where does he go, the spellbinder,
  When the election's won,
When the last torch is trampled out
  And all the shouting's done?
He is too bright and beautiful
  To dwell as mortal dwells,
Oh, where upon his laurels rests
  The man who binds the spells?

FOR SALE—
IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.
To all good people who are paying rent and want to QUIT it; also to people who wish to invest their money where it will yield an early and a sure profit. We have lately bought, at a low figure, 125 lots in the Bellevue ave. tract, lying 2 short blocks north of the Temple-st. car line, which transfers to all the lines of the Los Angeles Railway Co., one block south of Sunset boulevard and Hollywood electric line, and just on the west side of Alvarado st.; same distance from Courthouse as Westlake Park; lots are good size, level or gently sloping, and we are going to sell them at from $200 to $250 per lot, one-fourth cash, balance $10 monthly, or other easy terms to suit at 6 per cent. interest; building restrictions of $1000 apply only to front 50 feet of lots; can build anything you wish on rear of lot; or, if you wish, live in a tent and stop the rent. Just think of nice, smooth lots, within 2 miles of business center, good car service, finest climate on earth, nice, desirable place to live; only $200 to $250 per lot and easy terms at that; can you afford to go on paying rent when such an opportunity is offered to get a nice little home of your own? Why not get a move on? "Come early," get first choice, and "avoid the rush." Take Hollywood cars to office, on corner of Sunset boulevard and Alvarado st., where you will find E. D. RANNELLS, with conveyance to show you the lots, or call on M. L. WICKS, room 128, Hellman Bldg., N.E. corner Second and Broadway, or see MOYE W. STEPHENS, 125 Temple st. 28

RANCHO DEL MAR.

RANCHO DEL MAR.

This beautiful ranch, all set to 2 and 6-year-old walnuts, has been cut into 2½ and 5-acre tracts; abundance of water piped for domestic use and ditch irrigation; street will soon be graded. Alfalfa, corn, beans, peas, berries and fruits now growing. You don't have to guess that things will grow there. It's easy to see. A share of water stock goes with every acre. This stock represents the ownership of the 30-horse-power pumping plant and 75 inches of water. School within ¼ mile of tract. You can own a home that will make you independent. Remember, that when you buy in the
RANCHO DEL MAR TRACT,
that you are buying for less per acre than the present adjoining owners will sell their entire holdings at per acre. About all the land between Rancho Del Mar and Ocean Park is now divided up and sold in 50-foot lots. Buy a home in the Rancho Del Mar tract, and any year you can subdivide and sell 50-foot lots for as much as you now pay per acre, besides the land will pay you 20 per cent., while you wait, if you occupy as a home it will pay you 40 per cent. Do you know of any better investment? The adjoining property owner last week cut 12 tons of alfalfa from 3 acres at one cutting and sold it out of the fields for $11 per ton. He cuts his alfalfa 10 times a year. It's a gold mine. $650 per acre, 1-3 cash, balance terms, interest 6 per cent.
THINK NOW, ACT NOW. COME OUT AND SEE.
Title Insurance and Trust Co.'s certificate. The Rancho Del Mar tract, situated on the Ocean Park and Santa Monica Short Line. Take car at Fourth st., Los Angeles. Get off at Rancho Del Mar. Agent on tract.

FOR SALE—
FIRTH BOULEVARD ANNEX.
To meet the extraordinary demand for lots in Firth's Boulevard tract, I have opened another tract adjoining, which will be known as
FIRTH BOULEVARD ANNEX.
The unequaled location, excellent garden soil, perfect water system and best car service in the United States, have caused the great rush for this fine property.
It is the place for an ideal suburban home. The lots are covered with a luxurious growth of alfalfa, and the land is adapted for the raising of poultry, vegetables, fruits and berries.
I want to impress upon the public most forcibly that this is the best location for a suburban home near Los Angeles.
HALF-ACRE VILLA LOTS, $300.
Water piped in large mains with a 2-inch outlet to your lot.
The city is rapidly growing southward, and values are increasing with its growth. An investment made now will soon double in value.
For maps, free tickets and further information, call at the office.

PLAYED YANKEE DOODLE.

Austrian Cruiser's Narrow Escape from Being Run Down by an American War Vessel.

[Kansas City Star:] Everybody knows that during our war with Spain several European nations were by no means friendly to America. Perhaps the least friendly was Austria. But few people are aware that during the operations off the south coast of Cuba the American squadron was within an ace of sinking an Austrian cruiser, the Maria Theresa. If this had really been done, there is no knowing what the result might have been, taking account of the bitter feeling against America then prevailing in Austria and other European countries.

The Maria Theresa happened to be very much like some of Cervera's cruisers in her general appearance. Rather foolishly, she was ordered by the Austrian admiralty to cruise in Cuban waters throughout the war.

One pitch black night, some time before the destruction of the Spanish squadron off Santiago, she was steaming a few miles off the coast of Jamaica. The captain and his officers were smoking their cigars on the quarter deck after dinner, listening to the ship's band, and feeling at peace with all men.

Suddenly, out of the darkness, there loomed the form of a big cruiser, coming toward the Maria Theresa at top speed. The Austrian officers were dumfounded to hear a big commotion on board and orders hastily shouted in English which would have resulted in blowing them out of the water in the next few minutes. The vessels were so close to one another that the words of the American officers could be distinctly heard.

The Austrian captain rose to the occasion. The moment he saw the cruiser, he had an inspiration. With a single bound he was at the side of his bandmaster, and gripping him by the shoulder.

"Play something American!" he shouted. "'Yankee Doodle,' 'The Star Spangled Banner'—anything!"

The band instantly struck up "Yankee Doodle," and the Americans were so amazed at hearing the familiar strains from the deck of what they supposed to be a Spanish cruiser that they waited for explanations.

Boulanger's Famous Charge.

One of the effects of the hot weather in Paris has been to put an end to Gen. Boulanger's old black horse, that once-famous charger which used to carry France's idol majestically at reviews and figured in the welcome to that hero as he rode back at the head of the Paris garrison from Longchamps to the War Office. The poor old black horse suffered the usual fate of his race. Gen. Boulanger should have shot him before he shot himself, for in all these years that have elapsed since the "brave general" weakly died, he has been dragging out a wretched existence, succumbing finally while drawing a vegetable cart across the Place de la Concorde! The blazing sun killed Tunis—Boulanger's black charger.—[Boston Herald.

Mother Has a Megaphone.

One woman who intends to get the greatest good for herself and her children from their summer in the country has added a megaphone to her baggage.

She believes in letting the children have as wide a range as possible to run in. If they get beyond ordinary earshot she can use the megaphone to call any of them or to summon the whole bunch at mealtime.

She declares that the megaphone is better than the bell or old-fashioned dinner horn, because sometimes long-distance argument is more effective in bringing a youngster to time than mere ringing or blowing.—[Boston Herald.

A Million for Programmes.

A million dollars a year are spent for theater programmes in Greater New York. This means that the programme of each one of the sixty odd theaters of the city costs on an average about $17,000 a year. The only revenue the publisher derives from them is the advertising they carry, for theatrical programmes, as every one knows, are all distributed gratis to the public as they enter the theater. This is quite unlike the custom that holds in Great Britain and all over the continent, where, although a small charge is made, the programmes are said not to be so artistically got up and printed as those distributed in even the second-class theaters in New York.—[Pittsburgh Dispatch.

there's a gain in cost as well as

Strength and Health

Try it a bit, say for breakfast—

A little Fruit,
A dish of Grape-Nuts and cream,
Two slices of hard toast,
A cup of Postum Food Coffee.

That's all, and you feel "like a Lord."
Same for lunch.
Then have a good meat and vegetable dinner.
Such meals will put one right in body and brain.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

BISHOP JOHNSON at last accounts was in Paris, and about to start for London. It is expected that he will sail for New York about the middle of next month. He will attend the general convention of the Episcopal Church in Boston before returning to Los Angeles, and it will probably be November before he is seen here again. The bishop has derived much benefit during his stay abroad from taking the waters at Vichy.

Maj. H. T. Lee, wife and daughters, who have been making a tour of Great Britain, are expected home at about the same time as Bishop Johnson. Maj. Lee is chancellor of the diocese of Los Angeles, and he, too, will attend the General Convention.

Rev. J. J. Wilkins, D.D., dean of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, with his wife, will leave the first of September on a vacation of two months.

Golden Wedding.

Green and gold were the decorations at the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stewart of No. 512 West Thirtieth street, last evening.

Standing beneath a canopy of beautiful flowers and greenery, this honored couple received their guests. No marriage ceremony was performed, but Rev. Hugh K. Walker of Immanuel Church offered an address appropriate for the occasion.

Fifty years ago, in the city of Portland, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Stewart were married. The young couple came directly to California, and settled in San Francisco in the early '50's.

They came to Los Angeles in 1873, and have made their home here ever since. Mr. Stewart built the first house on the Stewart Nursery tract, in South Los Angeles, there being no homes nearer than Sixth street when his residence was first erected.

The family domicile on West Thirtieth was entirely given over to the joyous celebration yesterday. Fairy incandescent lights in bright Japanese lanterns gave the lawn a holiday appearance. Within the house the dining-room effects were green and yellow ribbon, with potted palms and maidenhair ferns, with baskets of "golden glow." An artistic yellow bell, pendent from the canopy, made silent melody by its beauty.

Mr. Stewart is a native of New Hampshire, and his wife was born in New York. Two children have blessed their union—Mrs. A. W. Barron of San Francisco and Mrs. C. H. Hall of this city. Throughout the afternoon presents were received from their many friends, set off by a profusion of floral gifts.

There assisted in receiving, with Mrs. Stewart, Mmes. Hugh K. Walker, E. F. Spence, S. C. Hubbell, A. L. Danskin, Charles Praeger, A. M. Widney, Frank P. Flint, J. A. Fairchild, J. F. Ward, W. C. Patterson, Z. D. Mathuss and S. S. Salisbury. Miss Kate Spence presided over the fruitade booth, and was aided by Misses Agnes Ward, Kate and Mary Williams, Lila Fairchild, Lida Johnson and Mary Hubbell.

MR. AND MRS. J. M. STEWART.

Stanley-Hernandez.

Wedding marches and nuptial flowers, mingling in a sweet concord of joyous sight and sound in the quaint little church of St. Athanasius last evening, announced the marriage of Carlos M. Hernandez and Miss Stella Alice Stanley. Mrs. Hernandez is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Stanlay of No. 2006 West Washington street. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for Santa Barbara, on their wedding tour. They will be at home after September 15 at No. 1404 Harvard avenue.

The groom's sister, Miss Cochita Hernandez, was the maid of honor, while Carlos Stanley acted as best man. The full Episcopal service was used by the rector of St. Athanasius Church—Rev. Stephen Sherman.

Four members of St. Hilda's Society—of which the bride is a member—had in charge the church decoration. They were Misses Millie Theal, Pauline Parker, Florence Lean and Ina Davis.

Their scheme of decoration had pink and white for its chief effects, streamers of white tulle combining with bountiful clusters of pink carnations to form the pleasing resultant whole.

Women's Press Club.

A pretty reception given last evening was that of the Women's Press Club, held at the "Attic Studio" of Miss Helen Coan and Miss Regina O. Kane, in Cumnock Hall.

During the rendition of the programme, Miss Allie Taylor sang some Scotch ballads, Miss Coan gave a talk upon "Art as Human Expression," Merma Metcalf recited an original poem, written by her mother, and Miss Viola Carmen Soberanes sang a soprano selection from grand opera.

Dainty refreshments were enjoyed by the guests.

Mrs. Steckel's Tour.

Today Mrs. Helen Steckel will leave for an extended European trip. She will sail from New York September 3 for Germany, where she will remain for some time. She will then proceed to Russia for the holidays, and in the spring will journey down to Italy, and after touring this pleasant land of romance, will take a side-saunter into France and Spain. Coming home, she will see the sights of the British Empire—in its three Atlantic Islands.

Mrs. Steckel's mother, Mrs. J. A. Henderson—will go as far as New York with her daughter, and will remain in the East for two months.

Dr. Martin's Romance.

A news letter from Muncie, Ind., says that Dr. J. S. Martin, for twenty years a practicing physician of that city, is now speeding toward the Coast, where he is to meet and wed Mrs. Annie S. Bell of Los Angeles.

There is alleged to be a deep tinge of romance in the atmosphere which surrounds the approaching nuptials. Dr. Martin met Mrs. Bell two years ago at San Antonio, Tex., where mutual admiration soon ripened into love.

Notes and Personals.

Miss May E. Kelly will leave tomorrow for New York. She will remain three months.

J. Korn has returned home after a two weeks' vacation spent at Lake Tahoe.

Dr. J. C. Solomon has returned with his family from a two months' tour through Mexico.

Miss Georgia Woolsey of Keene, Kern county, is visiting Miss Nellie Lambie of No. 923 Francisco street.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Chase of Riverside, with their son, John, have been in Los Angeles for several days.

A delightful theater party was given Monday night at the Orpheum by Mrs. James Emerson Gee and Miss Lindsey. There were twenty guests, occupying three boxes, and after the programme's conclusion, supper was served at Levy's. The entertainment was for Mrs. William J. Corbett of Tucson and Miss Martha Smith of Cleveland, O.

ROBS BENEFACTOR.

Twice-convicted Thief Takes Employer's Money, Forges His Name, and Is Arrested for It.

After having served two terms in jail for larceny, and upon his release being given a good position by the husband of a missionary to the jails, Harry W. Stewart, an electrician, embezzled $10 from his employer, and then forged the latter's name to a check, and got the money. He was arrested yesterday afternoon at No. 317 East Second street charged with forgery and embezzlement, and the chances are that if he is seen by a missionary hereafter it will be in one of the State prisons.

Mrs. Vance, wife of Lawrence M. Vance, dealer in electrical machinery at No. 319 Commercial street, spends much of her time trying to convert prisoners at the city and county jails, and to assist them after they have been released from custody.

Stewart was serving a term of ninety days in the County Jail, and Mrs. Vance met him there. He professed repentance and she became interested in his welfare, and after his release induced her husband to give him work. He did very well for a time, but a few days ago he collected $15 on a bill and kept $10 of it. The same day he forged his employer's name to a check for $10 and passed it on Millie Bradford, a Marchessault-street woman. Then he proceeded to have a good time with the money, and when arrested he had spent all of it. He denies his guilt, but the detectives say they have a certain case against him.

Stewart served 120 days in the City Jail, beginning in July, 1903, for the theft of a diamond pin at Hotel Fremont, and later was sentenced to the County Jail, an effort to send him to the penitentiary on a prior conviction having been dropped.

THREE MEN OF HIGH DEGREE.

'Twas in the sleeping car these three
Grave men were smoking placidly.

A fourth man stepped in doubtfully,
Sat down and joined the learned three.

He was but one and they were three
Grave, learned men of high degree.

The first of them right solemnly
Passed up a card for him to see,

On which was printed, daintily:
"Sir Ambrose Pitkin, K. C. B."

He scrutinized it carefully,
As much impressed as you might be.

The second man expressively
Gave him another card. Ah, me!

On which he read these words: "A. B.
Bucyrus, D. D. LL. D."

Much awed, he held it gingerly,
And eyed the man of high degree.

The third man, last one of the three
Passed up his card with dignity,

On which was lettered, stylishly,
"Abijah Milton, F. R. C."

Then o'er these cards, one, two and three,
He sat and studied carefully.

Took out his pencil solemnly,
And wrote three cards for them to see,

On which they read:
"From Jonas Fee, MDCCCCIV."
—[J. W. Foley, in New York Times

A New Slang Word.

Chefoo has been added to our vernacular. In the East, when anybody relates some astounding tale the cry of "That's a Chefoo!" greets it. As Chefoo has turned out some of the most terrible rumors war was ever blest with, it wouldn't be strange if the name of the enterprising place was thus immortalized. So, if you don't care to say to a man frankly, you're a liar, why, just call him a Chefoo. He will appreciate it just as well. Besides, it sounds less rude.—[Kansas City Journal.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

New Members.

At yesterday's meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce the following-named were elected to membership: Dr. John F. Curran, C. C. C. Tatum & Co., Muller & Raas Company.

Oil Stock Burned.

A frame shed in the rear of the place of J. C. Coover, No. 1611 Brooklyn avenue, used as a storeroom for gasoline and coal oil, was destroyed by fire of unknown origin yesterday afternoon. The loss was about $250.

Wife His Accuser.

Joseph Geha, a Syrian, who owns a grocery on Ceres avenue, near Seventh street, was arrested last night by Deputy Constable Adams on complaint of the defendant's wife, charged with making threats to kill her.

Sousa Coming.

John Philip Sousa, march king and champion possessor of medals and mannerisms, is headed this way with his world-famous band. He will arrive some time in mid-autumn, and will play an engagement of several concerts—probably at Hazard's Pavilion.

Still Seeking Proprietor.

E. E. Cooper, the Denver hotel man who came here to look over the new Lankershim Hotel, with the view of taking a lease on it, left the city yesterday. It is said that he decided not to take the house for which Lankershim is seeking a proprietor.

Strikers' Case.

Hearing of the contempt proceedings against the Santa Fé strikers formerly employed by the railroad in San Bernardino was resumed in the United States Court yesterday morning and continued through the day. Five witnesses on behalf of the strikers were examined.

Railway Advertising Agent.

H. S. Kneedler, formerly in charge of advertising for the Southern Pacific at New Orleans, has been appointed advertising agent for the Pacific Electric Railway. Previous to taking up this class of work, Mr. Kneedler was an editor for several years in Iowa. He has resided in Los Angeles for some time.

Want the Men.

The ladies of the Womens' Christian Temperance Union wish to give notice to men that they are just as welcome as ladies at the meeting to be held this afternoon in the First Methodist Church. At 2 o'clock Mrs. F. E. Oakley will deliver an address on the subject of "Home Makers and Their Responsibilities." It will be open to discussion by those present.

Two of a Kind.

S. S. Wallack of No. 110 North Fremont avenue reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and a gold watch stolen therefrom. Soon after the above had been reported, A. G. Herara called at the station to give notice that his room had been entered at No. 321½ West Fourth street and his gold watch stolen. In the latter case a gold chain was attached.

State Board of Trade.

The special train to be run to the St. Louis Exposition under the auspices of the California State Board of Trade will leave San Francisco October 6 at 11 a.m., via the Southern Pacific to Ogden, thence by the Union Pacific to Omaha and the Burlington route to St. Louis, where it is scheduled to arrive at 10 a.m. October 9. A reception will be given the excursion party in the California State building at the fair October 10 by Commissioners Wiggins and Filcher.

Chinese Ordered Out.

Six Chinese were yesterday ordered deported, after a hearing before United States Commissioner Van Dyke on the charge of being illegally in the United States. These are the men who were sealed in a box car at El Paso, arriving in Los Angeles surreptitiously August 3, almost dead from hunger and thirst, as the car was delayed en route. One of them was in such a deplorable condition that he was removed from the car to town in the patrol wagon, after the celestials had been forced to make their presence known to save their lives.

Mason's Artistic Programme.

An innovation in theater programmes is that of the Mason Operahouse, the publication of which was begun last night by T. Newman. It is a complete revolution from the flimsy makeshift programmes so commonly distributed, being printed on heavy double-plated paper, illustrated with fine half-tone cuts and every page red-lined. The covers will be changed each night, so that each will be a handsome souvenir of the performance. The work on the new programme is done in the Times-Mirror Printing and Binding House.

Newby is Found.

O. L. Newby, who was reported missing from his home at No. 413 West Temple street, has been found. He was seen on the street yesterday by his little daughter, and now the wife, who suspected foul play, is satisfied that the man has only deserted her. Last night Mrs. Newby declared that she didn't care if her liege lord never came back. The Newbys came to Los Angeles from Oxnard three months ago, and since that time everything has not moved smoothly in the family. A week ago the pair quarreled, and Newby left his home.

Rare Nubian Chicks.

The first brood of chicks ever hatched from Nubian ostriches caught in the wild state, made their appearance at the Cawston ostrich farm yesterday. They are a great curiosity for the reason stated and also because of the great value of the feathers of the Nubian ostrich, which are larger and lighter in color than those from the South African birds. Mr. Cawston recently took to New York a crop of the feathers plucked from these wild birds, and had them pronounced the finest feathers ever seen in that city, and he is doubly anxious to succeed in raising the new brood of chicks. Several of the largest ostriches on the farm will be plucked on Saturday.

TREAT'S FEUD AGAINST TREAT.

Pickle-maker Sues Himself, Attaches Himself.

Puts a Constable on Guard Over Himself.

Odd Outcome of Failure of Nichols, Curtiss Co.

J. M. Treat, maker of pickles and candies, is having a furious row with himself in this city.

The Treat feud with J. M. Treat on one side and the same J. M. Treat on the other side, waxed bitter yesterday.

Treat brought a lawsuit against himself and then attached his own business and had a deputy constable placed on guard over the works so that he couldn't make way with any of his own property before he had a chance to get judgment against himself.

It is to be hoped that Treat will not get so worked up against himself that he may be tempted to deeds of violence.

His friends should urge Treat to remember the life-long associations and memories that bind him to himself and which should be sufficient to brush aside monetary difficulties. Let Treat get together and compromise.

Connected with Treat's row with himself, is a spicy scandal of the smash-up of this confection and pickle factory which went into the hands of the Sheriff yesterday.

It is claimed that M. Dimmock, the head of the firm, has skipped, and that Dimmock is only one of a succession of stockholders who have fled, most of them with the firm's money.

It is alleged that for some months past every time the collections came due, there would be a vacant chair in the stockholders' meetings, some particularly energetic member having made the collections and fled.

Yesterday the place was fairly plastered with attachments of which Treat's attachment against himself was but one out of many.

The firm was known as the Nichols, Curtiss Company; it made preserves and bakers' supplies, having its place of business at No. 314 Commercial street.

Treat came into the firm about fifteen months ago with $1000 and a wealth of inexperience that made the $1000 particularly attractive to the other stockholders.

In short, it is the claim that he was scientifically worked as a sucker.

He was given 149 shares of stock and the promise of a salary of $25 per week to be secretary and treasurer of the concern.

M. Dimmock, the president, held 118 shares. A few other shares were outstanding.

Only $217 of the unsuspecting Treat's money went for the stock; the rest of his money went to pay off some pressing debts of the company. Since that time he has put in $325 cash.

Certain mysterious new stockholders appeared from time to time, and quite as mysteriously got jobs as collectors.

Treat might have learned to know that they would come but to vanish after the first collection day with all the money in sight, but his faith remained unshaken as one by one they disappeared.

A day or so ago, Treat began to worry a little at the continued absence of the president, Mr. Dimmock. The creditors of the firm also began to worry. They worried in immense chunks.

Yesterday they fell upon the firm, of which only Treat remains, all in a bunch.

Constable De La Monte sent down a deputy to the place to attach on the claim of M. J. Bedall for $287.83. Hardly had he served the papers when Constable Cline sent down a man with a claim for $45.71 assigned to J. H. Ashbridge.

On the advice of his attorney, E. G. Kuster, Esq., Treat then took a hand in the game himself. He placed in the hands of the Sheriff an attachment on himself for $2363.81 which was promptly served.

Consequently, in the howl over his undoing, Treat's voice sings louder than all the rest.

Treat's action, which sounds like farce comedy, is in reality a bit of legal acumen.

His object in attaching himself (he being the member of the company left) is to prevent the property being made away with by others connected with the firm.

As principal stockholder he becomes liable for the debts of the concern. As his promised salary was not paid except in small bites now and then, he has claims against the company himself; he appears to be fighting himself in order to pull something out of the wreck and stand off the liabilities of the company which threaten him individually.

At the Board of Trade is was stated yesterday that the claims amount to about $4000 so far as known, but that no one can tell just how heavily the concern is involved.

The company has flopped around so much from a co-partnership to a corporation and back again that no one seems to be able to say just what brand of fish, flesh or fowl it may be.

VENTURA.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

VENTURA, Aug. 24.—George Howard, who says he has been chef at the Van Nuys, Los Angeles, was brought to the County Jail here this morning by Constable Trotter of Piru, to serve a sentence of ten days for being a hobo. Howard came into Piru on a brake-beam and was living the life in the community practiced by the plain every-day hobo. He said he had not only been the Van Nuys chef, but that he was then on his way to Santa Barbara to act as chef at the Potter, and that he is well acquainted with Potter himself. Justice Gulberson said he would give Howard an opportunity to fill the place of chef at the County Jail to keep in practice until he reached Santa Barbara, and that the Potter guests would have to wait a bit.

ITALIAN TOWN TORNADO-SWEPT.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—In the tornado which swept Sorrento, Italy, says a Herald dispatch from that city, the cathedral and monastery of San Paoli almost fell to the ground. One house gave way, burying three persons beneath the ruins. The town presents a spectacle of desolation. The blow lasted only two minutes.

If your clock does not keep good time, we will call for it and return it without extra charge for that service.

XXIIId YEAR. THURSDAY, AUGUST 25, 1904. PRICE 3 CENTS

PUT THREE BULLETS THROUGH HIS WIFE.

Murder and Suicide by Thomas A. Carter—Good Woman Shot Down in the Presence of Her Fourteen-Year-Old Daughter.

ALL that a faithful wife and mother should have been, but refusing to associate with the toughs who were her husband's companions—because she was far above the plane on which the cheap, trifling, brutal man stood—Mrs. Thomas A. Carter lies dead at Bresee Brothers' morgue with three bullet holes in her body.

On the front porch of the family home, No. 2129 South Los Angeles street, at 8 o'clock last night, Carter shot his wife in the presence of their fourteen-year-old daughter, who tried in vain to prevent the tragedy; and then, running into the front yard, Carter blew out his brains and fell dead upon the lawn.

MRS. BERTIE CARTER,
Murdered by Her Husband.

Had Carter committed suicide without injuring his wife, few persons would have cared, for evil associations and long dissipation had made him a being bereft of decency and manhood, who cared more for the company of boozers than for the respectable people who were the friends of his wife and three children.

PREVIOUS THREATS.

Horrible as was the tragedy, it was not unexpected. Several of the neighbors said last night, while doing all they could for the injured woman, that they were surprised that it had not occurred sooner. It was common talk among the neighbors that Carter had repeatedly threatened his wife's life, and it was generally known that when Carter was at home, which during the past few years was not very often, he made life for his wife a hell because of his senseless jealousy.

Even his children turned against him, and how they hated him was shown last night when one of them going into the yard after the shooting, looked upon his corpse and said: "Oh, I'm glad you're dead, but why did you shoot mama!"

Time was when Thomas A. Carter was respectable. With his family he lived in San Bernardino, where he was engaged in the meat business. Four years ago the family, which consisted of husband, wife, and three sons and a daughter, the sons being respectively 1b and 12 years of age and the daughter 14, moved to Los Angeles, and from that time dates the rapid decline of the husband and father in the social scale, and the constant effort on the part of the wife to keep her little family intact and to rear her children so as to make of them good citizens.

Her neighbors, who one and all assert that Mrs. Carter was a model wife and mother, all testify that she had a hard struggle. She saw her husband gradually descending in the social scale, associating with lewd women and worse men, and as a consequence neglecting herself and the children. He could have made a living at his trade, but to do so he would have had to work hard. He chose rather the life of a bartender in a tough saloon. He was a brother-in-law of John Manning, who was once proprietor of the Basket Saloon, one of the most notorious dives in the city, in the heart of the crib district and patronized by prostitutes and the human leeches supported by them. That saloon was finally closed by the city authorities, and Carter sought other employment.

He had fallen to such a state that he saw no good in his home or in his wife, and as long ago as last October he called out to her in the hearing of the neighbors that he intended to kill her and then kill himself, but stated that the time was not ripe for the deed.

He never went home, but he charged her with acts of which she was innocent—accusations calculated to break the heart of a good woman. Nearly a year ago she applied for divorce, alleging inhuman cruelty, infidelity, failure to provide and drunkenness. She would have secured her decree, had she pressed her suit, for he was guilty of all that she alleged against him. Despite his wrong-doing she loved him, and when it came time for her to appear in court she went to him instead, believed his tearful promises that he would do better, forgave him and after a time again endured the agonies resulting from his inhuman treatment.

Several weeks ago Carter secured employment at a meat store at Eleventh street and Maple avenue, and for a time he appered to desire to do better. Later he began drinking and when in his cups he continued the abuse of his wife. Many times he told her that he would kill her and himself, but she had become accustomed to such threats and they did not frighten her. Many a night has she cared for him when he was unable to care for himself, all the time trying to conceal from her neighbors the trouble she was having. They knew that such a condition of affairs could not last; they had heard his threats and last night, when five shots in quick succession rang out in that quiet neighborhood, the neighbors realized instinctively what had happened.

THE SHOOTING.

The tragedy was enacted without any warning. Mrs. Carter had been walking up and down the street with Mrs. Winde and Mrs. Reed, neighbors. Mr. Winde was also on the street and Carter, half drunk, was seated on his front porch. The sight of his wife, accompanied by other persons, greatly enraged him, and when she returned home he began a tirade of abuse.

Their fourteen-year-old daughter was near by and took her mother's part, but the child's pleadings did not stop Carter's tongue.

Suddenly, with the declaration that he had had enough trouble, he drew a revolver and began shooting at his wife at close range.

He fired three shots at her almost as fast as he could pull a trigger, and the woman, sorely wounded, staggered down the porch steps and clung to a fence.

Her daughter tried to throw herself between her maddened father and her mother, showing that she would willingly have become a target for the bullets if she could save her mother from injury, but she was not quick enough.

Carter jumped off the porch, fired another shot at his wife and then running toward the south side of the house placed the revolver to his head and blew out his brains, falling dead in his tracks.

Scores of neighbors, attracted by the shots, soon reached the place and found Mrs. Carter leaning against the fence moaning in agony. Tenderly they carried her into the house and placed her upon a cot. Despite her wounds she asked for her husband but was not told that he was dead. Then she asked for her daughter and sons and was told that they were safe. She then explained where she had been shot, and when Drs. Kirkpatrick and Wheeler arrived she assisted them all she could.

Meantime the police ambulance had been summoned and it was decided to remove her to the Receiving Hospital, where an operation was performed. Realizing her condition, Mrs. Carter, before the anesthetic was administered, made a statement.

MRS. CARTER'S STATEMENT.

Moaning and tossing in agony and yet heroically trying to control herself, Mrs. Carter narrated in broken sentences the story of the shooting:

"My husband was jealous and I believe crazy. But, oh! I did not believe he would shoot me. He first threatened me with a revolver last September, and on several subsequent occasions he flourished a pistol in my face, but I didn't think he would do it." Here the speaker's eyes filled with tears, though her sorrow seemed more for the children who would be left motherless should the shots prove fatal, rather than for self.

"I had been out walking with the Reeds, next-door neighbors, and when I returned my husband began to upbraid me," she continued in a choked voice.

"He accused me of flirting and called me a terrible name. But please don't say the name in the papers," she pleaded.

"Then after saying this he shot me three times. I tried to get away, but couldn't. Oh! the horror of it all!"

Overcome by the exertion, Mrs. Carter was forced to cease talking. She lay with closed eyes, repressing the tears that would ever and anon dim the handsome eyes, but uttering no complaint. Again she essayed to talk, but being warned not to overtax her strength she patiently awaited the operation by the surgeons.

THE WOMAN DIES.

If medical skill could have saved the victim's life she would have been saved. Police Surgeon Smith took no chances, but called to his assistance other expert surgeons. Those who assisted him in the operation were Drs. Bonynge, Myers, Ferbert, Kirkpatrick, Stearns, Martin and Tanner. Shock and hemorrhage were what the surgeons had to overcome. They found that a bullet had struck her on the left side, passed through the stomach and intestines, shattering the liver and driving shattered pieces of the ribs into the peritoneal cavity. The contents of the stomach were emptied into the cavity and the internal hemorrhage was such that when an incision was made the blood gushed forth, covering the floor of the operating room until the working surgeons were wading in gore before they had more than begun their work.

It was a hopeless case from the beginning and at 10:30 o'clock the brave woman breathed her last. In an adjoining room was her elder son, waiting to see his mother. He could not be admitted while the operation was in progress and therefore did not see her until death had deprived him of the one last loving greeting which he knew would have been his could she have spoken to him. When he was taken to the chamber of death he stood for a moment looking upon the face of his mother, and turning to an attendant he said in a whisper: "She deserved better than that." The boy's grief was too deep for tears and when he was led away he seemed too dazed to know what was going on.

The body of the murdered woman was taken to Bresee Bros.' morgue where the Coroner will hold an inquest, probably today.

The utter worthlessness of the man who made his children orphans is shown by the fact that through his dissipation he rendered them penniless. Through an attorney familiar with the family's affairs it was learned last night that after the wife had become reconciled to her husband, he induced her to deed to him her interest in their little home. Forthwith he mortgaged it and then placed a second mortgage upon it and with the proceeds went on drunken sprees.

Mrs. Carter was 34 years of age. She married when she was 15 years old and had lived with him nineteen years. Her maiden name was Bertha Tipton. She had several sisters residing in Los Angeles, another sister, Mrs. LeBarre, of No. 449 Hoyt street, Portland, Or., and a brother, J. B. Tipton, of San Francisco.

Carter was formerly a policeman in San Bernardino and at one time was in line to be Chief of Police there.

LANDLORD OWNS UP TO MARKED CARDS.

Startling Confession in Ocean Park Scandal—The Skin Game That Went on at Old Hotel Holborow. Case Postponed.

THIS is the day when City Trustee John C. Steele of Santa Monica was to appear before Justice Pierce in Los Angeles for preliminary trial on the charge of winning $750 from Rancher Jasper Thomason by the use of marked cards in a poker game.

The trial, however, will not come off today.

Because of the absence from the city of Jud Rush of counsel for the defense postponement has been granted to September 2.

The trial, if it ever comes off, promises to be replete with sensation; and interested persons state that it probably will be followed up with prosecutions involving the giving of $500 bribes in connection with the obtaining of saloon licenses in Santa Monico, a well-known nickel-in-the-slot machine man being the alleged go-between.

Jasper Thomason, the rancher who swore to the complaint against Steele, was said by a morning paper to be contemplating flight. He was seen at his ranch between Santa Monica and Sawtelle last night, and in reply to a question said: "Running away is the last thing I would think of. I have ranched here for twelve years, am pretty well known, have nothing in my past to conceal or be afraid of, and propose to see this case through. I am not hunting for vengeance, but I want all the recourse the law can give. I was robbed of $1351 by having marked cards run in on me in the old Holborow Hotel, $100 of which has been returned, and I will be on hand in the court room to help the prosecution of John Steele in every honest way I can."

HOLBOROW'S CONFESSION.

The new and startling feature of the unsavory affair is the announcement of a confession made by John G. Holborow, an Ocean Park hotel man, in the presence of Jasper Thomason, W. H. Anderson and G. M. Jones, in a Pier-avenue real estate office. Mr. Thomason was present as the accuser, Mr. Anderson as assistant counsel in the prosecution of Steele, and Mr. Jones as one who, in occasional games of poker, had lost money to Steele and had his suspicions.

Holborow's statement is said by the witnesses to have been as follows:

That at the close of a game of stud poker in a room in the old Holborow Hotel, on Pier avenue, Ocean Park, all but three players having gone, a man who is at present running a hotel in San Francisco remarked to Steele and Holborow that he believed they had been "skinned" by the use of a deck of marked cards. Picking up a deck of cards that had been in use in the game just finished, he dealt them face down onto the table, calling off each card as he dealt, from ace to deuce. He then suggested that in future games they three should "ring in" a marked deck as an easy way of making money. Either Steele or Holborow queried, in return, where marked cards could be gotten, and the San Francisco man replied that he knew where they could be gotten, and would furnish them. It was agreed, subsequently, that the San Francisco man should furnish the crooked decks. Holborow (as proprietor of the hotel in which the games were played) should produce them when new decks were called for by the players, and Steele should do his part in dealing the marked cards out. The three should divide the fraudulent winnings.

The plot (still quoting Holborow's confession) was put into operation, in last April. In the division of the winnings the San Francisco man claimed he had been cheated by Steele, and soon afterward dropped out of the scheme and left town.

On the foregoing statement the complaint charging Trustee Steele with obtaining $750 fraudulently by trick and device with cards was issued, Holborow coming to Los Angeles with Thomason and his friends to be present when the warrant was sworn out.

Under the penal code Holborow ran no risk of punishment in furnishing the confession on which the complaint was issued, law holding him immune from prosecution in consideration of giving evidence. At the same time, a person furnishing such preliminary information and later withholding his testimony in court becomes liable to felony prosecution for having taken part in the crime confessed.

GAMES ALL NIGHT.

Stud poker games, it seems, flourished at the old Holborow Hotel (now abandoned in favor of a new building a few feet down the street) and at the Pavilion, on Santa Monica's north side. The passage of a "strict" anti-gambling ordinance by the City Trustees (among them Steele) had the effect only of closing out the "little fellows," the proprietors of cigar store back-room joints and the like. At the two places mentioned, games of poker, often so "stiff" that it cost a dollar to ante and the limit was the money in sight, sometimes ran all night, hundreds being lost by individual players at a sitting. Into this midnight circle came "Jap" Thomason, the industrious, fairly-prosperous rancher, to gratify his liking for "an occasional game." How he discovered the presence of marked cards in the Holborow sittings he says he will not tell until called to the witness stand, when he promises to divulge all he knows.

The following statement of happenings is vouched for by one of the players who was present:

FEATHERS TRIMMED.

Thomason was loser to Steele and Holborow $551, which he had paid, when on the night of May 14, last, he again sat in for a whirl at the seductive stud.

Pretty Nurse Slipper-Spanked at County Hospital.

Because the head nurse had spanked her with a slipper for an alleged infringement of discipline, Miss Bessie Hively, a handsome blonde girl nurse, left the County Hospital yesterday in high dudgeon.

It may lead to Miss Bessie's forever abandoning her life's ambition.

She had never planned to have the head nurse turn her up side down and apply a red-hot slipper in a violent manner.

It appears that the regular head nurse was not on duty at that time. The lady with the slipper was Miss Kelly, who was in temporary charge of the nurses' home.

Miss Kelly is hardly less beautiful than Miss Hively, but is a Spartan for stern study. Miss Kelly is not the young woman to dilly-dally with insurrection. Woe be to insurrection if Miss Kelly is handy with a slipper.

Miss Kelly says Miss Bessie wasn't doing her duty, and that it was only in fun anyhow.

Miss Bessie says, well, here are the facts, anyhow.

Scene: The nurses' home in the hospital grounds. Miss Bessie's boudoir. Miss Bessie slumbering sweetly at 6 a.m.

Dreadful hour—6 a.m.

The day nurses should be going on duty at 6 a.m.

Why does Miss Bessie still slumber? 6:07 a.m.

Comes a stern rap at Miss Bessie's door. No answer. Comes another S.R. at Miss Bessie's door.

Miss Bessie yawns and gets out of bed in her night robe. As the knock comes again, Miss Bessie says, "Yas-s. In a minute."

She goes sleepily to the door, rubbing the drowsiness from her eyes.

Just as she opens the door a crack, four girlish hands grab her by the night robe and—

There were two girls and two slippers.

Curtain!

Miss Kelly had drawn to her support another nurse, Miss Speers, who helped in the spanking.

The Comedy of the Slipper at the County Hospital—Disciplining a Nurse

The minute her tour was over yesterday, Miss Bessie came to town, haughty with offended dignity and tried to get a complaint in the police court. No complaint has been issued yet, however.

Miss Kelly said coldly: "Miss Hively is a spoiled child. She knows perfectly well this was but a joke. She is a little chump."

Miss Hopkins, the matron of the hospital laughed when asked for the official version of the fracas.

"I wasn't at the hospital at the time myself. Miss Kelly was in charge. So far as I can learn, it was just a bit of girlish fun and Miss Hively was foolish enough to take it too seriously. The nurses are supposed to go on duty at 6 o'clock and the girls say that Miss Hively was not up.

"I am afraid Miss Hively feels abused too easily."

PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Charter Revision Committee is striving to find some other method of choosing the permanent Board of Public Works than appointment by the Mayor, who is considered to have too great powers already.

The Civil Service Commission has decided to hold another examination for the position of license clerk for the City Clerk's office.

Mme. Giha, the handsome Syrian woman who was in court about six months ago, returned to this city to settle, but is again in court to seek protection from her husband.

Mrs. Minnie Unger is suing William Garland for damages for injuries received when run over by Mr. Garland's team.

In the Police Court yesterday Yancy A. Shrimp and his wife, under examination for grand larceny, were discharged.

AT THE CITY HALL.

NO MORE POWER FOR MAYOR.

ALREADY TOO GREAT, SAYS THE REVISION COMMITTEE.

Permanent Board of Public Works is to be Appointed from Some Other Source Than the Mayor in Order to Keep from Increasing His Authority.

At its meeting tomorrow night the Charter Revision Committee will discuss, among other things, the method of appointing the members of the permanent Board of Public Works.

There is a feeling among members of the committee that the appointment should not be made by the Mayor, as is the case with all or nearly all of the other commissions and committees of the city, with the exception of those which are constituted of Councilmen and are really a part of that body.

The Revision Committee maintains that the Mayor already has more than sufficient power, and that the Board of Public Works should not be amenable to him in any way. The committee holds that if the board is to be a success it must be completely removed from executive authority.

Just what method of appointment the committee will recommend has not yet been determined, but the whole matter will be thrashed out at tomorrow's meeting.

Another point in connection with the revision of the charter creating a permanent Board of Public Works, which will come up at this meeting, is in regard to who shall constitute the board.

City Engineer Harry F. Stafford believes the City Engineer should be an ex-officio member of the board. He maintains that in many cities where such a board exists, that the engineer is a member of the board. He also says that the board will of necessity be forced to obtain the engineer's advice on a great many of the subjects that will come before it, and he thinks it no more than right that he should be given a vote in the deliberations of the board.

It has also been suggested that the Street Superintendent be a member of the board.

There is some opposition to the appointment of either of these officials on the board.

Opponents of the scheme point out that the board should be a law unto itself, and should be free from political influences of every nature. Those who take this stand say that the City Engineer and the Street Superintendent will assist the board as far as possible even if they have no voice in its proceedings. It would be impossible for either official to give all of his time to the work of the board, as they have many other important duties to look after.

The committee is not progressing as rapidly with the work of revising the charter as it hoped, and some extra sessions may be necessary to complete the work in time for the general election next fall.

In order to submit the various propositions to the voters at that time it will be necessary to have the work entirely finished by the first of October.

It was the intention of the committee to have the draft of the amendment relating to the Board of Public Works ready before this, but there have been unavoidable delays which have made it impossible to get the work along as rapidly as was anticipated.

NEW EXAMINATION.
FOR LICENSE CLERK.

The Civil Service Commission will hold another examination for the position of license clerk in the City Clerk's office. This was decided at an executive session of the commissioners Tuesday night.

On July 9 an examination for this position was held and R. L. Farmer was declared to have the highest markings, and was appointed by the City Clerk. Since that time, and, in fact, for some weeks before, Farmer has been holding down that desk, having been appointed by Mr. Lelande as an emergency man before his appointment was made permanent.

Farmer's percentage was given out by the commission as 96.75.

C. W. McMasters, his nearest opponent, was credited with 97.80.

No sooner were the ratings of the commission announced than McMasters began casting about for means by which he could unseat Farmer.

He finally discovered that Farmer had misspelled two words, and upon this fact he presented a protest to the commission, asking that the appointment be made void, and that he be appointed to the position.

Two committees were appointed at different times to investigate the facts of the case.

On the report of the committee last appointed the commissioners decided to hold a new examination.

The committee, according to the scale of marking it adopted, found that McMasters had the best standing, and at one time the bringing in of a report favoring his appointment was seriously considered.

Finally, it was decided to throw out the former papers, and start all over again, and the new examination will be held September 10.

At the last examination a dozen or fifteen men took the test and eight passed.

The markings of four of these were remarkably close—so close, in fact, that according to the revised ratings of the commission their positions are shifted considerably.

All those who took part in the first examination will have a chance in the new test, and as many others as may desire.

At the City Hall yesterday there was considerable comment upon the action of the commission in recalling an appointment it had once made and certified to.

It was held that the commission should have been more careful in making the ratings of the papers submitted by the contestants, so that it would not have been placed in the embarrassing position of having to acknowledge that its work had been carelessly or incompletely performed.

McMasters was secretary of the commission during the absence of W. A. Spalding on his vacation last year. He was formerly a deputy in the City Clerk's office, but his duties were connected only in a general way with the license department.

City Clerk Harry J. Lelande said: "Farmer's work is in every way satisfactory; in fact, he is the most capable man I have ever had in the place. I think it would be hard to find a more competent man for the work in the city."

The position pays $100 a month.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

SAYS HUSBAND IS MENACE.

PARTED SYRIAN WIFE WANTS HIM UNDER BONDS.

Avers That He Threatened to Kill Her if She Did Not Relieve Him from Paying Alimony — William Garland is Sued for Alleged Reckless Driving and Bodily Injury.

"When the Assyrian by night came down on the fold"—he was ignominiously gathered in by a constable. There was nary a bit of poetry or romance about it.

But there is a strong smack of romance about the heroine who repelled the Assyrian, and who now proposes to have him placed under bonds to keep the peace. It was only about six months ago that Mme. Giha—she has a string of oriental names which are only used occasionally—paralyzed the attorneys in Judge Smith's court by the magnetic attractiveness of her person and the strange atmosphere of the orient that seemed to surround her. She had come all the way from Washington to recover her youngest boy from her divorced husband, and did succeed in getting possession of the lad under habeas corpus proceeding.

The glimpse that Mme. Giha got of Los Angeles enchanted her with it. The climate reminded her of her own home land of Syria, and as soon as she returned to the north she settled up her affairs and moved down here. About two months ago she established herself in one of the leading business blocks as an importer of laces and high class wares from the Mediterranean. But her ex-husband would not leave her alone. He came again and again to her office to try to persuade her to release him from payment of alimony under the order of the Washington court.

At the time the divorce was granted Mme. Giha was given the custody of the two boys, and the husband was ordered to pay $15 a month to aid in supporting them. But Giha, who is also a native of Syria, wanted to cut loose from this drain upon his income, and interfered with his wife's business by breaking in upon her at all times with the one parrot cry of release.

When he saw that madame had her mind made up, he tried threats, and, while at first these were not so alarming, on Tuesday evening he became so specific that she was frightened out of her wits and sought advice of the District Attorney.

"I'll kill you sure," is what Giha is alleged to have said, "and I'll wait and watch till I get you alone, but I'll kill you sure."

On the strength of these words Mr. Fleming issued a complaint for the arrest of Giha. He conducts a fruit and cigar stand, and is said to be doing a good business. Deputy Constable Adams made the arrest, and when the defendant was arraigned before Justice Young he pretended that he knew practically nothing that was said to him. He was arraigned, however, and held in $1000 bonds to appear for examination next Tuesday.

SUES WILLIAM GARLAND.
MRS. UNGER ASKS DAMAGES.

C. W. Unger and Mrs. Minnie Unger have begun suit against William Garland to recover $10,150 as damages for injuries sustained and liabilities contracted through the alleged carelessness of the defendant.

Mrs. Unger is the one who suffered, and it is set out that on March 15, while crossing Broadway from east to west, and after she had carefully looked around to see if any danger threatened, Mr. Garland approached "carelessly, recklessly and negligently" driving a team of horses attached to a buggy and knocked her down. The injuries that she then received are of such a nature that it is claimed that Mrs. Unger will never fully recover from them. Her skull was fractured, causing concussion of the brain, the muscles and flesh of the right arm between the shoulder and the elbow were badly torn, and internal injuries also worked damage.

For three weeks it is alleged that Mrs. Unger was kept to her bed, and during that time she incurred liabilities amounting to $150. For this amount, as well as for $10,000 damages, she asks judgment.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.
BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

BRADBURY ESTATE. The Bradbury Estate Company has brought suit against Simona Bradbury, and also Mrs. Minerva Polk and Mrs. Rosario Winston, her guardians, to quiet title to a large amount of property included in the old Bradbury estate.

MRS. SUMMERS SUED. George L. Arnold, as the assignee of Frank Kendall, has brought suit against the "Oil Queen" to recover $880, being the last payment alleged to be due on a $3000 purchase of oil property on College street.

NANCY ROGERS ESTATE. Alexander Henry Rogers has petitioned for probate of the will of his deceased wife, Nancy Rogers, who died on August 17. The total estate amounts to about $14,000, of which $11,250 is personal property.

CONTRACTOR INJURED.
NOW CLAIMS DAMAGES.

E. E. Brainard, a carpenter and contractor, has begun suit against the Pacific Electric Railway Company to recover $10,000 as damages for injuries alleged to have been received through the negligence of the defendant company's servants.

It is alleged that May 21 Brainard was a passenger on a car going from Fourth street to Avenue 32. Upon reaching his destination, and while standing on the step of the car, the car started again and Brainard avers that he was thrown violently to the ground.

FULL OF YEARS.
D. W. BRITTON'S ESTATE.

On Tuesday there passed away a resident of Alhambra, who though only recently established there, was regarded as one of the foremost spirits of the place. David W. Britton came from Wisconsin to Alhambra about four months ago, but was so enthusiastic over the climate and the locality that despite his 71 years, he threw himself into the turmoil of business life, and when he died it was felt that one of the most potent factors in the upbuilding of the suburban city had passed away.

Mr. Britton purchased a ranch which is valued at about $8000, and lived there with his wife. He then obtained a large city lot and improved it with a building and started up the second largest business enterprise in Alhambra, one that was a money-maker from the start.

For years Mr. Britton had been a sufferer from ulceration of the stomach, and though the California climate appeared to have almost cured the disease, it recently appeared in another guise, and he died.

Last evening the widow returned with the remains to Green Bay, Wis. Earlier in the day Judge Trask was asked to appoint as special administrator, Seth W. Champion, the nominee of the widow, and a stable citizen of the county.

The interests of the deceased are of such a nature as to require immediate and continuous attention, until the will is admitted to probate in the ordinary course. Altogether the estate will total about $40,000, but that part of it concerned under the present order of court is only about half the amount. The deceased left a son at Green Bay—a prosperous business man there—who was aided by his father some years ago, and relinquished all right to any inheritance; but notwithstanding that fact he has been remembered with a legacy. The bulk of the property, however, is left to the widow, who has one daughter by a first marriage.

LADY FRIEND'S LETTERS.
RISE AGAINST MRS. GILSEN.

Pending a determination of her divorce suit, Mrs. Florence L. Gilsen is to receive $75 a month from her husband, Oliver C. Gilsen, the real estate and insurance man of South Pasadena. Judge Trask made the order after hearing both parties.

From the evidence it appeared that the parties were married on August 20 of last year, and twenty-eight days later returned to Springfield, Ill., where Mrs. Gilsen's people lived. Mr. Gilsen had a twelve-year-old daughter by a first wife, and she also went East. On November 3 Mr. Gilsen left his wife.

Facts had come to the knowledge of Mr. Gilsen that made him suspect that his wife had imposed upon him, and that in reality she had been married before he ever met her. Through the good offices of a lady friend he had obtained possession of a packet of seventy-five letters, all in his wife's handwriting, and in all of which she spoke of her marriage to a man named King, and of her life and experiences with him.

When Gilsen sprung these letters upon his wife they acted the same as if a lighted match had been popped head first into a barrel of gunpowder. She sobbed and sighed and wept and cried, and did everything but make verbal reply. Then she ran at her husband and scratched his face, while her mother attempted a flank movement with a carving knife.

Mr. Gilsen took his little daughter and shook himself free of his wife altogether.

Last June a baby was born to Mrs. Gilsen at Springfield, Ill. While no extended testimony was elicited along this line, enough was drawn out to indicate clearly enough that Mr. Gilsen has his doubts as to the paternity of the little one, and something was said to the effect that the child came earlier in the year than June. But Mrs. Gilsen gave the names of two doctors, two women and her mother as having been present when her baby was born.

The wife claims that her husband is worth about $75,000, but the husband stated that he is worth only about $10,000, with liabilities that reduce that amount.

THINKS HE'S CRAZY.
BUT GOLDING IS MISTAKEN.

About two years ago Ernest Golding came to California from England. He is 26 years of age, and has made a living about restaurants in the winter and picked fruits in the summer. A week ago he was found in the river bed in a state of starvation, and apparently demented. Yesterday he was brought before Judge Trask and a commission in lunacy.

The few days passed in the hospital had wrought a beneficial change in Golding, though he still presented the same wan and cadaverous appearance as when first arrested. It developed that he was an inmate of the County Hospital several weeks ago suffering from typhoid fever. When convalescent he was removed from the fever to the medical ward, where the patients are not kept under surveillance. Seizing his opportunity, Golding walked away, and nothing more was known about him until he was returned as an insane patient.

Probably no harm would have resulted to the man had it not been that he was laboring under a strong suggestion given him while ill. The physician in attendance had then told him that he must not eat any solid food, and that to do so would mean great harm to him. That advice was all right while lying ill from typhoid fever, but when convalescing good nourishing food was essential, and yet Golding refused absolutely to eat any solid food whatever. He became reduced to a skeleton.

Being asked if he knew what he was in court for, Golding spoke in a rational way and said that he knew.

"Are you crazy?" inquired Dr. Cole.

"Well," answered the patient dubiously, "there is something the matter with me; I'm afraid I am."

"Why?"

"I hear voices, or at least I think I do, and they keep hollering that I am crazy."

The case appeared to be one of post-typhoid insanity, that will probably disappear as the patient gets stronger. Judge Oster, on the recommendation of the commission, continued the hearing for two weeks. By that time considerable improvement is anticipated.

MERELY AN INCIDENT.

I gave her a rose,
So young and so fair;
The flower she twined
In the coils of her hair.

The romance? That's all,
That act was its close;
In truth there was nothing

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

WIFE BEATER'S VICTIM ABED.

BRUTAL BUTCHER HELD PENDING RESULT OF INJURY.

Kicked in Side and Flayed With a Chair and Water Pitcher, Poor Woman May Die—Yancy Shrimp and His Wife Escape the Charge of Grand Larceny.

Another bold buccaneer—one of those fellows who can "lick any woman in town"—was arraigned before Justice Austin yesterday and charged with assault for beating his wife almost to death.

Tony Zilligan, almost a giant, an employé of the Sentous Packing Company, on Monday night met his wife in the hall at their lodgings, No. 341 North Main street, and first laid her out with a blow from his fist; he then picked up a chair and struck her on the head with that. Still not satisfied with what he had done, the brute grabbed a water pitcher and broke it over her head, cutting several ugly gashes.

A week prior to this he had inflicted a terrible injury on his wife by knocking her down and kicking her in the side, and from the effects of the combined beatings she has had, the woman is now bedfast and serious results are feared. The bruise on her side, from the kick Zilligan gave her a week ago, was lanced yesterday and discharged a large quantity of pus.

Owing to the inability of Mrs. Zilligan to appear, the case against the prisoner was postponed until next Monday, and he is held without bail.

SHRIMP'S ESCAPE.
INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE.

Yancy A. Shrimp and his wife, Mrs. B. M. Shrimp, have had a terrible lesson to teach them the folly of dishonorable dealing.

In Justice Austin's court yesterday the man and wife sat in the dock fondling their two small children, while outside the rail were Shrimp's sister and mother, and Mrs. Shrimp's sister, in addition to the other relatives that have been in attendance at the examination for grand larceny.

Deputy District Attorney Beebe recognized the weakness of the case against the Shrimps, in the fact that it was impossible to prove the sale of $50 worth of mortgaged property, necessary to maintain a grand larceny charge, owing to the fact that the sales had been made to people now in the East, nor could he prove that Shrimp had not given notice of his intention to sell the property, as the mortgagee is also now in the East.

Under these circumstances Mr. Beebe asked that the defendants be discharged, and that action on the part of Justice Austin was followed by a tearful and tender scene in the vestibule of the court. The defendants and their relatives fell upon each other's necks and wept, while the babies looked on and wondered.

A man named Westbrook of Shorb Station was present ready to prove that he had become the owner of a mortgaged incubator, valued at $12.50, for which he had traded a horse, and to swear that he had not been notified that the incubator was covered by the chattel mortgage, but that was only sufficient to sustain a charge of petty larceny, and it had not yet been determined whether such a charge would be filed or not.

Fearing that result, however, Shrimp called Westbrook to him after they had left the courtroom and asked that Westbrook give him a little time and he would either return to him the incubator or the horse. The doubtful value of the horse is indicated by the fact that Westbrook said he preferred the incubator, and he will probably wait a few days before prosecuting in order to give Shrimp a chance to make good.

While the Shrimps escaped conviction they had no mean punishment in the humiliation and publicity that has fallen to them through their duplicity.

COMING OF THE MAN-CHILD.

[Half of Russia's government prisoners are to be released in commemoration of the birth of an heir to the throne.]

"Now thanks be to God for the baby,
Whose coming declares we are free!"
Thus echoes the song from the dungeons,
Their gloominess turned into glee.
"Now thanks be to God for the baby—
A man-child who some day shall reign
O'er all of the peoples of Russia—
No more shall we curse or complain!"

"O, thanks be to God for the baby"—
The cry is as old as the world;
The glorious news that a man-child
Had into life's maelstrom been hurled
Was ever a cause of rejoicing,
Was ever a signal for praise.
We pray, at the birth of a man-child
"Vouchsafe to him fullness of days."

"O, thanks be to God for the baby"—
Thus crieth the home-loving heart
Whenever, wherever you find it—
In country or clamoring mart.
Wherever an innocent baby
(Whatever its sex or estate)
Comes, some are released from their bondage
Of selfishness, narrowness, hate.

"Now thanks be to God for the baby!"
Two thousand sun-circuits ago
This song echoed over Judea—
None sweeter rang ever, I trow.
For breaking of shackels and fetters
He came; so 'tis meet that they cry,
"Now thanks be to God for the baby
Sent lest in our bondage we die."

Sailors from the Prairies.

The recruiting service of the navy is getting plenty of desirable young men of American birth just now, especially from the West, and it is a singular fact that a western lad makes a good sailor, though he may never have seen salt water before he joined his ship or arrived at the training station. But the quality is in the blood of the race, and a few generations passed on the prairies does not eliminate it.—[New York Press.

LOVE LEAD THEE ON.

In dark or dawn,
Love lead thee on—
Sure to the goal
Where soul meets soul!
Through blinding tears
Of all the years—
Dreams—hopes and fears—
Love lead thee on!
Love lead thee on!

[AUTHORIZED ANNOUNCEMENT.]

SECURITY SAVINGS BANK

Occupies Its New Counting Rooms Today.

Fourth street is rapidly becoming the financial center of Los Angeles. The most recent acquisition to its banking circles is the above named institution, which has just moved into the handsome new quarters prepared for it in the Herman W. Hellman building, corner of Spring and Fourth streets. Less than three years ago there was not a banking house either on Fourth street or within a block of it, today there are four occupying banking rooms there, while the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank will occupy their new home very shortly, making a total of five. But the growth of the city and the expansion of its business and financial districts has been no more marked than that noticeable in the commercial and savings banks of Los Angeles; indeed, Los Angeles may be said to be especially fortunate in the character and stability of her banking institutions, and the manner in which they withstood the depression of '93 was the cause for much favorable comment throughout banking circles of the East. The Security Savings Bank, although but fifteen years old, enjoys the distinction of carrying the largest deposits upon its books of any savings bank south of San Francisco. Its history and growth is so closely allied to that of Los Angeles that it is familiar to all. Starting in a small way in 1889, the management were granted a most gratifying patronage from the start, and in 1896 quarters were secured for the increasing business, corner of Second and Main streets, at that time near the business center of the city. The policy of the management has always been progressive and as liberal as is consistent with conservative methods, and that it has won the confidence of the public may best be attested in the announcement that there are about 14,500 depositors doing business with the bank, giving a total of $7,200,000 worth of funds entrusted to the care of this venerable concern. The banking rooms into which they have moved are most handsomely appointed, every facility having been provided for the care and safety of the bank's affairs. Commodious vaults, for both the books and cash of the bank are provided, protected with the latest safety devices, while the safety deposit boxes for customers and patrons are of the most approved pattern. Two thousand are contained in the safety deposit vaults and are conveniently arranged for customers, giving both privacy and accessibility.

Possibly it is in the interior decorations that the visitor will be most impressed, for apparently expense was not considered when fitting this handsomely-appointed counting-room. Solid bronze grillwork of classical and artistic design and effect surmounts the counters and harmonizes admirably with the rich effect produced by the dark green marble bases and wainscoting. The ladies' department or waiting-room is partitioned off from the balance of the counting-room by a massive marble railing while the luxurious furnishings of the "reception room" will certainly appeal to the numerous customers of the bank of the gentler sex. Without exception the Security Savings Bank has one of the most artistically-designed and handsomely-furnished banking rooms, not only upon the Coast, but throughout the West, as well.

The officers and directors of the bank are among the most successful business, professional and financial men of Los Angeles. Mr. Joseph F. Sartori, the president, has been identified with the institution since its organization; while Vice-President M. S. Hellman has served an equal length of service. W. D. Longyear, the cashier, became connected with the bank in 1890, one year after its establishment.

[illegible]EADVILLE (Mass.) Aug. 24.—Ten [illegible]sand people saw Consuela S. win [illegible] Massachusetts Stake, the richest [illegible] on the harness turf this year, in [illegible] fiercely-contested heats today. [illegible] stake for trotters eligible to the [illegible] class last April was valued at [illegible]. Consuela S. was a second [illegible], and won the three final heats, [illegible] the first had been captured by [illegible] G. and the second had gone to [illegible] Strong, the favorite. Every con[illegible] for the big race was perfect. [illegible] Strong was an almost even favor[illegible] against the whole field of twelve [illegible].

[illegible] was generally conceded that [illegible] would win the 2:15 trotting [illegible] but the California mare Tuna [illegible] first place. Summary:

[illegible] class, trot, purse $1000, heats [illegible]: Tuna won the first and third [illegible] in 2:09½, 2:11¼; Aristo won the [illegible] heat in 2:09¾. Little Baron, [illegible], Graydon, Millard Saunders, [illegible] S., Louvain and Free Silver [illegible] started.

OFF DAY FOR JOCKEYS.

TWO DUMPED AT CHICAGO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—In the first race at Hawthorne today Allie Virgie threw Jockey Larsen just as the race commenced, but continued along with the field just as though she was in the race. Loud cheers from the grand stand urged her on, as she came down the stretch, and she passed the other horses one by one, going first under the wire by a neck. The race was, of course, decided without reference to her.

In the second race Jockey Monahan was thrown under the feet of the horses that were following his mount, Evander, and was kicked along the track for thirty feet. He was senseless when picked up, but was not seriously injured. Summary:

Seven furlongs: Cyprienne won, Charlie Miller second, Fair Allen third; time 1:30.

Steeplechase, short course: Nitrate won, Allegiance second, Dominique You third; time 2:50.

Five and a half furlongs: Lord Dixon won, Capt. Neroth second, St. Denis third; time 1:09 4-5.

Six furlongs: Golden Mineral won, Julia M. second, My Alice third; time 1:15.

Mile and a sixteenth: Exclamation won, Apple second, Farmer Jim third; time 1:49 1-5.

One mile: Emperor of India won, Dalvay second, Foncasta third; time 1:41 2-5.

RACING SATURDAY.

BARGES AT PLAYA DEL REY.

The big eight-oar barge race at Playa del Rey next Saturday afternoon is exciting considerable interest among the yachtsmen and boat owners in general for it will really mark the opening of barge racing in this end of the State. Playa del Rey has been chosen because it offers the only suitable stretch of smooth water close to Los Angeles. The contestants will be the Sherman Boat Club crew and the Fraser crew of Ocean Park, on a bet of $300 to $250 and a $50 banquet, in addition to several smaller wagers.

The race promises to be hotly-contested, for, in addition to the bet, there is considerable personal rivalry between the members of the teams. The race will be from a stake boat two miles down the lagoon to another stake boat at the Playa del Rey end of the lagoon. The second heat will be back to the starting stake boat, and if a third heat is necessary it will end at Playa del Rey. The colors of the Fraser crew will be white and purple and white and blue for the Sherman crew.

The Sherman crew will consist of the following oarsmen: F. A. Jennings, bow; C. M. Knowles, forward midship; William McNeary, after midship; H. H. Lee, captain, stroke; Edward Crutchfield, port stroke; V. Cahoon, port midship; Thomas Hyland, coxswain; M. Walsh, midship; William Nottey, port bow.

JEFFRIES-MUNROE CONTEST.

INTEREST IS INCREASING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Interest in the Jeffries-Munroe contest for the heavyweight championship is rapidly increasing as the date of the fight approaches. The indications are that the attendance will exceed expectations, many seats having been reserved for persons outside of the State.

As yet the betting has not been heavy, the adherents of neither pugilist seeming to fancy the prevailing odds of 100 to 35 in favor of Jeffries. Many small bets have been made on the number of rounds, with the tenth as the usual objective point. The odds are that Jeffries will not win inside of that limit. Some good judges think that 10 to 3 will be the ringside figure on the fight.

Munroe has finished his hard work, and will indulge only in light practice until the contest. He is in excellent condition. Jeffries will continue his exercise today, but is feeling fit, and probably will take things easy tomorrow and Friday. He tips the scale at 225 pounds, or twenty-five pounds less than when he began training.

Referee Graney will confer with both pugilists tonight regarding the manner in which the Queensberry rules shall be interpreted.

HOW THEY'LL FIGHT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—At a conference tonight between Jeffries and Munroe's representatives and Referee Graney, it was decided to fight Queensberry rules, with the added stipulation that they must protect themselves in the clinches and breakaways. Of the recent battles for the heavyweight championship that have been held in San Francisco, this will be the first that has been conducted under those stipulations. Instead of being compelled to break clean and get set after each clinch, the two giants will be allowed to pummel each other in clinch and breakaway. They will fight, in other words, the same sort of a battle that the little fellows do, and that is the most popular with San Francisco lovers of the game. The decision creates the favorable comment of the fight fans.

RETURN MATCH IS DISCUSSED.

GENERAL SATISFACTION WITH SULLIVAN'S WORK.

In Case McCoy Takes Water on His Offer to Box the Winner, Twin and Barry Will be Seen Again in a Local Engagement—Solomon and Montana Anxious.

A general demand from sports all along the Rialto yesterday moved Tom McCarey to the announcement that in case Kid McCoy takes water on his offer to box the winner of Tuesday night's mill, Twin Sullivan and Dave Barry will be matched over for a September date.

The knocker crop is usually a branch-breaker the day following one of McCarey's "entertainments," but for once the hammer was buried and ring fans joined everywhere in praises of Sullivan's clean, workmanlike style. Although on the form of the men as shown night before last, Barry has about as much chance as a toothless bulldog, his gameness appealed greatly to those who saw the affair. McCoy would be a far better opponent for Sullivan; the Hoosier lad has shown much the same qualities as a boxer and a punisher, so no man could accuse the match of being one-sided, or a foregone conclusion.

Picking a winner between Sullivan and McCoy would not be easy. Those who at first glance would choose the latter should remember that Sullivan Tuesday night was at no time extended to his limit, and fought a far different battle than he would have attempted against a man of McCoy's cleverness. If the weights were equal, McCoy might perhaps be a 10-to-9 favorite, but should not stand at greater advantage in the betting than that figure and would probably be more logically priced at even money.

Aleck Greggains on Tuesday night after the defeat of his man, offered to bet any part of $1000 that Barry could beat Sullivan in another trial, and later on made the same talk in Tim McGrath's presence. The fat trainer had his check book out in a minute, but Greggains wanted to make it $5000 in a finish fight, which is a thing the authorities do not stand for in California, and is therefore out of the question. Greggains knows Barry had never a chance, but like most managers, he hates to admit he climbed aboard of a dead one.

Sullivan, Tim McGrath and the rest of his retinue departed yesterday for San Francisco on a morning train. Barry and Joe Cohen, his manager, made their escape on the Owl, together with Greggains. The house was not quite what Sullivan had expected.

Kid Solomon thinks he can beat the Montana Kid in another try and as Montana hasn't changed his opinion in the least, a second ten-round duel de swat between the two is an assured fact. Should Tom McCarey decide upon three ten-round goes for his next card, the boys will probably open the evening. Harry Foley vs. Jim Tremble, and Mike McClure against some San Franciscan of his class will probably be the selections in case the three tens are decided upon.

Tommy West, the New York middleweight, who on two different occasions made Joe Walcott jump out of the ring, arrived in San Francisco yesterday to see the big fight and wired Manager McCarey, stating he was willing to take on Twin Sullivan or anybody in his class while on the Coast. West is pretty heavy for Twin, having seven or eight pounds the best of the Bostonian. Then, too, Sullivan is anxious to get another whack at Jack O'Brien. If he meets and beats Kid McCoy he will not ask for it in vain.

The Herrera-Nelson fight is all off. McCarey sent a rather caustic letter to Teddy Murphy, manager of Nelson, telling him a few truths relative to observance of one's word, and now the pair may battle in Butte or a hotter place for all the local magnate cares.

KAISER AWAITS THE NEWS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Emperor William, before formally renewing his offer of a cup to be competed for in a trans-Atlantic yacht race, awaits the conclusion of the correspondence now proceeding between his representative and the New York Yacht Club respecting the rules that shall govern the contest. Some points of difference remain to be settled, but it seems likely that a full agreement will be reached by September 30.

WARD TENNIS CHAMPION.

HE DEFEATS W. J. CLOTHIER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEWPORT (R. I.) Aug. 24.—Holcombe Ward today won the national tennis championship from William J. Clothier, who yesterday defeated former Champion William A. Larned. Ward took the first set, 10-8, the second, 6-4, and the third, 9-7.

SECOND TIME WALK-AWAY.

No Third Contest for the Lipton Trophy.

Yacht Detroit of San Diego Outruns Them All.

South Coast Club Decides Not to Protest.

BY CAPT. DOUGLAS WHITE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The second day's race for the Lipton cup produced a result which could be easily foreseen. The Detroit simply ran away from her competitors and drove another nail in the holding which the San Diegans had placed on the Irish baronet's trophy.

The final result is a settled fact. The South Coast Club yachtsmen, after figuring on protest over the Detroit's victory of yesterday, have withdrawn their opposition, and waived a chance to become part of another yachting procession. The consequence is that there will be no third race, and Lipton's handsome gift stays in San Diego until such time as some ambitious club shall construct a freak of sufficient sailing qualities to outrun the Detroit, or the racing rules are changed to bar all save cruising craft.

The San Diegans failed in their race of yesterday to carry on the Detroit the colors of the packet's owner, and for a few minutes the Los Angeles yachtsmen figured on the possibility of entering a protest over this omission. Sober second thought caused them to see the fallacy of a protest on these grounds, although the rules call for the flying of such a flag on all contesting racers.

After the race today it was decided that a protest would be productive of more worry in going over the course again behind San Diego's importation, and the protest was withdrawn. It was also decided that further effort would be a waste of time, and the third race of the series has been abandoned, leaving the cup in the possession of the San Diego Yacht Club until a craft of equally freakish design shall enter the lists against San Diego's flyer.

FREAK IS NEEDED.

At the present time but two such craft exist in Pacific waters, these being the champions of the San Francisco and the Corinthian Yacht clubs of San Francisco. The San Francisco club's freak, known as the Challenger, performed the same service in San Francisco Bay as did the Detroit yesterday. It took the Corinthians two years to recover from their surprise, and then they entered the lists with a craft of even more freakish nature than is the Detroit. Whether either of these craft will ever be brought to San Diego as a competitor against the Detroit is a question, and a possible contest under present rules means a visit from one of these boats, or the construction in the South of an equally wonderful racing craft, should the present rules be maintained. In any event, the San Diegans have succeded in not only securing from the Belfast yachtsman a most beautiful trophy, but have further brought to Pacific waters a racing machine which will for some time keep the trophy on San Diego Bay.

There was little of excitement in today's contest, as the San Diegans either made the cruise to the course with a quiet understanding that they were to witness a foresettled victory, or lined the shore at Coronado to witness the start, and then retired to await a statement of the result.

FELLOWS' REDEMPTION.

Joe Fellows to some extent redeemed the whalloping given him yesterday by Wedgwood with the Marie. Certainly the Marie was not as well sailed today as in the first race, while Fellows maintained that same steadiness which is always a feature of his seamanship. One brilliant little feature came as a finish to the event, when the Venus succeeded in rounding the final stake-boat but one second ahead of the Marie, and that, too, when she had been figured entirely out of the going.

In the long reach to windwardt oward the finish all boats save the Venus had held a course well out to sea. When the Detroit and her next followers approached the line the Venus was far inshore, seemingly creeping out toward the mark.

Around the stake boat swept the San Diegan, followed in sixteen minutes and forty-four seconds by the Fellows boat. This left the Marie and Venus still to finish, with the latter headed well up toward the final mark, and the Venus well off toward Coronado, and seemingly out of it entirely. Attention centered on the Marie and the Venus was overlooked, but Pease seemed to know what he was after ,for, catching a favorable slant breeze, he crowded the Venus into an inner position, and jamming his tiller hard over while Fritz Whitney made a quick shift of the Venus's jib sheets, he brought the Venus around the final mark just an even second ahead f the Wedgwood boat, thus by a clever bit of jockeying securing for the former champion a third place in today's race.

WINNER OPENS GAP.

Other than this, there was little to mend in the sailing of either of the contesting craft. An early attempt was made to blanket the Detroit in the first leeward run, but her speed was such that she opened a gap through which she was given plenty of blow, and once around the first mark she reached off in an independent course, leaving her competitors to take care of themselves.

In reality there was a-plenty of careless work by all hands. Several good points were lost sight of, and aboard all of the contestants there seemed to be that listlessness preceding an unquestioned result. In spite of this there was a pretty bit of sailing, even though devoid of exciting features. The following is the time:

Start—Venus, 1:30:39; Detroit, 1:30:39; Mischief, 1:31:13; Marie 1:32.

Finish—Elapsed time, Detroit, 2h. 55m. 21s.; Mischief, 3h. 11m. 31s.; Marie, 3h. 17m. 32s.; Venus, 3 h. 1m. 52s.

With the waiving of the third contest this settles the question of Sir Thomas Lipton's trophy for a year at least, and San Diego will not suffer the regret of seeing the big silver cup which she secured from the enthusiastic yachtsman depart to find a resting place in some far-away clubhouse, for twelve months to come.

The sailing of freak yachts is by this event established both at the northern and southern ends of the State, and California designers have now an opportunity to study the points of their eastern fellow-yachtsmen and develop some still more decided speed-producing lines and qualities.

FORT RILEY SHOOT.

NEW YORK GUARD WINS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

FORT RILEY (Kan.) Aug. 24.—The first event of the national rifle competition, the national team match, closed this evening with the New York National Guard team having the highest score for the three-days' shooting. The four service teams followed, with the navy team in second place, army infantry third, army cavalry fourth and marine corps fifth. The District of Columbia National Guard team was sixth. Following are the scores of the six highest teams for the three days' shooting: New York, 4322; navy, 4294; army infantry, 4250; army cavalry, 4158; marine corps, 4078; District of Columbia, 3994.

The New York team will receive the first prize, the national trophy, and $500 cash; the navy team will receive second prize, the Hilton trophy, presented by the late Henry Hilton of New York, and $300 cash; the army infantry team, third, will receive the bronze "Soldier of Marathon," presented by the commander-in-chief on behalf of the State of New York, and $200 cash. The army cavalry team will receive $150; the marines $100 and the District of Columbia $50.

Each member of the six winning teams will receive medals. Each of the trophies will be competed for annually.

TENTH ASTORIA REGATTA.

BRITISH COLUMBIANS DO WELL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ASTORIA (Or.) Aug. 24.—The tenth annual Astoria regatta commenced here today. The principal event of the morning was a four-oared shell race between Portland and Vancouver crews. The British Columbians won by three lengths. In the single sculls event, Shearer of Vancouver won handily from Waitt of Vancouver and McCabe of Portland.

A cutter race between the crews of the lighthouse tenders Manzanita and Heather resulted in a victory for the Heather crew, after a hotly-contested race.

The motor race was won by John E. Wolff, who defeated O. P. Graham.

The feature of the afternoon programme was the close finish in the free-for-all yacht race. There were nine entries, and Skylark won, defeating the Gadfly by the narrow margin of half a second. The Wizard finished third. Bond of Vancouver proved an easy winner over Kirkley of Portland in the single-canoe event, taking three straight heats.

Tonight, the regatta ball was held. The pavilion was handsomely decorated, and an immense crowd attended, including the Governor and his staff and the admiral of the regatta and his staff.

Vendome's Full Garage.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 24.—The Hotel Vendome garage is filled with automobile racing machines, the occasion being the first stop of the bay participants in the Del Monte meet en route to the race grounds. A number came yesterday, more this morning, and still others will arrive this afternoon.

The weather was sultry; track fast, and attendance good.

BASEBALL WAR.

MORLEY WILL DISCUSS IT.

Baseball Magnate J. F. Morley went to San Francisco yesterday afternoon on "business" supposed to be private, but it is presumed that it concerns the question as to whether or not the Coast League will remain a member of the baseball trust.

The chances are strongly in favor of the Coast League drawing out of the trust, as hinted at in The Times last Sunday, on the ground that it has gained nothing and lost everything by becoming a party to any agreement. Mr. Morley has various business interests in San Francisco, but probably none of so much importance to the fans of the Coast as the possible rupture in the baseball situation. It is a foregone conclusion that the Coast League will be forced to jump the trust for its own salvation and Morley's visit to San Francisco at this time certainly has much to do with baseball, now that Henry Harris has troubles of his own over Joe Corbett.

BLACK HAD ENOUGH.

GERMANS SOON TO RETURN.

John Hauerwaas, president of the Schuetzen Park Association, and Members Claude Black, Henry Pfirrmann and Chris Krempel have punctuated the blank silence that has enveloped their whereabouts by a telegram advising local friends that they leave for this side on one of the Hamburg-American steamers, which sails September 2. The party will come right through to Los Angeles. Their original intention was to return just in time for the duck season, but home, sweet home proved more of a drawing card than the Fatherland, hence the change.

Reliable reports received from time to time by special messenger indicate that Black, "the Yanke in Germany," has ben led a dog's life by the three sturdy Teutons who are piloting him around the old country. Black has been nearly drowned twice a day; has been made the victim of all manner of ponderous practical jokes, arrested for all sorts of phony offenses and made generally to see that a pilgrimage to Germany is a frost for a Yankee. Black, however, is game, and thus far not a squeal has emanated from the "Apache Kid," notwithstanding the severity with which Chiefs "Sitting Bull," née Hauerwaas; "Red Cloud," née Krempel, and "Heap Sleep," née Pfirrmann, have hazed him.

Thus far it has been a great trip—for the chiefs.

CALEY WILL PLAY FOOTBALL.

One of the Famous Brothers for U. S. C.

University Will Have Strong Team This Year.

No More Athletic Money to Come from Chapel.

Although the football season will not begin for several months yet, the colleges are sitting up and taking notice of events andare calculating on the material they will have when the kicking season opens. All of the big colleges will go in strong for football this year.

Everyone conversant with the situation is of the opinion that U.S.C. will put out a team equal if not superior to any the college has ever had. It will be a "young men's" team, for the average age of the players will not be over 21 years; but on the other hand it will be an "old" team as far as playing together is concerned, as the big majority of this year's men fere on the team last year and will go into the contests this year with the benefit of team experience.

Athletics have taken on a new lease of life at the U.S.C. since that endowment of $200,000 has made anything possible. It is undoubtedly a fact that the possibilities in this line have done much to induce various men to return to U.S.C. the coming winter.

From the best of information obtainable the members of last year's football team who will return to the university are Bickford, Runyon, Wheatley, Miller, Dougherty, Mitchell and Lennox. There is one other man whose name will possibly cause a commotion and many flutterings of the human heart out at Pomona College and this man it E. Caley, who, while possibly not a "professional" is a brother of one, and it is barely possible that Pomona may remember her past pouting fits and object to E. Caley.

The new team has not yet officially been mentioned, but according to what can be learned on the outside, it will be made up about as follows, with the old and new positions of the men:

Bickford, weight 170, old center, new tackle; Wheatley, 195, old full, new guard; Runyon, 175, old guard, new guard; Miller, 190, old tackle, new tackle; "Unknown," 225, new full; Dougherty, 160, old end, new end; Mitchell, 145, old quarter, new end; Henry, 160, new quarter.

Henry is a new man from the High School and is one of the best players in this end of the State, while the "Unknown" is an eastern college man who is 6 feet 6 inches tall. Then there are E. Caley and Lennox, but just where they will be played is not known. Lennox tried for quarterback on last year's team, but was beaten for that place by Mitchell. Caley played right guard, but a suitable place can easily be found for the man who made a 107-yard run for U.S.C. the last time the team played against Pomona. In addition to this line-up there will be plenty of young men to pick from as is stated on the best authority that there will be six or seven in the freshman class who can play strong football.

Athletics will have a higher place in U.S.C. the coming year than ever. Heretofore the athletic managers have been forced to go into the chapel meetings and almost beg for money to keep the sports going, but this year there will not be any collections made in the chapel. Hereafter every student, male and female, will be required to do some athletic work and each one attending the university will be required to give up $4 each semester for athletics.

The new gym is completed and $1000 worth of new apparatus will be put in at the beginning of the football season. The gym has 208 lockers and these will probably be enough for the present.

Irvington Results.

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 24.—Four and a half furlongs, selling: Racivo won, Caroburn second, Virginia Boy third; time 0:56½.

Five furlongs, selling: Urbano won, Hipponax second, Estado third; time 1:02¼.

Five furlongs, Juvenile Handicap, purse $400: George P. McNear won, Hooligan second, Mabel Bates third; time 1:02½.

Autos at Del Monte.

DEL MONTE, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Everything here is in fine shape, and the track is very fast. Garbutt made a mile today in 1:07 in the trial spin; and Pope of Toledo in 1:08. The weather was fine, and a big attendance is assured.

Want to go to Panama.

A government official told me this morning at the Fifth Avenue Hotel that applications for positions at Panama were pouring in to the commission at the rate of 1000 per week. Many of them come from young women who crave appointments as stenographers and typewriters. Not one applicant out of a thousand appears to comprehend the tropical dangers of the locality. "People should understand," said he, "that the sanitary problems at Colon, Panama, and along the route are entirely different from those presented at Havana or Santiago. Yellow fever was stamped out at the latter place because the environment was small, the agents were disciplined and the causes of the epidemic were known and located. But the strip of land through which the canal will run is largely a morass; the fever has existed there for centuries, the class of laborers will naturally be of the lowest intelligence—indifferent to sanitary restrictions and liable to drink from the filthiest pools. With the best possible management the death rate is sure to be high. Dynamite and other explosives that will be largely employed will increase it. Therefore, I'd say to any young man who can make a living at home to keep away from the canal belt for ten years at least." That sounds like good advice.—[New York Correspondence Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Watch Calls the Hours.

A new Swiss watch contains a tiny hard rubber phonograph plate which calls out the hours loud enough to be heard twenty feet away. Sentiment can be added by having the words recorded on the plate in the tones of a dear friend—as those of a man's wife or children.—[Boston Herald.

OWNS UP.

He bought $50 worth of chips to begin with, and lost the stack quickly. He borrowed other stacks from Holborow and Steele alternately, $50 or $100 worth each time. He lost steadily. Finally, as the hours wore on, the players narrowed down to three—Steele, Holborow and Thomason, City Treasurer Vogel, of Santa Monica, having quit, a loser by $105, and a Los Angeles man named Winston having dragged out after losing an even $100.

The three played on a while longer, then Thomason announced that he was through. He asked how much be owed. His opponents counted up. Steele held the rancher's I-O-U's for $200, and Holborow held the rancher's due bills for $550. Total, $750. This, added to the original $50 that Thomason had expended for chips and the $205 droped by Vogel and Winston, gave Steele and Holborow a clear winning of $1000 for the night's work. Thomason said he couldn't pay the whole $750 that night for fear of overdrawing his bank account, but he gave Holborow a check for $275 and Steele a check for $150, promising to pay each the balance within a short time. He later paid Holborow $275 and Steele $25, leaving him debtor to Steele in the sum of $25.

It would be interesting to know how the rancher's suspicions were first aroused and when. It is supposed it was during this game, for while sitting in he managed to abstract and drop into his pocket several of the cards that he alleges were marked. These are to be produced in the trial of Steele. Men who have inspected them describe them as follows:

THE MARKED CARDS.

They are of the "Bicycle" variety, the backs being ornamented with pictures of bicycles in red ink. The "marking" consisted of small pen lines drawn in coresponding red ink inside the bicycle frames. A false line in the frame connecting the saddle spring and steering-head, for instance, indicated that the card was a king, a duplicated false line, that the card was a queen, and so on through the suits, the pen-line marks being, of course, indistinguishable to the innocent and unsuspecting dupe, while readily discernible across the table to the conspirators. All the cards were marked except the deuces, trays and aces, the former two of each suit being thrown out of the deck; so whenever a conspirator saw in an opponent's hand a card whose back bore no pen lines, he knew at once it was an ace. Reading the marks on the backs of the other cards in that hand, he saw just what the opponent held, and, consequently knew how to bet his own hand so that he must win the dupe's money.

STEELE DENIES.

Steele, seen yesterday afternoon by a Times man, refused to discuss the case, beyond reiterating his denial of using marked cards. He said he would be on hand at the time for trial. He said Thomason and City Treasurer Vogel had been accounted winners in the series of poker games, and repeated the statement that the former had tried to blackmail him. "I pay my honest debts," said Steele.

J. G. Holborow was also seen. He sank into a chair with a deep sigh, passed his hand wearily over his face, and declared he "had been pulled and hauled so much that he was sick to death of the whole thing and didn't much care how it came out." He ventured the statement, however, that the arrest of Steele was "a mistake," and that "somebody" would find that out.

It is stated in Ocean Park that pressure of large proportions has been brought on G. M. Jones and his business partner, A. R. Fraser, to have the prosecution of Steele dropped.

A Night for Mayors.

Jack Taylor was a prominent figure in Tombstone society lately. Four Mayors were in line at the billiard parlors at one time recently, to-wit: Jack Taylor, Mayor of Bisbee; A. Wentworth, Mayor of Tombstone; Charley Strong, Mayor of Lowell, and "Mescal," Mayor of Don Luis. The unmistakable terms in which Mayor Taylor declared himself for law and order in Bisbee meets with universal approval.—[Tombstone Prospector.

BUSINESS.

The stock market at New York showed a general tendency to higher prices. Trading was dull and narrow, however, and largely professional. An almost total absence of "scare" news influenced the selling in the Chicago wheat pit, September closing at 1.03⅝ and December at 1.04⅝.

A HOPEFUL INDICATION.

In a recent article The Times noted with gratification the fact that the labor planks of both the great political parties, this year, are more outspoken than ever before in favor of industrial freedom and the protection of the legal rights of all men. This freedom of expression on a subject heretofore ignored or touched upon very gingerly by political parties and candidates is an indication, as we have said, of an improved and improving public sentiment presaging the final extinction of industrial tyranny.

But a more hopeful sign, perhaps, than the outspokenness of the platforms is the outspokenness of the candidates. Formerly, one of the most uncommon things in the world was a political candidate who had the courage to speak out in denunciation of union tyranny and wrong. True, the candidates who had the courage thus to speak out seldom lost any votes by so doing, while they gained immeasurably in the respect of their fellow-men. But the bogie-man of labor unionism was sufficient to strike terror to the souls of politicians, great and small, until the discovery was made that this same bogie-man was harmless when defied, and dangerous only when feared and yielded to. This discovery was not difficult. It lay obvious and conspicuous upon the surface of things; but those who ought to have made the discovery first were the last to make it, and some of them are so stupid that they have not made it yet. In due course of time all politicians will perceive the truth, and then the bogie-man will be dead.

Of course our own candidate for President—the peerless and fearless Roosevelt, who is straightforward and honest in all things—has faced the industrial question with courage and firmness. It was not expected that he would do otherwise. His stand in favor of the open shop in the Government Printing Office was based on unchallengeable right, and it met the approval of the entire country. This incident, in itself, served to brace up the spinal columns of a great many weak and wavering politicians, who had hardly dared, before, to say their souls were their own. In his recent speech of acknowledgment before the Notification Committee the President said:

"We recognize the organization of capital and the organization of labor as natural outcomes of our industrial system. Each is to be granted the full protection of the law, and each in turn is to be held to a strict obedience to the law, for no man is above it and no man below it. The problems with which we have to deal in our modern industrial and social life are manifold, but the spirit in which it is necessary to approach their solution is simply the spirit of honesty, courage and of common sense."

This is precisely such language as was to have been expected from Theodore Roosevelt under the circumstances. But it was hardly to have been expected that Judge Parker would so far depart from Democratic traditions as to say to the Notification Committee, referring principally to the deplorable state of affairs in Colorado:

"In a struggle between employers and employés, dynamite is said to have been employed by the latter, resulting in loss of life and destruction of property. The perpetrators of this offense against the laws of God and man should, after due trial and conviction, have had meted out to them the most rigorous punishment known to the law. This crime, added perhaps to others, led to the formation of a committee of citizens that, with the support of the military authority, deports from the State without trial persons suspected of belonging to the organization of which the perpetrators of the dynamite outrage were supposed to be members. In both cases the reign of law gave way to the reign of force."

Judge Parker is to be given credit for the utterance of these plain truths in a plain and unequivocal manner. As coming from a Democratic politician somewhat noted for his reticence on important public questions, they are all the more remarkable. Taken in conjunction with the rather outspoken industrial plank of the national Democratic platform, they cannot be construed otherwise than as indicative of some radical changes of public sentiment on the industrial question. These changes of sentiment must necessarily have preceded the utterances of politicians of the Parker school, for such politicians follow public sentiment, never lead it.

REPUDIATES KOCH THEORY.

The duality of human and bovine tuberculosis was proclaimed by Dr. Koch at the tuberculosis conference in London in 1901. Koch's theory aroused profound interest throughout the world, for in many countries large sums of money are spent annually in beef and dairy inspection to prevent, if possible, the infection of human beings with tuberculosis through meat and dairy products. Prior to 1901 it was a generally-accepted theory that man could be directly infected by the tuberculosis of animals.

Dr. Koch's theory was not unqualifiedly indorsed, either at the London conference or the Berlin congress, and experiments to determine the relationship between animal and human tuberculosis were continued.

Recently the British Royal Commission published an exhaustive report on its investigations and experiments in this direction. The conclusion was reached that the Koch theory of duality is in error, that human tuberculosis cannot be distinguished from the animal form of the malady, and, by inference, that man can be directly infected by the latter.

In the absence of positive and convincing proof of the soundness of the duality theory, and in the light of the findings of the British Commission, it is obvious that the vigilance exercised in America and in other countries to prevent the marketing and consumption of infected foods must be continued.

A TYPICAL PRIZE FIGHTER.

"I drink when I have occasion, and sometimes when I have no occasion," said Don Quixote de la Mancha. It is much the same way with old John L. Sullivan, once the "champion of the champions," king of the prize fighters and the plug uglies. He was drunk in Boston not long ago, but through what occasion it has not been stated. It is clear, however, that he was not very drunk, because it required but two policemen to take him to the jail, and it usually requires the whole force and a part of the reserves to do that when John L. is properly filled with what the Pennsylvania Dutchman called "buc-juice." But let that pass; the event was of such importance that the details were telegraphed to the leading newspapers all over the country. Doubtless word of the affair traveled as far as Europe, also, and may have reached the ears of Mr. Sullivan's old-time friend, Edward VII, King of Great Britain, Ireland (to some extent,) the Isles of the Seas and Emperor of India.

They are a bad lot, these prize fighters, and John L. contributed his full share toward the gayety of nations in the days of his glory, and occasionally does so still when he is forced by circumstances to keep sober. He claims to have made the prize ring respectable, which utterance is, in itself, a bon mot worthy of Charles Lamb, and he is credited with many other equally original and entertaining epigrams. He made money fast and easy, threw it away with the same celerity and good will, and broke more noses in the meantime than any man in his line since the days of Finn MacCool.

Mr. Sullivan's efforts to conquer the foe that faces him now, it all too painfully appears, seem to be in vain. A few more left hooks from John Barleycorn and the prince of pugs will be down and out. The count will be taken, the gong will sound, but he will not answer when they call "time." His seconds will throw the sponge in the ring and there will be "nothin' doin'" for John L.

THE RAILROADS IN POLITICS.

A circular has been received, reproducing an address delivered by E. H. Harriman, the president of the Southern Pacific Company, at the opening of the Illinois Exposition, at St. Louis, on the 30th of April last. Among other things, Mr. Harriman touched on the artistic and industrial development of this country, and the part which the transportation companies have played in aiding such development. This, again, he declared had been rendered possible only by the combination of short lines into great systems, under one management or control, and this, in turn, was possible only by the combination of capital. He admitted that the combination of different railways should be regulated by law, but declared that, in so far as the law obstructs such combinations, without public benefit, it is unwise and prejudicial to the public interest. Continuing, President Harriman said:

"Anyone familiar with this subject knows that the public interests have been best subserved, so far as the States are concerned, where legislation has been upon enlightened and reasonable lines, and not where it has been radical or hostile. I do not deny that such unfriendly and obstructive legislation may have been in part caused by unwise and arbitrary acts of railway managers, but the evolution of experience has largely removed the conditions which produced a conflict between the State and railway interests, and the time has certainly come when the State should no longer unnecessarily burden or obstruct these interests, but should coöperate in improving the conditions of transportation, with the result that the service can and will be improved."

In this connection, The Times wishes to call the attention of Mr. Harriman to the fact that the "unfriendly and obstructive legislation" to which he refers has been largely induced by the unwise policy of great railroad corporations—of which his own is a striking example—in projecting themselves into the field of politics, and seeking, through machines built up for the purpose, to defeat the will of the people and elect to office men who can be depended upon to act as servile tools of the corporation. It is true that mercenary men are always to be found who bring in "cinch bills" in a Legislature, for the sake of bleeding wealthy corporations, but had the Southern Pacific Company, from the beginning, gone into partnership with the people of California—who were so well disposed toward them and so exceedingly liberal toward them at the start—instead of charging "all the traffic will bear," and obtaining power to do so by the election of corrupt officials, the company could have relied upon the right-thinking majority of citizens to defeat the schemes of these self-seeking schemers.

In the midst of wars and rumors of wars, the movements of the powers on the political chess board, and all the busy clatter of these restless times, the world still takes time each morning to turn to the bedside of George Frisbee Hoar, who lies ill unto death in his Massachusetts home. He is one of the last of the great Americans who have come down to us from another generation, and his name is a part of his country's glory. A prayer should go up from the hearts of all his countrymen that divine providence may yet spare the Grand Old Man of New England.

Los Angeles regrets to lose Father Victor, the gentle-souled Franciscan priest who has so long and so well labored here for the salvation of souls. He was beloved by his flock, trusted by his superiors and most highly regarded by the public generally as a good neighbor and a loyal citizen. May good fortune attend him in his new field of endeavor.

Mr. "Twin" Sullivan appears to have the proper qualifications and may now select a house and lot for himself anywhere within the corporate limits of Los Angeles or on the abutting suburbs. What with Townsman Jeffries and Neighbor McCoy, not to speak of "Spider" Kelly, we shall yet be able to look down with contempt on Boston, even.

Georgia proposes to confer military titles on the fathers of families, the more the family the greater the title, running all the way from lieutenant up to brigadier-general. But what are the honors to be handed out to the mothers? Are the fathers entitled to all the credit?

When the rainbow chasers are shut out by the time limit from further visits to Esopus, and the election returns are generally in, then Judge Parker's pipe will go out and he will wake up with that proverbial dark brown taste in his mouth.

Here's some more of this dod-gasted sleep-talking business. A man in Cincinnati has been murmuring the names of "Susie" and "Mary" between his gentle snores, and now his wife is suing him for divorce. His wife's name is Kate.

If it be true that the Naftzger investigation has cost Abbot Kinney the sum of $19,000, as alleged by the Pacific Fruit World, the average outsider will be tempted to conclude that it was a good deal of money to pay for a throw down.

The rumor that the Mikado has recalled Gen. Nogi from the command before Port Arthur, and will send Yamagata in his place, looks like bad tactics. Abraham Lincoln said: "Never swap horses when crossing a stream."

Evidently the Democracy of California thinks it can get along without "Horses and Carts," but how are the dead and the wounded to be carried off from the bloody battlefield when the Long Knife gets in its work?

Running over the list of concessions made to his subjects by the Czar in celebration of the new baby, nothing appears concerning a constitution. But, probably Nicholas is holding that back as a future birthday surprise.

Naftzger was vindicated by the local jury of investigation and soaked by the Supreme Court of the State, all in the same day. Again the question arises: Why is an orange?

It seems strange that all these Democratic claims about carrying New York should have no other effect on the betting than to steady the odds on Roosevelt at 10 to 6.

It being established that the walking delegates left 90 cents from the proceeds of the late labor union fair, the question arises: What has become of the 90 cents?

In a short time hence the political spellbinders will be turned loose. At any rate they will furnish an excuse for some of our citizens to spend an evening out.

Lem Biddle or some of the other jawsmiths might have at least chucked in a dime and made the net profits of the labor union fair an even dollar.

There is a growing suspicion that the alleged neutrality of the heathen Chinee in the present unpleasantness is both vain and peculiar.

On the other hand, as long as the walking delegates took all the rest of it, they might as well have kept the 90 cents.

The part that the British steamer Comedian is playing in the war drama may not be as funny as one might suppose.

Even though the Japs have captured "Chair Fort" it is not likely that Stoessel will allow them to sit down in it.

The cocky Jap now threatens to tan the hides of both France and Germany. Isn't he the brash little bantam?

Anyhow, the labor unions can't say that the walking delegates took it all. Didn't they turn over 90 cents?

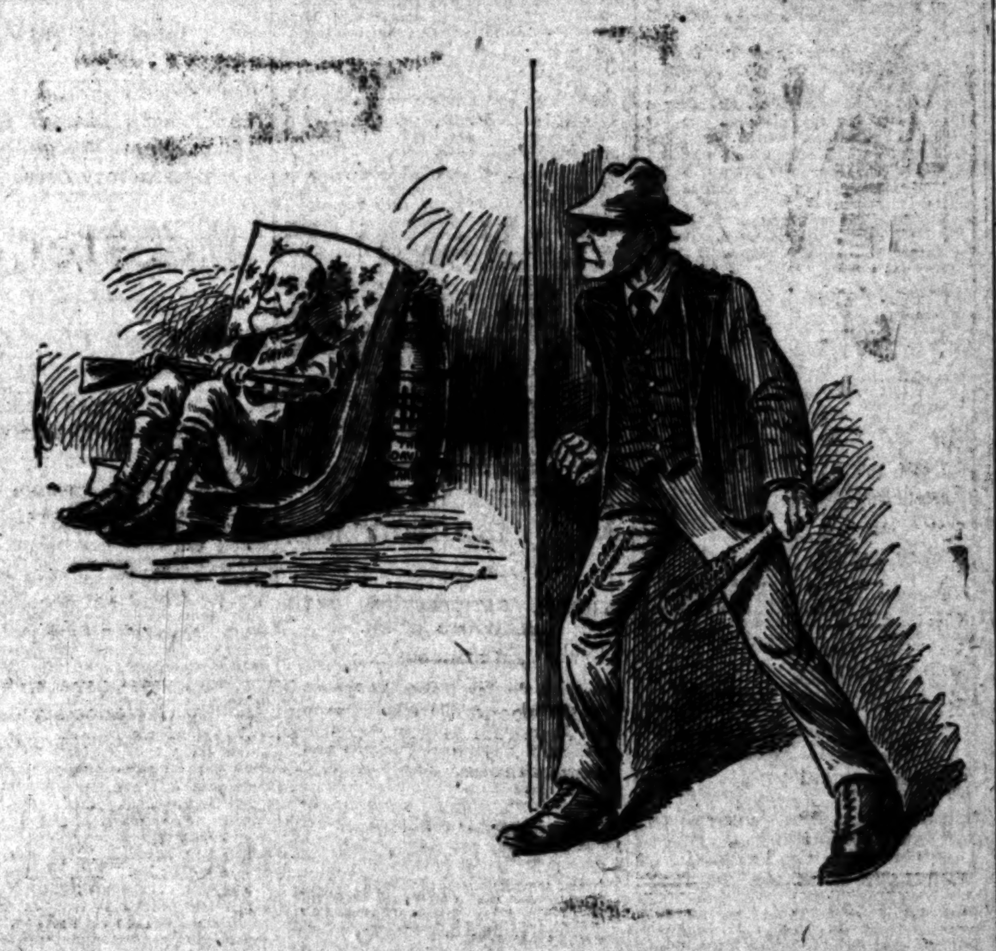
In this orange controversy the conviction becomes constantly stronger that Hearst and Earl also ran.

Los Angeles may yet aspire to the proud title of the Slugger's Mecca.

Speaking of record-breakers, what's the matter with Jupiter Pluvius?

Why should Tim Spellacy inject Brian Boru into this campaign?

"NOT ON YOUR LIFE," SAYS THE OLD MAN.



The Burglar: If that old fool would only go to sleep I'd get the swag.

THE PLAYHOUSES.

MASON OPERA HOUSE. Henry Miller is well and favorably known to the theater-going public of Los Angeles through the mediumship of several clever comedies in which he has played the leading part, in former seasons. Mr. Miller has never come to us in a poor play nor with a poor company.

"Joseph Entangled" is the rather odd title of a three-act comedy in which Mr. Miller and company appeared at the Mason last evening. The play is by Arthur Henry Jones, and the scene is laid in London "at the present time." As might be expected, the play is decidedly English in conception and action. It is also somewhat conventional, in that it deals in materials so commonly used in the construction of English comedies. There is an intrigue which comes about quite by accident, and which is wholly innocent in its beginnings, though it becomes serious toward the end, as is the case with most intrigues.

Without going minutely into details as to the plot and its outworking, it may be said that it keeps well within the realm of the probable, is ingenious, and has a liberal proportion of the element which is sometimes designated as "contemporaneous human interest." Henry Miller, in the principal role of Sir Joseph Lacy, is the same clever, resourceful actor whom we have seen and approved in other roles. Mr. Miller's acting is notably free from conspicuous artificiality. Its principal merit lies in its ease and naturalness. This actor seems never to force a situation beyond its legitimate bounds; yet his work is forceful in scenes demanding intensity, and in light comedy scenes he is wholly at ease, and is pleasing to a remarkable degree. He has a way of passing from mirth to seriousness by quick transitions which constitutes one of the most effective of his many telling methods.

Mr. Miller is not always distinct in his enunciation. This is a fault shared by several members of the company, and by reason of it much that is spoken on the stage is not heard at all, or heard but indistinctly, on the other side of the footlights.

The role of Lady Verona Mayme is carried with much effectiveness by Miss Hilda Spong. This lady's acting is most excellent—full of unexpected turns and original devices which may properly be classified as subjective art, or art peculiar to the personality of the actress. Her work suffers considerably by reason of indistinct enunciation in the lower tones but when she touches upon the higher tones the words ring out clear and true. She has good command of the theatrics of the role giving the impression of having studied the part thoroughly and to excellent purpose. Miss Spong is particularly strong in the last act—which touches distinctly on the tragic—and her impersonation as a whole leaves little to be desired.

There are several fine bits of character portrayal. That of Stanley Dark as Jerym Pyecroft could hardly be bettered. Mr. Walter Allen gives an unexceptionable portrayal of a quaint but well-defined character as Prof. Tofield "Johsonian professor of moral philosophy." Mr. Frederick Tiden and Miss Jessie Busley give good portrayals as Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tavender respectively. The remaining roles almost without exception, were well rendered by the several members of the company.

Tonight the Henry Miller Company will present, for the first time in this city, Madeline Lucette Ryley's play, "Mice and Men," which is said to have met with much success in London and New York. The scene is laid at Old Hampstead place, and the period is about 1786. The cast of characters includes Henry Miller as Mark Embury, scholar, scientist and philanthropist, and Miss Jessie Busley as Peggy, known as "Little Britain."

"Mice and Men" will be given, also, at the Saturday matinee. On Friday and Saturday evenings, "Joseph Entangled" will be repeated.

"THE HENRIETTA." An interesting story is connected with the stock rights to the drama "The Henrietta," being prepared for presentation by Oliver Morosco's company. It is an old W. H. Crane-Stuart Robson success, and its playing in this city will be the first and only presentation except that made by Messrs. Crane and Robson. When Crane and Robson sundered their partnership George Woodward—who is now a member of the Morosco company—was chosen to play Mr. Crane's part, and this he will resume next week.

Harry Mestayer will take Robson's famous role of "Bertie, the Lamb."

Miss Ethel Hepburn, the new prize beauty of local stageland, will appear in the production.

More Light on the San Fernando Water Question.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] As an interested party, and one who has had a great amount of experience in the Fernando Valley water-right matter, I would like to present some facts. In 1886 myself and associates purchased the Providencia Rancho from Dr. Burbank. We paid over $1800 for opinions of leading lawyers in Los Angeles and San Francisco as to the water rights of the rancho. Their unanimous verdict was that the city of Los Angeles had no more right to the waters of Los Angeles River than any other riparian owner. In fact, the city had several years previous bought the riparian rights of the Los Feliz Rancho from G. J. Griffith for $50,000. Several years after, in 1890, I think, the head works of the old Woolen Mill ditch, leased to M. L. Wicks, were washed out. Wicks attempted to build new works further up the stream, when he was forcibly stopped by the Providencia Land and Water Company. A truce was patched up between Judge Brunson, our attorney, the City Attorney and Wicks, whereby Wicks was allowed to repair his ditch and take the water on the payment of a rental of $150 per month, to continue until his or the city's right was adjusted. Wicks, however, sold his water system to the City Water Company, which furnished the water from other sources.

As a witness in the various suits between the city and others, it was established by expert testimony that several thousand miner's inches of water flowed or percolated out of the valley in twenty-four hours, as much as would supply a city ten times the present population of Los Angeles. All the water systems supplying the city for the past twenty years have been built mostly under the supervision of Mr. Mulholland, and until confronted by a succession of dry years, no effort was made to raise water by pumping.

The real motive back of the suit instituted against the settlers of San Fernando Valley looks to me like one to enable the city to extend its gravity system, so as to keep up its main source of supply. If Mr. Mulholland would get the city to erect a pumping plant on its own property at the head of the Crystal Springs gravity system, there would be no cause to put a cloud on the settlers' property. By their own testimony water enough could be had to preclude any famine in the city next year, when the water plane at the head of the city's plants will be lower, no matter what the rainfall of next winter.

The situation briefly is this: How can the city come into court clean-handed, when it is certainly lax in not using every effort to get the water in its own lands? Why have the courts assisted it in unnecessarily harassing innocent settlers, who certainly are entitled to what is in their own property, unless otherwise reserved, when deeded to them? Most of the litigation heretofore had over this question was decided on expert testimony. Like detective testimony in criminal cases, made of links, all fitting together to form a complete chain. The most important points decided have never been passed on by the U. S. Supreme Court. If the city's contentions heretofore decided in its favor are sustained, then some of our ablest lawyers are wrong. How much wiser and better would it be for the city to pump its water than embark in litigation that will cost as much.

W. H. GOUCHER.

AN IRISH PRINCESS.

Born in County Waterford, She Married Into the Royal House of Bourbon.

[Baltimore American:] Sir Thomas Neave's arrival in the United States—just at present he is staying at the Holland House, New York—serves to recall one of the many romances of the historic and royal House of Bourbon. He is the grandnephew of that Irish-born Princess of Capua, whose marriage in London to the younger brother of King Ferdinand II of Naples in the early part of Queen Victoria's reign created so great a sensation by reason of the vain attempt of the Neapolitan envoy to forbid the bans and to prevent a license from being granted. The Princess was the daughter of an Irish squireen, Thomas Smith, of Ballynatray, County Waterford, and as at the time of her marriage there were no laws in Italy prohibiting the union between royal personages and commoners, she became, not the morganatic wife, but the full-fledged legitimate consort of Prince Charles of Bourbon, Prince of Capua. Two children were born to this union, Prince Francis, who was feeble-minded, and Princess Victoria of Bourbon, a goddaughter of Queen Victoria. When Princess Victoria died, about five years ago, her cousin, Lady Neave, mother of Sir Thomas Neave, acted as chief mourner at the funeral, at which both Queen Victoria and the Italian sovereigns were represented by officials of their households, and by wreaths, that of their Italian Majesties bearing the following inscription, "To our very dear cousin; from Humbert and Marguerite."

In her youth Princess Victoria, who spent much of her time with her mother's sister, Lady Dinorbin, and with the latter's daughter, Lady Neave, was a woman of celebrated loveliness, singularly gifted, and with such a magnificent contralto voice that Meyerbeer was moved thereby to specially compose and dedicate to her one of his most beautiful songs. The latter portion of her life, save for occasional visits to Lady Neave in England, were spent in Italy on a beautiful estate named Marlia, near Lucca, where, by special permit from King Humbert, the demented brother of the Princess was kept under restraint, instead of being confined in an asylum. Her relations with the Italian royal family were of the most affectionate description, and like the late Prince Louis of Bourbon, Count d'Oquila, she received from the time of the overthrow of the kingdom of Naples until her death a generous allowance from the Italian crown.

Naval Station at Panama.

The governments' plan to establish a large naval station and drydock at Panama, constituting perhaps the most important naval station on the entire western coast of this hemisphere, adds to the interest in the controversy between this government and the new republic, as to the portion of the port of Panama which is included in the canal zone. It is proposed to construct at that port a drydock large enough to accommodate the biggest vessels that float. Unless occupied by war vessels of the United States, this dock will be available to any vessel passing through the canal which needs drydocking and at a reasonable cost.

Four islands in the Bay of Panama, which our government acquired under the treaty, are situated on the line which vessels would cover, approaching from the open sea, and these form, it is said, an excellent location for such a drydock and repair shops. One of the islands, noted for its springs of fresh water and large already contains a large way and repair station, come the property of the United under the terms of the York Post.

LIMA HARVEST HAS BEGUN.

YIELD ALMOST AN AVERAGE ABOUT SANTA MONICA.

Several Reasons for Beginning Cutting Nearly a Month Earlier Than Heretofore—Finer Color, Better Fodder and Less Risk of Being Rained on.

Harvesting of the lima bean crop in the Santa Monica district has begun a month earlier than usual. Present indications point to a yield per acre not far behind that of last season.

"I regard lima bean growing in this community as on a permanent basis," said H. H. Denker, one of the largest producers yesterday. Mr. Denker is of the firm of Hammel & Denker, on whose ranch alone the area of that crop this season aggregates about 2500 acres.

"Considering that we have had a dry season," Mr. Denker said, "the prospect is encouraging. With abundant moisture the yield will almost surely be a good deal larger. As it is we had no rains early in the winter, and the tilling of the soil in the late winter and early spring months necessarily caused the loss of considerable moisture by evaporation. Every time that the soil is disturbed there is an added loss of water. If the heavy rains had come early in the winter the water would have soaked deep and the planting process would not have caused so much waste of wetness.

"I expect that this season's yield will be close to that of last year, which was from fifteen to sixteen sacks of eighty pounds each per acre."

A large part of the Hammel & Denker ranch lies on the eastward slope east from Sawtelle. On the westward slope west of that town the maturing crop does not look as well, but its appearance does not justify the reports in circulation to the effect that the crop is a failure. Estimates based on the appearance of the vines place the yield at about three-fourths that of last year for that part of the district.

Whatever shortage there may be in this season's yield is attributed largely to the period of excessively warm weather early in the month. It is said that the heat just at the time when the beans were filling out in the pods retarded their growth.

On the Hammel & Denker ranch, where cutting has begun, there are about 100 men employed on the beans, and the number of hands kept busy will average that number for the next two months.

Several reasons are assigned for commencing the harvest a month earlier than heretofore. One of them is that by cutting before the vines and beans have thoroughly ripened the beans will have a greener shade, such as will give them a better appearance and make them more nutritious. Another reason is that the fodder, which used to be considered of little or no value, but which now sells for $8 per ton, baled in the field, will be in much better condition for cow feed.

Yet another reason for the earlier gathering of the crop is the fact that it will probably all be out of the way before the winter rains commence. The earlier gathering spares the growers from a big risk of wetting during the thrashing season.

The cutting is done with teams. The implement used is like a big sled sliding on broad steel runners. The runners are far enough apart so that two rows of beans easily come between them. From each runner a big knife with blade lying horizontal extends inward at an angle. The knives running just beneath the surface cut the beans and two shafts draw the two rows of vines together. For each cutter three or four men with forks gather the vines into piles. The piles are placed far enough apart so that wagons may easily pass between the rows when the vines are gathered for thrashing. One team will cut fifteen acres per day.

There are about six thousand acres of limas in the Santa Monica district this year.

BANK MOVES.

"Security Savings" Starts for Its New Home at Spring and Fourth Streets.

The removal of the Security Savings Bank from the old location, Main and Second streets, to the new Herman W. Hellman building, on the northeast corner of Spring and Fourth streets, was begun yesterday at the close of banking hours, and this morning the bank will open for business in its new home. The removal attracted large crowds of curious people, and the work was of no small magnitude, involving as it did the transportation of millions in cash and securities, besides the books and furniture.

This removal is a chapter in the narrative of the growth and general prosperity of Los Angeles. The bank opened in February, 1889, at No. 148 South Main street. Rapid expansion of business necessitated removal, and in 1896 what was then thought would prove to be a permanent home was secured on the northeast corner of Main and Second streets. The new quarters soon proved to be too small, and in 1901 they were enlarged.

A few months ago the marvelous growth of the city and of the bank's business rendered another removal indispensable; and when Herman W. Hellman decided to erect a new steel fireproof, eight-story office building on the northeast corner of Spring and Fourth streets, a long term lease was made of the ground floor room facing on both these leading thoroughfares.

One-quarter of the space in the new quarters, which are fifty by eighty feet in size, is taken up by the great combination safety deposit, coin and book and package vault. The safety deposit vault contains over two thousand boxes of exceptionally large size, and the door a wonderful piece of mechanism with automatic time locks, weighs seven and one-half tons.

The solid bronze grillwork which partitions off the safety deposit department, and which also tops the counters, harmonizes admirably with its verde antique finish, with the marble. The latter, by the way, is the famous "Alps green," and was imported from Savoy. In color it is a beautiful shade of dark green mottled with white. The counters and wainscoting are of this marble, as also is the railing about the women's department. The decorative scheme is ivory and gilt, with here and there a touch of deep red. The floor is a light shade of marble. The most ingenious art of the trade is seen in the electric light fixtures, which are of a peculiar, handsome design.

The first window to the left, at the long counter is for the use of women patrons, and is directly in front of the women's department. Then come the windows of the receiving, paying and savings tellers, the cashier and vice-president. Next is the president's room, and back of this are the directors' room and other rooms for the use of the officials and clerks.

President Joseph F. Sartori has been connected with the Security Savings Bank since its organization, as also has Vice-President M. S. Hellman; while the term of service of Cashier W. D. Longyear falls but one year short of this record, he having entered the bank fourteen years ago.

NEW QUARTERS SECURED

After January 1, Los Angeles Furniture Company Will be Located on Spring Street.

A lease was signed yesterday by which the Los Angeles Furniture Company secured for a term of three years, from date of completion, the exclusive use of a six-story steel-frame construction brick building, which M. J. Connell is to have erected on the west side of Spring street, between Sixth and Seventh streets.

The plans of the proposed building are now being prepared by Architects Train and Williams. The lot on which it will stand is 60x155 feet, and the proposed structure will cover the entire plot. Work on the foundation of the improvement will begin at once, and the house is to be ready for occupancy by January 1. The general arrangement of the building will be such as to conform to the requirements of the furniture house by which it is to be occupied. The building will cost between $60,000 and $100,000, and will be supplied with the latest modern devices suitable for buildings of this class.

The quarters now occupied by the Los Angeles Furniture Company have for some time been altogether inadequate to its requirements, and it has been known for some time that this company was "in the market" for larger quarters. Rumor has, therefore, located this old established house, during the past few months, in almost every new building that has been known to be in contemplation.

CORONADO BEACH.

BUCKEYES CATCH FISH.

TENT CITY (Coronado) Aug. 24.—Ohio people win the honor of making the record catch of fish for this season, that is, for short-time fishing. Five of them, J. K. Duke, Portsmouth; George Morz, Milford; John Sullivan, A. Roff and A. A. Weiss, Cincinnati, left the hotel at 8 o'clock. They devoted two hours, lacking five minutes, to fishing, returning with 600 pounds. The catch included twenty Spanish mackerel, forty-five barracuda, six yellowtail and a bonita.

Yesterday's arrivals at the hotel included: Miss Kate Howard, R. C. Smith, R. C. Slater, Guy Slater, Mrs. Houghtelin, C. Fife, Mr. and Mrs. R. Dodge, Los Angeles; William Bayly, Joseph T. Pugh, A. R. Dodworth, Pasadena. Camp arrivals included: Mrs. D. H. Hayden, Mrs. Garrett Newkirk, Miss Isabelle Martin, Miss Elizabeth Hoyle, Pasadena; I. R. Guildford, Mrs. C. B. Alden, Miss Clara Alden, May E. Stevenson, Matilda Gantz, Margie M. Gantz, W. F. Cronemiller, Flora M. Cronemiller, W. T. Mitchell, Kate S. Mitchell, Leora K. Mitchell, Los Angeles; Miss M. Bonner, Pasadena.

In the whist party at the clubhouse last evening the highest scores were made by Mrs. R. A. Smith and Mrs. Cooper, Miss Daisy Latimer receiving the consilation prize.

J. K. Bulger, government inspector of hulls and boilers, arrived from San Francisco yesterday, and is registered at the hotel.

LAW AFTER SHIP'S PURSER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Policeman Braig of San Francisco arrived last evening with a warrant for the arrest of Rafael Demoro, purser on the St. Denis, plying between here and Lower California ports, but Demoro, getting sight of his wife, who accompanied the officer, lost no time getting below the line, it having been necessary to secure a new purser for the down trip of the St. Denis tonight. Mrs. Demoro charges her husband with failure to provide for his children.

New wash stuffs
New patterns in Galatea suitings of the grade sold nearly everywhere at 20c are here at 15c the yard. An almost endless variety in both light and dark effects.
New Fall patterns in 36-inch Percales, including the immensely popular Punjabs, at 12½c a yard. Dozens of distinctly different designs in light and dark colorings.

Silks reduced
Two staple silks—the sorts most rarely sold at noteworthy reductions—are buyable today at practically a fifth under our regular prices.
Rich, lustrous black taffetas, measuring full 23 inches wide and of the weight suitable for general purposes, 67½c a yard; regularly 85c.
Natural Pongee silk of a good serviceable quality, full 24 inch width. 70c a yard; sells regularly at 85c.

Specially priced table linens
Never any question about the trustworthiness of Coulter linens. Never any question about their being worth every penny of their price. So when our regular prices are reduced 20 to 25 per cent. it's time to provide against future needs. These for today and tomorrow.
72-inch bleached damask in many handsome new designs—our regular $1.25 grade—yard $1.00
72-inch bleached damask of splendid wearing quality; 24 patterns to select from—regularly $1.50 yard—now $1.20
70-inch bleached French damask, free from dressing; all new and exclusive designs—cut from $1.75 to $1.40
22x22-inch napkins of good weight bleached damask—particularly good for hotel use—variety of pretty patterns cut from $2.75 a dozen to $2.30
24x24-inch bleached damask napkins of splendid wearing quality, in many attractive patterns, regularly sold at $4.00 a dozen, now $3.00

Embroideries at half
Such news is interesting to all women at all times, for there's always a need for embroideries—and the chances to buy them at half regular prices are very, very rare.
But today (and today only) we'll sell fine quality Swiss edges, insertions and match sets—different widths of same pattern—at just half regular prices—20c to $1.25, instead of 40c to $2.50. Widths 8 to 15 inches.
12½ to 20c laces - - 7½c
7½c is a low price for 2 to 6-inch Torchon edges and insertions of the character we've sorted out for clearance today.
If you expect to trim any undermuslins, wash dresses or children's garments within a year, select the laces today. If you wait, ten chances to one you'll pay double for like values. Today only, the 12½c to 20c sorts are 7½c a yard—or 12 yards for 75c.

THE luckiest girl in the scholarship contest yesterday was the "Vernon Peach," Edna Miller. Miss Miller felt that something had to be done to bolster up her score, so she put on her sweetest smile and sallied forth to find an angel who would give her a five-years' subscription to the Daily Times. She wanted to show Omar Burns and Lula Briant that they were not the only ones who could make such rich strikes, and she succeeded in showing them. The generous man who came to Edna's assistance is W. F. Ball, otherwise known as "Billy" Ball, proprietor of the Oak barber shop, billiard hall and cigar stand on North Spring street. Through his aid and a few other friends, Miss Miller registered a gain of 11,800 points, which took her up from twenty-second to eighteenth place. Another boost like that will come near placing her among the "Upper Ten."

Those who were passed in the race by Miss Miller's unexpected spurt, are Bertha Wilson, Charles McCarty, Leonora Campbell and Leigh Smith. She also came very near overtaking Laura Tupman and Georgia Pitts. These young ladies will have to get a move on now, or the "Vernon Peach" will be taking a fall out of them next. Miss Tupman's health is so poor that she has not been able to leave her home for more than a week, and the doctor has forbidden her taking any further active part in the contest. Her score keeps on growing right along, however, which shows that she has many friends who are remembering her during her illness.

Miss Briant is taking it easy since she has regained first place with such a big lead. She is evidently waiting for some one to come up close enough to make the race interesting, before making another big spurt. Miss Skidmore still seems to be content with second place, and has not shown her head above the alfalfa htis week.

Miss Burns of Redlands has fortified herself in third place, with a gain of 889 points yesterday, while Nat Browne still is at an apparent standstill, and has allowed Hazel Burke to crowd him out of fourth place.

Louis Bristol is quietly sawing wood in sixth place. Halsey Thompson has taken advantage of Harry Leftwich's inertia by moving up to seventh place wtih a gain of 2362 points.

Elsie Bamesberger has been lying low since returning from San Diego, and seems content to hold ninth place.

Laura Seward was sloshing around in the rain up in the Santa Maria Valley when last heard from, but continues to hold her position among the "Upper Ten."

Mary Grace Houston by a gain of 583 points has made another substantial advance, landing in thirteenth place over Pauline Scholz and Frank Brooks. The little "Moneta Daisy" certainly is having a great run of luck, and it will not be surprising if she lands among the "Upper Ten" yet. Most of her gain yesterday came from Banning, away out on the border of the Colorado Desert. Beaumont, where she formerly went to school, also has contributed handsomely to her support. Miss Houston receives support from all points of the compass. There seem to be nearly as many people interested in her as there were in Elizabeth Dehmlow last year. What has become of Elizabeth's old friends, anyway? She appears to be making hardly any headway in the present contest. She is just as good a girl as she ever was, but is unable to work as hard as she did last year, as she is still suffering from the effects of the bicycle accident she met with last summer.

"Happy Harry" Poole came out of his cave of gloom long enough yesterday to recapture his old place, No. 23, from Frank B. Dunwell. The young Boyle Heights giant will have to get a move on if he expects to beat Master Poole.

Harry Shepherd made a gain of 1385 points yesterday and wrested twenty-eighth place from Stella Callender. The little singer's friends of a year ago seem to have forgotten her.

Lyman Waite of Fernando let loose a flood of coupons which carried him up to thirtieth place at the expense of Alice Soper, the "Hollywood Pansy."

Last, but not least, among yesterday's gainers, is Edgar Sutton, the young lumber-shover, formerly of Cucamonga. By a gain of 1500 points, Edgar moved up from thirty-fifth to thirty-second place, over Harry Meyers, Hubert O'Neil and Christy Walsh.

HOW TO HELP.

For the benefit of those who wish to aid some contestant before the contest is over, but who do not know how to go about it, the following information, which has been often reiterated since the beginning of the contest, is republished.

Every prepaid new subscription to the Daily Times for one month counts 50 points in favor of any contestant named by the subscriber; a prepaid new subscription for two months counts 120 points; three months, 200 points; four months, 270; five months, 350; six months, 440; one year, 1000; five years, 10,000 points; intermediate terms are in proportion. On old subscriptions or renewals, prepaid, just half as many points are allowed as on new ones for the corresponding periods except for subscriptions for more than one year, when the same credit is allowed on old ones as on new ones, after the first year. Should any subscription be prepaid for a term of more than than five years scholarship credits will … of 2000 points a … es to The Times … y (including Sunday) $9 a year, or 75 cents a month; Sunday Times, $2.50 a year; Saturday (Weekly) Times, $1.50 a year. Scholarship points are allowed on subscriptions to the Sunday and Saturday Times in proportion to the amounts prepaid.

The daily coupon is good for one vote in favor of any contestant whose name is written upon it.

The contest will close on Friday, September 2, and all votes must be in by midnight of that day.

A subscription voting blank is printed below in conjunction with the coupon.

A King's Buttons.

Four thousand pounds for a drop-shaped pearl scarfpin, £3000 for a pearl stud £980 for a coat fastener formed of a white bouton pearl with gold bar, £170 for seven buttons en suite, and £155 for a pair of brilliant sleeve links—these are a few of the prices realized at the recent sale of a noble marquis's jewelry, and they come as a revelation to the average man who has to work twenty years for the price of a scarfpin.

But, after all, everything is comparative, and the marquis's gems, rare and costly though they are, would have been quite eclipsed by Louis XIV.'s personal jewelry. The "Grand Monarque" had many crazes, but for buttons he had a positive mania. In a single year, 1685, he squandered £120,000 on them, and some of his purchases are well worth glancing at. On August 1, 1865, he bought two diamond buttons for 67,966 francs and 75 diamond buttons for 86,703 francs. The buttons for a single vest cost Louis £40,000. Of the 354 "bouttonnieres" used, 162 contained five diamonds each, while the remainder were single diamonds. In all, the "Grand Monarque" is said to have spent a round million pounds sterling on buttons alone.—[London Tit Bits.

His Drowsy Congregation.

A successful preacher was asked by a pulpit failure: "How do you manage to keep your congregation awake? Your sermons are nothing extraordinary." He replied: "I had trouble with the drowsy god myself once, as you are having now. It seemed that many members of my church came to service to sleep. I took a sensible view. All people like to sleep late Sunday morning and loaf about after a hearty breakfast, resting from the week's labors. They are not fully active on the Lord's day until late in the afternoon. I changed the hour of service from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. By that time breakfast and dinner have digested and the brain is hungry. A congregation full of meat, bread and drink is bound to be stupid. An overloaded stomach is a poor thing to preach to."—[New York Press.

EXCHANGE NOTES. At the Wednesday call of the Stock Exchange there were sold thirty Home Telephone shares at $48 per share, and 500 Fullerton oil shares, which made 28 cents per share.

THE BUSINESS FARMER. Most business men fail to realize how rapidly the American farmer is getting ahead in his strife for a higher standard of business principles as applied to farming. The American farmer today is as different from the farmer of twenty years ago as his son, who went to city business life at the same time, is different from the farmer now. There are reasons for the change, and it is important that advertisers using the agricultural press should clearly recognize and understand them. Perhaps the first and most potent reason is his prosperity. He has had what business men would call some good years. He has been paying off old mortgages and has had money left for improvements. Agricultural and other colleges have sent educated young men back to the farms to introduce new methods to the generation of the elders. In other words the standard of intelligence of the farmer has been raised higher, proportionately, than probably any other calling.—[Chicago Packer.

CITRUS MOVEMENT. The railroads moved eastward on Tuesday nine carloads of oranges and twelve carloads of lemons, making the total to date 7,3?? carloads.

BIG CUT IN WIRE. It is understood that the United States Steel Corporation has cut the price of wire products from $6 to $12 a ton, according to grade. The reduction, it is claimed, went into effect yesterday. The action taken by the steel corporation is a result of the Republic-Pittsburgh contract. A steel manipulator says that all pools except the steel-rail pool are in danger of dissolution.—[Wall Street Journal.

SARDINE NOTES. Up to the last two weeks business in this line looked decidedly gloomy, as there had been an unusual scarcity of fish on the Eastern Maine coast, and it seemed that large orders which had been booked would not be filled, but a letter which reached us yesterday says a marked improvement has taken place and there have been large catches. If these continue business will get back to its normal condition.

FRANCE AFTER AMERICAN INVESTMENTS. The plethora of capital in France and the check that has been given by the Far Eastern war to free investment in Russian securities, have tempted French investors to find more use for their money than they ever did before. Their investment in sterling bills on London has been unusually heavy for a long time past, and French capital has gone into all kinds of securities and enterprises in England. It is also a well-known fact that within the last few months high-grade American railroad bonds have been taken by French capital, certainly to a greater extent than at any time in our history. For some time recently there has been considerable discussion among international financiers and bankers of the advisability of introducing the French investment public to the better classes of American railway stocks. Owing to the peculiar nature of the vast army of small French investors and the national jealousy often displayed so unreasonably by the press, all negotiations and discussions of the movement just referred to have been required to be pursued with delicacy and circumspection.—[Wall Street Summary.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKETS.

At the session of the Produce Exchange on Wednesday, business was of only a mild kind, and eggs, butter and cheese still remained at last quotations.

Fish dealers say business is only fair and their figures are not changed. Poultry dealers keep their prices as before, and report that as soon as their customers return from their holidays trade will again be good.

Potatoes are now in better condition than they were a few weeks ago. They have lost their green appearance and flavor, and will continue to improve right along. Prices may possibly ease off a little, but will ultimately get back to ordinary figures, if not a little higher.

Old chiles are now very scarce and standing at 20 cents. There are a few Mexican and Texas chiles on the market. New crop chiles will not be marketed before another month at least.

Onions are fairly plentiful and are rather easier, if anything.

Grapes are now in abundance, are of splendid flavor and selling freely. Quite a lot of plums of nearly all the varieties came forward yesterday, and made better prices than they have done for the last few days.

Watermelons are in great abundance, and there is really no set price for them.

There are no northern peaches to be had, and prices are being kept up. Pears are also holding up, but stock is now being drawn from storage.

One of our honey merchants informs us that the shortage of honey in Southern California was caused by scarcity of rain, which allowed flowers to bloom earlier than usual. When the busy bee wished to start in to work, the sun burned up the flowers and consequently the bee had to starve. About one-third of the bee colony died. Dealers are now drawing on last year's stock. There is a very marked scarcity of comb and white honey.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—In the face of conditions which ordinarily make for lower prices, such as increased excitement in the commodity market, a further strain in the local labor trouble and selling by London on the international political situation, today's stock market showed a general tendency toward higher prices. Trading was dull and narrow, however, and again largely professional. At the outset, the tone was decidedly bearish. The speculative element was apparently of the opinion that a further reaction was due, basing this belief on the freedom with which stocks were offered for loan at the close of the previous day. Union Pacific and Southern Pacific were among the early features by reason of their strength, but their rise failed to stimulate any immediate response and the market hung back. The Gould and Southwestern group of railway issues became conspicuous under the leadership of Missouri Pacific and Kansas and Texas preferred, and this movement was followed by a general advance in many of the industrial and miscellaneous issues. Amalgamated Copper, Smelting, Sugar, Consolidated Gas and Brooklyn Rapid Transit all moved up, but the improvement, while well maintained, failed to bring any real demand. The strength of the Gould stocks was accompanied by reports of prospective huge earnings accruing from the large cotton crop, but in conservative quarters there was a disposition to look upon the movement as one of a pool character. Practically the same reason was advanced in explanation of the rise in copper, though it was not denied that trade conditions show some improvement. In the late session, business became dull, and while traders seemed less inclined to take a bullish view, it was clear that little long stock had come into the market. The specialties were taken up in the last hour, and there was an increased demand for the coalers, chiefly Reading and Jersey Central. Rumors of a plan to distribute a cash dividend to holders of Northern Securities were current in exchange circles just before the close of the market, but they lacked official confirmation, and after the close of the day an authoritative denial was entered. There were some interesting developments in the money situation, these including a transfer of $500,000 crop money to Chicago—the first of the year—and $150,000 to Canada. These shipments, it is understood, will be followed by even larger transfers to the West and to Canada tomorrow, and by further exports to Cuba. Conditions indicate that for weeks the local banks will transfer large amounts of gold to Europe. It is pointed out, however, that the unusually heavy reserves now held by these institutions preclude the probability of any material hardening of money rates. In fact, the cash holdings of the banks are so large that they could afford to lose as much to the interior as last year and still have a larger surplus than they had at the inception of the year's crop movement. Today's market for bonds was steady. Total sales, par value, $2,525,000.

GENERAL EASTERN MARKETS.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Constant liquidation attended the loss in wheat values. An almost total absence of "scare" news influenced the selling. The bottom had apparently dropped out of the market. There were few of the heavy bulls active in the pit today. They seemed to have retired, at least temporarily, and left the market without support. The weather in the Northwest was all that the most decided bear could wish. There was no rain where rain would cause damage and predicted frosts failed to appear. Such support as the market had was given through purchases by shorts, but there was no hesitancy, no reaction and apparently little attempt on the part of local bulls to stem the current of price recession. September, starting at 1.08¾ a loss of ⅝, stopped only when it had touched 1.05⅝. December, with an initial decline of ⅛ to ⅜ to ⅝ to ½, at 1.06¾@1.09, went off to 1.04½. The close in both deliveries was but a small fraction up from the bottom, the nearer option finishing at 1.05⅝ and deferred at 1.04⅝. The early corn market had a very firm undertone, regardless of the fact that the weather was all that could be desired for the furtherance of the crop. September opened unchanged, to ⅛ higher, at 55⅛@55¼. December was up ⅛ to ⅛ off, at 54⅛@54¼. At its best, September reached 55⅜ and December 54⅝. The final quotations were the lowest for the day, 53⅞ for September and 52⅞ for December. The oats market could wholly resist the effect of the heaviness in wheat, although the loss sustained was comparatively light. September opened unchanged, at 33⅜, and finished at 33⅛. In provisions, a better cash demand for lard and ribs stimulated speculative purchases in the latter deliveries. September pork was neglected, and closed 5¼@5 off; lard was up 5@7½, and ribs gained 5.

The leading futures closed as follows:

Excitement in Cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The excitement continued in today's cotton market. The market started firm at an advance of four points on August and of 12 to 21 points on the later positions. There was lots of cotton for sale at the advance, and for a time fluctuations were very irregular and rapid, with the list showing hardly any tendency when shorts were unsettled by rumors that H. F. Page & Co. of New Orleans had suspended. This concern was said to be short of the new crop, and part of the line was believed to be held in the local market by various New York houses. When the news of the failure was circulated, the months supposed to be involved became tremendously active. October sold at 10.37@10.83, in about three transactions and later positions were almost equally excited, checking the advancing tendency and easing the market slightly, but in the early afternoon again supported it. Sentiment was badly mixed and the trade was peculiarly sensitive to rumors, which were freely circulated. Prices wended upward until they stood about twenty-five points higher. The market closed at practically the best prices of the session, or a net gain of 26 to 31 points. Sales were estimated at 700,000 bales. The New Orleans market sold off about ten to twelve points after the close here, and transactions were reported at a decline of about three points, as compared with the closing figures last night.

Chicago Live-Stock Market.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Cattle—Receipts, 17,000; steady to strong; good to prime steers, 5.10@6.10; poor to medium, 3.10@4.90; stockers and feeders, 2.00@4.05; cows, 1.50@4.25; heifers, 2.00@5.00; canners, 1.50@2.35; bulls, 2.00@4.00; calves, 2.50@5.25; Texas fed steers, 3.00@4.25. California Dried Fruits.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The market for evaporated apples is more or less nominal, as far as spot quotations are concerned, owing to the absence of offerings and the consequent absence of important transactions. Common are held at 4@5½; prime, 5¼@6; choice, 6¼@6¾, and fancy at 7@7½. Prunes remain quiet, with quotations ranging from 3@6½, according to size and grades. Apricots are firm, in spite of a moderate demand. Choice are quoted at 9¼@10; choice extra, 10¼@10½, and fancy at 10@13. Peaches show no change. Extra choice are quoted at 8 and fancy at 9½@10.

New York Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—There was a fair advance in the London tin market, with spot there closing at £122 7s 6d and futures at £122. Locally, however, the market showed little change, with spot held at 26.85@27.00. Copper was unchanged in London, closing at £57 7s 6d for both spot and futures. The local market was firmer in tone, but without quotable change. Lake and electrolytic are held at 12.50@12.75 and casting at 12.25@12.50. Some of the large producers quote lake at 12.62½@12.75. Lead and spelter were unchanged in both markets. Locally, iron was easier.

New York Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The bulls had control of the cotton market again today. Sentiment was unsettled by the Page failure. September sold up to 11.50, while October reached 11.00, and January, 10.87. The market closed firm, at practically the best prices, a net advance of 26 to 51 points on the general list. Sales were estimated at 700,000 bales.

Closing Figures.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Close: Wheat, September, 1.05⅝; old, 1.05½; December, 1.04⅝; May, 1.06⅝. Corn—August, 53¼; September, 53⅞; December, 52⅞; May, 51⅝. SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

GRAIN, FRUIT AND PRODUCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] General offerings of deciduous fruits were comparatively light today, but as they fully balanced trade wants, the market conditions were without notable variance, and price changes were few. Keen buying interest was centered in sound Bartlett pears and fancy green stock met with snappy call at hardened rates. Canners offered as high as 30.00 a ton, but secured little stock, exporters and local retailers securing the bulk of available supplies. There was plenty of ripe stock offering at uneven prices. Top-quality peaches ruled firm, and quick clearances were effected at full quotations. Bulk stock continued scarce and nominal in price, canners obtaining small parcels of clingstones at from 45.00@60.00 a ton, and paying as high as 25.00 for a few odd lots of Muirs. Plums and prunes were in limited supply, and steady at quotations. Operators reported a vigorous demand for first-quality apples, and available supplies were readily absorbed both in shipping and local channels at strong prices. Several good-sized orders for shipment to Hilo and Honolulu on steamers leaving Friday and Saturday were at hand, and stock for this trade found quick sale close to highest quotation. The market closed in excellent shape for sellers. Figs, nectarines and quinces were freely offered at quotations, but found sluggish sale. There was fair movement noted in upper quality offerings of grapes, and with supplies fully up to trade wants, previous prices showed no quotable fluctuations. The market was quite heavily burdened with cheap sorts, which dragged at uneven prices. Cantaloupes and nutmeg melons were in fair request at steady rates, but watermelons moved off slowly, with holders disposed to urge sales by shading rates. The market for berries was in rather unsettled condition, owing to vast difference in quality of arrivals. Choice stock of all varieties found good sale at best quotations, but low-quality offerings dragged at inside values and business closed with heavy carry-over uncared for. Citrus fruits continued wholly without feature, the only movement in oranges being the filling of a few small orders for shipment to Honolulu. Receipts of potatoes from the river section were light, and the market developed a stronger position in favor of sellers, but prices showed no quotable advance. Trade was of fair proportions, better sorts being well cared for between local demand and call for shipment to Los Angeles. Supplies of cheap stock were moderate, and were held steady at quotations. Salinas Burbanks were in free supply, and were offered at wider range of values. Sweet potatoes were plentiful, and under moderate call prices showed some easiness. Onions were in fair demand and top quotation was easily obtained for fancy parcels. The market for miscellaneous vegetables offered few features. Lima beans were scarce, and fancy brought advance. Tomatoes were in free supply, and the best only sold at outside figures in a limited way. Plenty of low-quality stock was available for 25 cents a box. Okra was over-plentiful, and any reasonable price was accepted. Summer squash, cucumbers and corn were also in heavy supply, and weak at quotations.

Gibraltar's Weakness.

A great deal of nonsense is talked about "impregnable fortresses." Nothing built of stone fills the bill. Osman Pacha taught the world at Plevna that the best forts are those of mud, on a level with the earth's surface, not those thrown up against the sky and easily riddled by shot and shell of an enemy. The great rock of Gibiartar is nothing but a "bluff." The stone is pumice—a volcanic lava, cellular as a sponge from bubbles of gas it contained during liquidity. I have walked through miles of its galleries, but in the heart of the hill have encountered dripping water—which must have filtered through from the top, say 1500 feet. One 13-inch shell, such as the Oregon threw at poor Cervera's ships, if rightly landed in the center of the "Rock of Gibraltar" would convert the mass into small bits. The water batteries are the best feature of the defenses at the "Gib." The bay is so dangerous that whenever a gale arises the ships go to sea. A large troop ship with a regiment of men aboard turned over there a few years ago and everybody was drowned. This is merely perfunctory to saying that, if England intends to make another Gibraltar at Jamaica, she has some better, but many worse, conditions to deal with than at the Gate of Hercules.—[Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Watch as a Shirt Stud.

The latest novelty in watches has just been completed by a watchmaker in Paris, who has made a set of three gold shirt studs, in one of which is a watch that keeps excellent time, the dial being about three-eighths of an inch in diameter.

The studs are connected by a strip of silver inside the shirt. The watch contained in the middle one is wound by the turning of the stud above and the hands are set by turning the stud below. The most striking thing about the minute machine is that it works with a pendulum like a clock, and the pendulum will act with ease and accuracy in whatever position the timepiece is placed, even if it be upside down.—[Boston Herald.

The Pope yesterday ratified the appointment of Father Ambrose Agius, the Maltese Benedictine, as apostolic delegate to the Philippines, in succession to the late Archbishop Guidi.

COTTON.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22, 1904—On the 2nd of August I advised the world to buy cotton irrespective of the showing made by the government report. Since that time the market has advanced a cent a pound. I again urge those who are likely to need cotton during the next six months to secure their supplies, if practicable, on the basis of present prices. The fall of Port Arthur is imminent, pacific intervention by the powers will probably follow and the impulse thereby given to the world's industry and the American and British export trade in cotton goods particularly will prove the most important since the resumption of specie payment by the United States in 1879, meantime the condition of the crop is rapidly deteriorating. In my opinion, the condition is no better than it was at this time last year, and allowing for the reported increase in acreage the indicated crop at present is hardly over 11,000,000 bales. It is generally admitted that a moderate crop will pass into consumption on the basis of 11 cents a pound and that a short crop means a repetition of last year's wild speculation. The depredations of the boll-weevil, which infests a larger area in Texas than ever before, account in part for the rapid deterioration, but equally important is the insufficiency of labor in the South for the cultivation of the crop. In the past fourteen years the increase in cotton acreage, as reported by the government, is 63 per cent. The crop of 1890-1 was 1,600,000 bales. The crop of 1903-4 is 10,000,000. The increase in production, therefore, is only about 16 per cent. There is no possible prospect that the coming crop will show an increase over that of 1890 commensurate with the increase in acreage. The reason for this is not hard to find. While the increase in acreage in the South for the past fourteen years has been 63 per cent., the increase in the negro population of the South during the same period has only been 24 per cent., and in Texas, Oklahoma and Indian Territory the increase in acreage since 1890 is 124 per cent., while the increase in the negro population is only 45 per cent. Experience has proved that under the hot southern suns the negro alone can be used for the cultivation of cotton, and the rapid industrial development of the South has drawn heavily upon the negro population for labor in its mines, lumber camps and railways. It is probably true that against an increase in cotton acreage in the South of 63 per cent. in fourteen years, the increase in negro labor available for its cultivation has not been over 12 per cent. These facts, which are taken from the United States census, point indubitably to only one conclusion. The South has for the past five years been planting more cotton acreage than can be cultivated by the labor available, and the rapid deterioration in its condition now being reported and which for the past four years has generally commenced to develop about this time, evidences this lack of cultivation. During the early months of its growth it needs but little care. Without care during its critical period it is bound to deteriorate. It may as well accept, in my opinion, that the maximum cotton productive capacity of the South was reached five years ago and cannot be again attained until the disproportion between its negro population and its acreage shall have been adjusted. No such readjustment seems possible within the present generation. Spinners of cotton and consumers of cotton goods will do well to ponder and to heed the significance of these facts.

Thoroughly Reliable
NOT GUESS WORK
The Treatment I Give Is Followed by a Permanent Cure.
During 20 Years
My methods of treatment have been acquired and are built upon merit. They are not in common use and are the most effective known.

A Treatment
WITH MERIT IN EVERY APPLICATION.
WEAKNESS
Decline of functional activity, strength and vitality is nearly always traceable to a disturbance in the functions of the reproductive system. Under my treatment functional equilibrium is restored, the nerve irritation reduced, the circulation is increased and strength renewed. My cures are absolute and permanent.
CONTRACTED DISEASES
Become chronic through improper treatment; painful caustic remedies are the direct cause of stricture, ulceration and deep-seated inflammation of the urinary tract. Chances are that every case now chronic could have been cured in one week to ten days with the right treatment, scientifically applied. I am confident I cure these ailments more quickly than anyone and with less pain or inconvenience to patients.
VARICOCELE
My treatment effects a cure in four to six days and the cure will be PERMANENT. Normal circulation is quickly restored, the pains cease, swelling subsides, the patient's strength and vitality improve immediately.

[NEWS REPORTS FROM TIMES CORRESPONDENTS.]

STRIKER DEFIES FEDERAL COURT.

SNEAKS ON SANTA FE PROPERTY, ASSAULTS OFFICER.

San Bernardino Labor Unionist is Likely to Have Two Serious Charges to Answer—Four-Year-Old Child Tells Clear Story on Witness Stand. After Embezzler.

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 24.—Reuben Taggs, a union striker, resisted arrest late last night, dealing Deputy Sheriff Cummings a vicious kick and a blow on the face, and had to be clubbed into submission. In defiance of the injunction issued by the United States Court restraining the strikers from trespassing upon Santa Fé property, Taggs sneaked aboard the eastbound overland. He claims he was merely trying to steal a ride to Needles, but a more ulterior motive is suspected. Cummings detected him, and was escorting him from the company's property, not having decided to arrest him, when Taggs suddenly applied a foul epithet to the officer, at the same time landing his foot on the deputy's stomach. Before the officer could defend himself the prisoner hit him a stinging whack on the face, and then attempted to escape, but was struck on the head by the officer's club, which brought him to time, cutting a severe gash in the man's scalp.

A number of strikers, men doing "picket duty" at the time, crowded about the two and threatened to attack the officer, but were cowed by the appearance of another patrolman. The strikers obtained Tagg's release by putting up a small amount for bail.

Deputy Sheriff Cummings proposes to charge Taggs with resisting an officer and evading railroad fare, while in all probability the Santa Fé may make the still graver charge of violating the injunction of the Federal Court.

BERDOOLINES.

The principal witness in the Bradford criminal case today was the four-year-old daughter of E. H. Richardson of Upland, who, it is charged, Bradford attempted to assault. Though the affair occurred months ago the child told a remarkably straight story, her testimony apparently having considerable effect upon the jury. After the prosecution had completed its case the defense put on a number of witnesses from Redlands, some of them women, who testified as to the prisoner's reputation for chastity.

Chief of Police Frans of St. Joseph, Mo., will arrive Saturday after A. J. Rynerson, the self-confessed embezzler, who surrendered to the police Tuesday morning, imagining that an officer who had eyed him closely knew of his crime. There is a reward of $100 offered for the prisoner's arrest, which will go to Officer Seccombe.

Constable Allen returned this morning from Deep Creek, having failed to find the three men charged with dynamiting trout. The complaining witness, T. T. Brown, has disappeared. In his statement to Justice Thomas, before whom complaint was made, he gave the particulars published, taking his oath that the culprits are William, John and Fred Dorthington of Pasadena. Officers have gone to the mountains to make a more thorough investigation.

IN CUPS AGAIN SEEKS TO SLAY.

COLTON MAN TRIES TO CHOKE WIFE'S LIFE OUT.

Seemingly Sane When Sober He Succeeds in Getting Liquor and, Under Its Influence, Makes Another Deadly Assault on Woman. Drunken Cholo Causes Panic.

COLTON, Aug. 24.—Arousing the neighborhood with her screams for help, Mrs. George E. Coe dashed from her home this morning at an early hour pursued by her husband, who, overtaking the woman on the porch of a family named Livingston, threw her down, and, clutching her about the throat, was in the act of choking her to death when help arrived.

Coe is the man who was released from the asylum Saturday on his wife's suggestion, and Monday attempted to kill her with a knife, having several times before tried to end her life, being a mental wreck through the excessive use of liquor.

He was placed in jail and tried this afternoon by Judge C. L. Thomas of San Bernardino, who committed him to the County Jail. It appears that Mrs. Coe, notwithstanding the warning of friends and the fact that she has already filed a proceeding for divorce, had gone to living with Coe, who during last night secured whisky and while his wife was preparing the morning meal suddenly attacked her.

This is the first time Coe has been in the City Jail. Mrs. Coe, seemingly unaware that her own life is constantly in danger when he is intoxicated, pleaded with the officers that he might not be imprisoned. She usually displays no fear of her husband, and is ever lenient with him. It is her desire that he may be put in some institute where he may be cured, if possible. The asylum authorities have released him, as he seems perfectly sane when not under the influence of liquor.

DRUNKEN CHOLO CAUSES PANIC.

Monday evening Pedro Yescas, a cholo employed in the Southern Pacific construction crew, secured a lot of bad whisky and went on a rampage when the cholos returned from work. He soon had their camp in a panic. He took his clothing from the car in which he had been sleeping and, placing it in a pile outside, set fire to it and indulged in a war dance about the flames. The women and children of the camp fled and a call was telephoned to the Southern Pacific offices for an officer. Yescas was arrested, and after a night in jail was willing to let his fellow-countrymen live in peace. He was released yesterday morning.

COLTON NEWS JOTS.

Invitations have been received here for the marriage of Ernest Merryfield of Highgrove to Miss Glenn Bovard of Berkeley, formerly a teacher in the Colton High School. The ceremony will take place in the college town on September 6.

Charles Gillespie left yesterday for Portland, Or., and expects to be absent for about a month.

Miss Elizabeth Sellards, teacher of English and history in the High School here, has returned from an extended visit with relatives in Lawrence, Kan.

SANTA ANA.

SKIPPING WITNESS FINED.

SANTA ANA, Aug. 24.—When Asa Taylor, complaining witness in the case of the people against Gibbs, arrested for liquor selling, skipped just before the trial and left the prosecution in the lurch, it was not expected he would visit this part of the country again soon. He came here yesterday. As soon as it was learned that he had skipped and left the State without a case, Justice Willson issued a warrant for his arrest on a charge of contempt of court. An officer happened to observe him yesterday and at once haled him before the justice, who fined him $25, with the alternative of spending five days in jail. He paid.

ORANGETTES.

Herbert Gallup was today ordered committed to the asylum at Patton. He is afflicted with suicidal mania.

A ranch house occupied by Ross McDowell in Westminster caught fire from an explosion of a gasoline stove and was burned. It was the property of T. J. Lewis, and was not insured.

Work on the line between Newport and Huntington Beach will be begun next week by the Pacific Electric Company.

Most of those who saw the show given by the Indians yesterday at the race track declared it a fizzle.

Jacob Mueller was to have started East today with his son, Herman, but lost three drafts which comprised the money with which he was to travel. As he did not find them his start was delayed.

LOS ALAMITOS.

HANDLING THE BEETS.

LOS ALAMITOS, Aug. 24.—The farmers will begin plowing out beets for this factory Monday, and hauling will be begun September 1. This will give employment to many men and teams. Beet slicing in the factory will be started about September 3, and about the usual number of men will be employed.

OXNARD.

THUNDER AND RAIN.

OXNARD, Aug. 24.—This section was treated to a thunder shower yesterday afternoon. It rained steadily for over an hour in Oxnard, and the precipitation was .15 of an inch. At Springville, four miles east of here, .18 fell, and at Tueneme, .10. The thunder so frightened some of the big teams on the beet dumps at the factory that a general stampede was narrowly averted. The bean crop will not be injured in the least by the storm, but the farmers are not ready for a general rain, and regard the weather indications with suspicion.

The Oxnard Union High School will open for the fall term next Monday. Prof. J. D. Denton has been retained as principal and Miss Jessie Burnett as assistant. Miss Rose Humann, formerly of Sutter county, will teach languages. Prof. E. J. Edwards will continue in the commercial department. Important additions have been made to the physical and chemical laboratories, and a large number of books added to the library.

The Board of Town Trustees considered informally the question of submitting to the people a proposition to issue bonds for the purchase of the electric light and water systems and building a sewer. The people are universally in favor of having a sewer built, but seem to think they can get along with the other public utilities as now established for some time to come.

E. P. Foster and his attorney, H. L. Barnes, appeared before the Board of Town Trustees at their meeting last evening and asked for a permit to use the streets and alleys for laying pipe with which to supply natural gas. Mr. Foster stated that all pipe and material had been ordered conditionally, and would be shipped immediately if the permit was granted. He offered to make any necessary deposit to defray advertising or other expenses connected with securing a franchise for which his company will immediately apply. To conform to legal requirements the resolution granting the permit asked for, was laid over until the next meeting. It is tacitly understood that it will be granted. Mr. Foster and his company mean business and work will commence at both ends of the line.

The Hueneme Wharf Company has commenced rebuilding a large section of the wharf; the railroad tracks will be taken up and straightened, and several new bents will be replaced entirely. New planking will be laid, and many new piles driven. This improvement is made to remove a number of kinks and twists which were placed in the long dock by last winter's storms.

HUENEME.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

HUENEME, Aug. 24.—The proposed home tournament of the Hueneme Tennis Club is arousing considerable interest among those interested in the sport. The club has been recently organized and is proving popular. The following officers have been elected: President, F. L. Fairbanks; vice-president, Mrs. F. W. Gerberding; secretary, and treasurer, E. H. Decker. Owing to the large membership the making of additional courts has become necessary, all of which are kept in excellent condition.

It is generally considered that Albert Bard, who has been in practice for several months past, will carry off the honors at the tournament and will probably contest for the championship at the annual tennis tournament at Nordhoff.

ALLEGED FORGER.

E. S. Valentine, who has been wanted to answer to the charge of forgery, has been arrested in Santa Maria. Valentine came to Hueneme two weeks ago, claiming to have come from Bakersfield, where he was employed as engineer, and intending to fill a similar position in the sugar factory at Oxnard. He presented a check for $20 at the grocery store of J. F. Fulton & Co., on the Southern Pacific Milling Company of Santa Barbara, signed by its manager, E. H. Johnson. The check was cashed and Valentine disappeared the same day. Two days later forgery was discovered. There are four other charges of forgery at Santa Barbara against Valentine.

MINOR MENTION.

Presiding Elder Thompson of the Pasadena district, preached in the Methodist Church Suday morning. There will probably be no service in this church during the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Short left Monday for Los Angeles, where they expect to make their home.

The following-named from Los Angeles have registered at the Hotel Seaside this week: Gardner Fullis, M. M. Baker, George Crawford, B. A. Holmes, A. S. Munro and Miss Lotta Umstead.

Miss Harriet Twomey of Los Angeles, who has spent the past three weeks in Hueneme, returned to her home Monday.

RIVERSIDE.

TWO HOME WEDDINGS.

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 24.—Early this morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Whitney, on Iowa avenue, Miss Alice Whitney and Charles W. Baird of Colton were married. The parlors were beautifully decorated, ivy, palms and roses being largely used. The impressive ring service was used, Rev. J. L. Field performing the ceremony. A wedding breakfast was served, after which the couple left for Coronado and other coast points. The bride wore a handsome traveling suit of French viole which was most becoming. Mr. and Mrs. Baird will be at home to their friends in Colton after September 15.

A charming wedding was celebrated Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Baldwin on Main street. The bride was Miss Katherine Lindendoll of Los Angeles, a cousin of Mrs. Baldwin, and the groom Daniel O'Donnell of Dunkirk, N. Y. The decorations of palms, ferns and goldenrod, were used profusely, making ate frame for such a pretty picture. The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Baldwin and Miss Eula Smith, the latter of Los Angeles. The bride's dress was a beautiful creation of white meteor silk with a garniture of Chantilly lace and pearls, and her flowers were white carnations. Rev. W. F. Taylor performed the beautiful ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. O'Donnell left yesterday for an extended eastern trip, which will include the fair at St. Louis, after which they will be at home at Dunkirk, N. Y., where the groom is engaged in business.

Revolutionizing the Navy.

The navy is coming to take a more and more imporatnt part in war. Not perhaps so much on account of its imposing size and visible power, as because of the new contrivances that have come to view for demolishing rivals by unseen submarine forces. A good example in illustration was seen last week in an interesting test in the waters off Newport by the submarine torpedo boat Shark, attached to the torpedo station, in an attack arranged between her and the gunboat Hist. The Hist was sent off Beaver Tail and told to prepare for an attack. She was in command of Lieut. C. England, while the officers from the torpedo station went out on the torpedo boat Winslow to watch the affair. As soon as the Hist had taken up her position watches were set, and every effort was made to pick up the submarine.

The Shark ran out into the bay and, submerged, picked her way through the periscope. She was not seen once by those on board any of the vessels, and the first known of her whereabouts was when she came to the surface off the Hist and signaled that she had fired a torpedo. She was given the victory. She could have easily blown her adversary to pieces without detection.

Sooner or later the navies of the world are to be revolutionized by such agencies. We see the first indications of it in the pending war in the East, and all the advanced nations, especially our own, are at work perfecting the new submarine devices.—[Boston Globe.

ADVENTISTS IN CONFERENCE.

NORTONVILLE (Kan.) Aug. 24.—The national conference of the Seventh Day Adventists met here today with over 300 delegates in attendance from all parts of the United States. The conference will continue until August 29. President Post of Chicago is in charge. Lieut.-Gov. George H. Utter of Rhode Island is one of the delegates.

Notice of Sale of an Electric Inclined Street Railway Franchise.

Office of the City Clerk of the City of Los Angeles, Los Angeles, Cal., August 22, 1904.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Notice is hereby given that an application has been made to the City Council of the City of Los Angeles for a certain franchise granting the right to construct and for a period of thirty years to maintain and operate a double track, cable inclined street railway to be operated by electricity over and along a certain street, and portion of street of said City, hereinafter described.

And it is proposed by said City Council to offer for sale and grant to the highest bidder, said franchise, on the terms and conditions hereinafter mentioned.

That said franchise is described as follows, to wit:

A franchise to construct, and for a period of thirty years to operate and maintain, a double track cable inclined street railway to be operated by electricity, over the route and upon and along the street and portion of street in said city, described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the west line of Broadway, in the City of Los Angeles, distant twenty-five feet southerly from the northerly line of Court street, and running thence westerly along Court street on a line parallel to the northerly line of Court street to a point in Court street distant 145 feet easterly from the easterly line of Hill street, and twenty-five feet southerly from the northerly line of Court street.

Together with the right to construct and maintain a waiting-room in said Court street at the easterly terminus of said route, and a waiting-room, steel observation tower and power-house in said Court street at the westerly terminus of said route, and all appliances, structures, and attachments that may be necessary for the purpose of operating said road as an electrically-operated cable inclined street railway.

That the terms and conditions on which said franchise shall be offered for sale and granted, are the following:

That said railway and said power-house, observation tower, waiting-room, appliances, structures and attachments shall be constructed, and at all times operated and maintained, and said right, privilege and franchise shall be at all times exercised and enjoyed subject to each and all of the terms and conditions herein set forth, and not otherwise.

That the tracks for said inclined street railway shall be laid on the north side of, and parallel to, the center line of Court street, and as near to one another as the safety of passengers will allow, and in such a manner that the entire width of said street occupied by said tracks and by the cars or chariots passing up and down thereon shall not exceed twelve feet, and said cars shall not extend south of the center line of Court street nor north of a line parallel to and ten feet south of the north line of Court street.

That the grantee of said franchise and his assigns shall use in the construction of said railway the best material, such as is used on first-class street railways of similar character, all of which shall be satisfactory to the Street Superintendent, and the Board of Public Works of the City of Los Angeles, and shall construct a roadbed upon a grade to be approved by the City Engineer of said City, and the Board of Public Works.

That said grantee and his assigns shall construct and maintain all necessary flumes and culverts for the free passage of water under and along said roadbed wherever the same may be necessary, and that all such flumes and culverts shall be constructed in accordance with plans and specifications approved by the said City Engineer.

That the City of Los Angeles in granting said franchise expressly reserves the right to pave, macadamize, renew or sewer said street, and to lay gas, water, or other pipes therein, and to construct a tunnel along and under said street.

Said grantee, and his assigns, shall at all times maintain said road in good order and condition, and shall run cars over said road during every day from 6 o'clock in the morning until 11 o'clock at night, at intervals of not more than five minutes when passengers await conveyance, unless prevented by the elements, riots, strikes, or other unavoidable causes.

That said cars shall be in all respects as efficient and substantially constructed, and as conveniently and safely equipped, and maintained, as the cars in use upon the best electric inclined street railways; that the waiting-room at the easterly terminus of said inclined railway shall not exceed 20 feet in width or length, shall not extend south of the center line of Court street, north of the northerly curb line of said street, nor east of the westerly line of Broadway; and that the waiting-room and power-house at the westerly terminus of said road shall not encroach upon either sidewalk of said Court street, and shall not cover a space greater than 40 feet wide or 30 feet long; and said tower shall be immediately west of said power-house and shall not cover a space greater than 25 feet square.

That said power-house and waiting-room shall not exceed one story in height and that before said power-house, said waiting-rooms, and said observation tower, or either thereof, are constructed, the plans and specifications therefor shall be submitted to and approved by said City Engineer, and a copy of such plans and specifications shall be filed in his office.

That said grantee, and his assigns, shall have the right to charge a sum not exceeding five cents for one passenger up or down said electric inclined street railway, and that passengers shall have the right to purchase tickets at the rate or price of ten for twenty-five cents; twenty-five for fifty cents, or one hundred for one dollar; each of which shall be good for one trip in either direction over said railway; and that said grantee and his assigns, shall carry all regular and special policemen and police officers, firemen and mail carriers, while on duty, the Mayor, the members of the City Council and of the Boards of Police Commissioners, Fire Commissioners, Water Commissioners, Park Commissioners and Civil Service Commissioners, and members of the Board of Health and Board of Education, the City Superintendent of Schools and the Directors of the Public Library, free over said railway.

Provided further, that the said grantee, and his assigns, shall pay to the City Tax and License Collector of the City of Los Angeles, the license upon each car that is now or may be hereafter fixed by the ordinances of said City.

That the said grantee and his assigns shall during the life of said franchise pay to the City of Los Angeles, in lawful money of the United States, two per cent. of the gross annual receipts of such grantee, and his assigns, arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise. No percentage shall be paid for the first five years succeeding the date of said franchise, but thereafter such percentage shall be payable annually and said franchise is to be forfeited by failure to make the payments provided for.

And it shall be the duty of the grantee of said franchise and of his assigns to file with the City Clerk of the City of Los Angeles, at the expiration of six years from the date of the granting of said franchise and at the expiration of each and every year thereafter, a statement, verified by the oath of said grantee or his assigns, or by the oath of the manager or presiding officer of said grantee, or his assigns, showing the total gross receipts and gross earnings collected or received by said grantee or his assigns, during the preceding twelve months, from all traffic over the line for the construction and operation of which said franchise is granted, and from all other sources, and within ten days after the time for filing aforesaid statement it shall be the duty of said grantee and his assigns to pay to the City Treasurer of the City of Los Angeles, the aggregate sum of the said percentage upon the amount of the gross annual receipts arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise, determined and computed in the manner hereinbefore provided.

And any neglect, omission or refusal by said grantee or his assigns, to file said verified statement, or to pay the said percentage of the said gross annual receipts at the times or in the manner hereinbefore provided shall ipso facto work a forfeiture of said franchise and of all rights thereunder, to the City of Los Angeles.

That the work of constructing said road shall be commenced in good faith within not more than four months from the date of the granting of said franchise, and shall be continuously prosecuted thereafter in good faith and without unnecessary or avoidable intermission or delay; that said work of construction shall be completed within not more than three years thereafter; that said work of construction shall be commenced and continuously prosecuted, so that at least one-third of the work of constructing said road shall be completed within one year from the time of commencement; and that if, said work be not so commenced, prosecuted or completed within the times, or in the manner specified, said franchise shall be forfeited.

That said grantee, or his assigns shall not sell, transfer or assign said franchise or any of the rights or privileges granted thereby, except by a duly executed instrument in writing, filed in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Los Angeles; and provided further, that nothing in said franchise contained shall be construed to grant to said grantee or his assigns any right to sell, transfer or assign said franchise or any of the rights or privileges thereby granted, except in the manner aforesaid.

That any neglect, failure or refusal to comply with any of the conditions of said franchise, shall thereupon immediately ipso facto effect a forfeiture thereof, and the said city, by its City Council, may thereupon declare said franchise forfeited, and may exclude said grantee or his assigns, from further use of the streets of said city under said franchise, and said grantee and his assigns shall thereupon and immediately surrender all rights in and to the same, and said franchise shall be deemed and shall remain null, void and of no effect.

Notice is also hereby given, that sealed bids, in writing, will be received for said franchise, up to eleven o'clock in the forenoon of the 26th day of September, 1904, that the bids received will be opened at that time; that all bids must be for the payment of a stated sum in gold coin of the United States; and that the franchise will be struck off, sold, and awarded to the person, firm, or corporation, who shall make the highest cash bid therefor; provided, only, that at the time of opening said bids, any responsible person, firm or corporation, present or represented, may bid for said franchise a sum not less than ten per cent. above the highest sealed bid therefor, and that said bid so made may be raised not less than ten per cent. by any other responsible bidder, and said bidding may so continue until finally said franchise shall be struck off, sold, and awarded by said City Council to the highest bidder therefor in gold coin of the United States. Each sealed bid must be accompanied with cash or a certified check, payable to the City Treasurer of the City of Los Angeles, for the full amount of said bid, and no sealed bid will be considered unless said cash or check is enclosed therewith; and the successful bidder must deposit, at least, ten per cent. of the amount of his bid with the City Clerk before said franchise will be struck off to him, and if he shall fail to make such deposit immediately, his bid will not be received, and will be considered as void, and said franchise will then and there be again offered for sale to the bidder who shall make the highest cash bid therefor, subject to the same conditions as to deposit as above mentioned. Said procedure will be had until said franchise is struck off, sold, and awarded to a bidder who shall make the necessary deposit of, at least, ten per cent. of the amount of his bid, as herein provided. Said successful bidder shall deposit with the City Clerk, within twenty-four hours after the acceptance of his bid, the remaining ninety per cent. of the amount thereof, and in case he or it fails to do so, then the said deposit theretofore made will be forfeited, and the award of said franchise will be void, and said franchise will, then and there, by said City Council, be again offered for sale to the highest bidder therefor, in the same manner and under the same restrictions, as hereinbefore provided, and in case said bidder fails to deposit with the City Clerk the remaining ninety per cent. of his bid within twenty-four hours after its acceptance, the award to him of said franchise will be set aside, and the deposit theretofore made by him will be forfeited, and no further proceedings for the sale of said franchise will be had until the same shall be re-advertised for sale.

Notice is also hereby given, that the successful bidder for said franchise must, within five days after said franchise is awarded to him, or it, file with the City Council a bond running to said City in the penal sum of Two Thousand and Five Hundred Dollars, with, at least, two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by said City Council, conditioned that said bidder shall well and truly observe, fulfill, and perform each and every term and condition of said franchise, and that in case of any breach of condition of said bond, the whole amount of the penal sum therein named shall be taken and deemed to be liquidated damages, and shall be recoverable from the principal and sureties upon said bond. If said bond be not so filed, the award of said franchise will be set aside and any money paid therefor will be forfeited.

ORDINANCE NO. 9802.

[New Series.]

An Ordinance ordering the holding of a special municipal election in the Sixth Ward of the City of Los Angeles on Friday, the 16th day of September, 1904; dividing said ward into municipal election precincts and appointing polling places and boards of election.

WHEREAS, on the 1st day of August, 1904, a petition was filed with the City Clerk of the City of Los Angeles demanding the recall of J. P. Davenport, a member of the City Council from the Sixth Ward of said city, and

WHEREAS, within ten days from date of filing such petition the City Clerk examined the same and found it to be sufficient, and on the 8th day of August, 1904, attached his certificate thereto showing that said petition was signed by electors entitled to vote for a successor to said member of the City Council from the Sixth Ward of the City of Los Angeles equal in number to at least 25 per centum of the entire vote cast for all candidates for said office at the last preceding general election, and certifying that said petition was sufficient; and

WHEREAS, on the 8th day of August, 1904, the City Clerk submitted said petition with said certificate thereto attached to the City Council;

NOW, THEREFORE, the Mayor and Council of the City of Los Angeles do ordain as follows:

ORDINANCE NO. 9814.

[New Series.]

An Ordinance granting to The Los Angeles Ice and Cold Storage Company, a corporation, its successors and assigns, the right and privilege to construct and lay down and for the period of 30 years to maintain and operate a triple pipe line along and under certain streets and alleys of the City of Los Angeles, and during said term to carry, conduct and transmit refrigerating materials through the same, together with certain appurtenant and incident rights.

The Mayor and Council of the City of Los Angeles do ordain as follows:

Section 1. That the right, privilege and franchise is hereby granted to The Los Angeles Ice and Cold Storage Company to construct and lay down and, for the period of 30 years to maintain and operate a triple pipe line along and under the streets and portions of streets and alleys and portions of alleys in said city, described as follows, to wit:

Beginning on First street between Main and Spring streets, at the alley known as Center Place; thence south along said alley from First street to Third street; thence east on Third street from said alley, known as Center Place, to Main street; thence south on Main street from Third street to Fourth street; thence west on Fourth street from the corner of Fourth street and Main street to the alley between Main and Spring streets; thence south along said alley, from said Fourth street to Seventh street; thence east on Seventh street from said alley to Main street; thence south on Main street to Tenth street; and beginning on Third street, between Main and Spring street, at said alley known as Center Place, running thence along Third street to Broadway; thence north on Broadway from Third street to Second street; and south on Broadway from Third street to Fourth street; thence east on Fourth street to the alley between Broadway and Spring street; thence south on said alley between Broadway and Spring street, from Fourth street to Fifth street; thence running west along said Fifth street, from said alley between Spring and Broadway, to Olive street; and along Broadway, south, from Fifth street to Tenth street; and running west, along and under First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh streets, from Broadway to Hill street.

And during said period, to carry, conduct and transmit refrigerating materials through and by means of said triple pipe line, together with the right to construct and maintain all such traps, manholes, appliances and atachments as may be necessary for the purpose of safely and efficiently conducting and transmitting refrigerating materials through the said pipe line and to any building or buildings fronting or abutting upon any of the aforesaid streets or alleys.

Provided, however, that said pipe line shall be constructed and at all times operated and maintained and that said right, privilege and franchise is hereby granted and shall be at all times exercised and enjoyed in accordance with and subject to each and every of the terms and conditions of this Ordinance and not otherwise.

Sec. 2. That the said pipe line shall consist of not more than three pipes laid parallel to one another, and as nearly as possible vertically over one another, and not further apart from one another than six (6) inches.

Sec. 3. That the pipes constituting said pipe line to be laid or maintained under said franchise shall not be more than three inches in diameter. That said pipes shall be of iron or steel, and shall be of sufficient strength to withstand a pressure of not less than fifteen hundred pounds to the square inch, and shall be laid with air-tight joints which shall be made so close as to withstand a pressure of fifteen hundred pounds to the square inch without leaking.

Sec. 4. That said pipes shall be laid at all points not less than five feet below the established grade of the streets under which the same are laid; that said pipes shall not be laid nearer to any sewer or water pipe than eighteen inches at any point; that said pipes shall be laid in conformity with the instructions and to the satisfaction of the Street Superintendent of said city; that all excavations for laying, moving and repairing said pipes, or any of them, shall be done in such a manner as not to interfere with the free use of the streets by the public, except such temporary interference as may be necessarily incident to the proper prosecution of said work. That all excavations shall be made, and refilled in strict compliance with the ordinances of said city, which may be in force at the time of the performance of said work, and that the grantee of this franchise and his or its successors and assigns, shall make such deposits of money with the City Treasurer as may be from time to time required from persons making excavations in the streets of said city, for the purpose of insuring the restoration of all streets to a good and perfect condition along said excavations.

Sec. 5. That there may be traps or manholes constructed along the said pipe line at intervals of not less than two blocks for the purpose of affording access to said pipe line for the cleaning or maintenance thereof; said traps or manholes to be so capped and covered as to be flush with the street and not to interfere in any way with the use of said streets for travel or traffic. That said pipe shall never, at any time, be used for the conveyance or transmission of refrigerating material at a lower temperature than 25 degrees Fahrenheit, nor be subjected to a pressure of more than two hundred and fifty pounds to the square inch; that the City Engineer, or any of his duly-authorized deputies, or the City Boiler Inspector, shall have the right, at all times, to inspect the pumping machinery that may be used for the purpose of pumping or transmitting refrigerating materials through said pipes, and to measure or ascertain the pressure to which said pipes are being subjected at the time of such inspection, and also to apply such pressure tests to said pipes as they may deem necessary, and that if, at any time, any of said pipes shall be subjected to a pressure exceeding two hundred and fifty pounds to the square inch, except at times when pressure tests are being applied under the direction or supervision of the City Engineer, the franchise herein proposed to be granted and all rights thereunder, shall be forfeited.

That in the event that a change of grade, the laying of any sewer, or the making of any other improvement in any of the streets along and under which said pipes may be laid shall, in the opinion of the Street Superintendent of said city, render necessary any change in the position of said pipes, the said grantee or its successors and assigns shall shift or move the same at its or their own cost and expense in conformity with the instructions and to the satisfaction of the said Street Superintendent, and in case the said grantee, or its successors or assigns shall fail to comply with the instructions given by said official for ten days after service thereof upon said grantee or its successors or assigns, or upon the manager or agent of said grantee, or of its successors or assigns in Los Angeles, he, the said official, may do the work as ordered by the City Council of the City of Los Angeles. Said official to keep an itemized account of the cost of said work, which the said grantee, and its successors or assigns by the acceptance of said franchise agree to pay upon its being presented to said grantee or its successors or assigns, or to such manager or agent stationed in Los Angeles.

Sec. 6. That the work of constructing and laying down said pipe line shall be commenced in good faith within not more than four months from the date of the granting of this franchise, and shall be continuously prosecuted thereafter in good faith, and shall be completed within not more than three years thereafter; and that if said work be not so commenced, prosecuted and completed within the time and in the manner specified, this franchise shall be forfeited.

Bright and Thrifty Pickaninny Puts Money in the Bank and Buys His Own Clothes by Selling Newspapers. Touching Tribute Paid Late Col. Bangham at Funeral.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. [illegible] South Raymond avenue, Aug. 25.—[illegible] people are planning something [illegible] to be given as a part of the Tournament of Roses on New Year's [illegible]. J. B. Poulin of Los Angeles has [illegible] in conference with several here [illegible] the object of organizing a large [illegible] society which will render a promenade on New Year's night. The idea [illegible] to secure eighty or one hundred [illegible]. The place for rendering the chorus has not been selected. [illegible] Poulin is well known in musical [illegible] being director of the Los Angeles First Methodist Church choir and [illegible] the Ellis Club. A. F. Corbin of [illegible] Maryland, a well-known musician, is among those interested in the [illegible]. This feature may take the place of the Tournament ball, which [illegible] last year.

THRIFTY PICKANINNY.

[illegible] Brooks, a thirteen-year-old [illegible] newsboy of this city, has saved [illegible] $100 in three years. All from [illegible] sale of newspapers. In addition he [illegible] paid for all his own clothes during [illegible].

[illegible] lives with his stepfather, [illegible] who has a fruit stand on West [illegible] street. Every morning and evening he sells papers at the corner of Colorado street and Fair Oaks [illegible], and he faithfully banks the [illegible] at the First National every [illegible]. The other boys devil him a bit, [illegible] doesn't mind it and attends to [illegible] cheerfully. He is small [illegible], but bright as a dollar, [illegible] black as the blackest.

"[illegible] own boss," he said yesterday. [illegible] I'm going to save up my [illegible] I get enough to go into [illegible] myself. I sell all the papers [illegible] make more money out of [illegible] than from the others."

W.C.T.U. QUARTERLY.

[illegible] quarterly meeting of the Pasadena Federation, W.C.T.U., will be held [illegible] Alameda Park today from 10 a.m. [illegible]. The most important thing to [illegible] considered is "The National in Los [illegible] in 1905," by Mrs. Emma Cash, [illegible] president, W.C.T.U. An effort is [illegible] made to secure the national federation for the Angel City next year. [illegible] morning programme today will be: [illegible] exercises, Mrs. Mary Potter; [illegible] "Non-alcoholic Medication," [illegible] Mary Robain; election. After basket luncheon at noon devotional exercises will be conducted by Miss Eva [illegible]; paper, "Financial Condition [illegible] State," Mrs. Eva Keese Benson; [illegible] "Anti-gambling," Mrs. Lillian [illegible]; address, "The National in Los [illegible] in 1905?" ALHAMBRA.

DEATH OF MR. BRITTON.

ALHAMBRA, Aug. 24.—D. W. Britton, [illegible] of large means and public [illegible] who came here recently [illegible] Bay, Wis., purchased a fine [illegible] and the grocery business [illegible] Marris, putting his son-in-law [illegible] manager, after a brief illness [illegible] morning, the result of [illegible] and bowel troubles. Although [illegible] of age, he was a hale and [illegible] active man. He had accepted plans for the building of a fine [illegible] block, and was awake to other plans for the improvement of Alhambra, and his loss will be felt by the whole community. The remains were taken in charge by Ives & Warren, the Pasadena undertakers, to be embalmed for shipment to the former home at Green Bay, Wis., for interment. Brief funeral services were held at the undertakers' parlors at 4 o'clock this afternoon, after which the widow left for the East with the remains.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES.

The Board of Trustees of Alhambra School District have under consideration ten or twelve sets of plans for the proposed new High School and a selection will probably be made in a short time, after which they will advertise for bids for the construction of the building in accordance with the plans and specifications accepted. Seven of the plans are on exhibition at the City Hall, and attract much attention. The classical style of architecture seems to receive more favor than the Mission style.

The funeral of Joe Jordan, Jr., was largely attended, the Presbyterian Church being filled. Interment was made in San Gabriel Cemetery.

Monday's rain did no damage in this section, and it was appreciated by many, especially new residents from the East. The precipitation amounted to .14 of an inch.

Rev. T. N. Lord, the Baptist pastor, has been a very sick man with congestion of the lungs, but is now slightly improved.

The City Trustees last evening ordered the widening of Stoneman avenue. This street is to be greatly improved, all the property owners concurring. The sidewalk and parkway will be fifteen feet in width.

Dr. E. Wernigk, a retired physician, advanced in years, has been sick of late with heart trouble.

Miss Helen Weeks has returned to Berkeley and the university. Harry Lane and Claude Wayne have also returned to their classes at the same institution. The Alhambra contingent for Stanford, which leave here Saturday, are the Misses Stroud, Miss Roby Elwood, Miss Mabel Crow and Duff Cartwright.

Mrs. J. M. Creamer left this morning for Houston, Tex., on account of the serious illness of her brother at that place.

B. Cohen and family returned yesterday from a sojourn of three weeks at Catalina.

The Methodist Church and Sunday-school will have a picnic at Eastlake Park Thursday afternoon.

FULLERTON.

PEOPLE FOOT THE BILL.

FULLERTON, Aug. 24.—Brown & Dauser presented a petition to the City Trustees to have the ordinance imposing a fine of $5 a year on insurance companies rescinded. Soon after the ordinance was passed the companies increased the rates in Fullerton 10 per cent., which will pay the license twenty times and over. Many residents considered this a hold up on the part of the board companies. When the head of the trust appeared before the board and requested that the companies be not licensed he stated that if the ordinance passed, the rates here would no doubt be increased and the people would have to foot the bill. Brown stated that the increase raised the premium on his policy $44.29. Benchley and Amerige stated that the act on the part of the companies is a plain game of hold up. The petition was held up for a week.

CITY TAX RATE.

The city's present indebtedness is $1220 and the licenses bring in $250 a month, which about pays the running expenses. It was the unanimous opinion of the board that most of the taxes paid in coming year should be expended on the public highways in the city. The rate was fixed at 65 cents on $100, 60 cents to go into the road fund and 5 cents into the general fund. According to the levy just made the road fund tax the first year will foot up $4430, and the general fund, $366. As the county tax rate is 40 cents less on $100 in incorporated cities than outside, the increase here is only 25 cents over the county rate, which is hardly noticeable.

DOWN THE LINE.

The High School Board has decided to postpone building an addition until next spring, when two rooms will be added as well as the fitting up and equipping the basement for athletics. The board has now on hand sufficient funds to make these improvements without the necessity of issuing bonds. The Fullertn High School is one of the thirteen out of the 224 high schools in the State which has drawing in the course of study.

R. F. Chilton of Santa Ana was in Fullerton the first of the week on a brief business trip.

Miss Sophie Hetebrink was a guest of Mrs. Louise Heim of Santa Fé Springs this week.

Mrs. L. P. Drake is still very ill in Los Angeles.

J. A. Vail, with his wife, went to San Diego this week. He is manager of the new potato organization and made some good deals while absent.

The Richard Gregory and Frank McDermont families were at Long Beach a few days this week.

Arthur McDermont and E. O. Hamlin made a short visit to Long Beach this week.

J. N. Newell is here from Colorado to look after his neatly-kept place in Placentia.

The family of W. W. Bess has gone to Long Beach for a two weeks' outing.

Frank Baxter and family were at the beach this week for a brief outing.

J. R. Boswell and family were visitors at Long Beach this week.

Miss Garrigan, Mrs. Lemping and daughter and Mrs. Fred Corona spent a few days at Ocean Park this week.

Mrs. R. T. Davis is spending the week at Long Beach.

Mrs. Seeger, Mrs. Edwin Clark and Mrs. Ike Barman are stopping at Corado Tent City.

Sam Kraemer and family have returned from a two weeks' outing at the beach.

Joe Burke and Allen Melrose have gone to San Francisco to witness the great prize fight Friday night.

Dr. Clark will leave next week for the fair, Chicago and Cincinnati. While East he will take a post graduate course.

DOWNEY.

POSTOFFICE CHANGE.

DOWNEY, Aug. 24.—Petitions are circulated to change the location of the postoffice from Second street to Crawford, the main business street. Several buildings have been recommended. The office has been raised from the fourth to the third class. In choosing the location the distance from the railway depot has to be considered, and the Southern Pacific is under contract to deliver the mails within certain limits. The Odd Fellows' Block is a few feet over that limit.

LOG IN SURF KILLS BOY.

FATAL ACCIDENT TO YOUNG LONG BEACH BATHER.

Lad Rides on Pile Afloat, Loses Balance and is Crushed Under Stick on Sand—Motorman Gets a Severe Fall from Electric Car at Alamitos Bay Trestle.

LONG BEACH, Aug. 24.—Douglass Cruikshank, a six-year-old nephew of J. W. Cruikshank of the Alamitos Lumber Company, was killed while bathing in the surf at the foot of Alamitos avenue this afternoon.

He was riding on a large log, a pile from the old wharf. He lost his balance and fell off, and the waves carried the boy and log onto the beach with the lad underneath.

The log was very heavy and the boy was badly crushed, his neck being broken, and skull fractured. The little fellow's parents live in Rialto and have been visiting here for the past week. The body was taken to Walker & Brown's undertaking parlors, where an inquest will be held tomorrow at 10 a.m.

SCHOOL FOR FARMERS.

Commissioners Maskew, Strong and Austin were on hand at the Seaside Institute this morning to reply to queries from the question box, and offered many suggestions deduced from their investigations.

The topic "The Orange Orchard" was handled by Prof. A. J. Cook and C. C. Teague, who gave descriptions of the Arlington orchard at Riverside, handled successfully by James Mills. The principal point brought out was the success of very deep cultivation and irrigation, with an entire avoidance of surface irrigation.

This afternoon E. A. Chase of Riverside discussed "The Nursery," and an address on "Olive Culture" by Dr. W. M. Sherman of Fresno brought out a discussion which was opened by R. C. Allen of Bonita.

Tonight Prof. George Roberts gave some reasons for the necessity of a fertilizer inspection law and Prof. Clark spoke of the importance of agricultural education and extension work. The closing paper was by President Leroy Anderson of San Luis Obispo on the composition of milk and milk products.

Thursday's programme includes the following papers: "Marketing Citrus Fruits," C. C. Chapman, Fullerton; "The Home," Mrs. Minnie E. Sherman, Fresno; "Our Roads," Supervisor O. W. Longdon, San Gabriel; "Road Legislation," Dr. E. W. Reid, Iomosa; "Wind Breaks," John Hofman, Cucamonga. At night Prof. Roberts will discuss the "California Fertilizer Inspection Law," Prof. Clarke, "Coöperation and Plant Diseases," and President Leroy Anderson, "Milk Adulteration and Its Detection."

BAPTIST ASSEMBLY.

The flag drill conducted by Miss Mae Wright of Los Angeles is a feature of the daily sessions of the Baptist Assembly.

Rev. Louis Agassiz Gould of Ocean Park spoke today on "China, the Strategic Center of the Orient."

Tonight Rev. W. H. Walker, Jr., of Los Angeles gave an illustrated lecture on "The Time of the Captivity."

Thursday Mrs. Baskerville will tell the children of "A Hero in Babylon." Superintendent W. C. Weld will address the training department on the "Laws of Teaching" and Rev. Dr. Hugh K. Walker will lecture on the "Holy Land." At night Rev. W. T. Taylor of Riverside will lecture on "The Conflict Between Russia and Japan."

MOTORMAN FALLS.

Motorman Bell of the Pacific Electric is laid up with a strained back, both ankles sprained and numerous contusions and bruises, the result of a fall from his car yesterday evening. Bell was in charge of the car from Huntington Beach and while coming across the east arm of the long trestle at Alamitos Bay something went wrong and Bell swung out of the side door to see if the trolley wheel was off. He caught hold of one of the window rods, which gave way, and was hurled out of the moving car and down eighteen feet into the mud and slime of the marsh, striking on his head and shoulders on the slope and rolling to the bottom. His conductor ran to the front end and threw off the power, stopping the car, which was running wild. Bell was assisted from the mire and brought to town for medical attention. He will not be able to work for some time.

LONG BEACH WAVES.

Mary Weston, aged 12, riding a bicycle on Pine avenue last night, was knocked down by a fractious horse and badly bruised and shaken up, while her bicycle was wrecked. The woman driving the animal went on without any inquiry as to the condition of the victim, who is a daughter of Dr. Blanche M. Weston.

The Christian and Presbyterian Sunday-schools of Long Beach will picnic Thursday at Eastlake Park, Los Angeles.

A petition will be presented to the City Trustees next Monday asking them to call an election to vote bonds for a municipal water plant. The petition now has 800 signatures.

The Preachers' Institute of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, is in session here this week with a good attendance. A fine programme of addresses from leading divines in the church is being presented.

The Long Beach Marine Band will accompany the local commandery of the Knights Templar to San Francisco, leaving here Saturday, September 3. During its absence the San Pedro band will furnish music at the pavilion.

A fine delivery horse belonging to W. L. Gaines ran away this afternoon and collided with an incoming electric car on American avenue with such force as to break his leg. He was shot.

Mrs. Frank Kowall has asked Marshal Conklin to locate her husband. Kowall is about 43 years of age and has been absent for two years, as foreman of a mine at Sonora, Mex. He kept up a regular correspondence with his wife and kept her well supplied with money for the maintenance of herself and child. In May the remittances stopped, and as no word has come to the anxious wife, she fears the worst. The marshal has written the authorities for information.

CATALINA ISLAND.

SPILLED IN THE OCEAN.

AVALON, Aug. 24.—Yesterday a party of young folks, evidently novices at handling a sailboat, went for a sail in the Los Rios. There was a smacking breeze out in the channel, and things were going merrily, the sails pulling like a locomotive. To save strength the main sheet was tied down. This was forgotten when a tack was made, a mile or more out from Sugar Loaf, and the result was that the little craft was tipped over, spilling the occupants into the sea. They all clung to the boat, and the accident having been seen from shore, a launch was hurried out and the shipwrecked taken on board. The party with the dampened ardor and clothes consisted of Gladys Cosgrove, Edith Travilla, Elsie Van Harlingen, Alice Rich, Messrs. Bailey, Archie Cooper and Neil Hamilton.

INSULAR RIPPLES.

H. J. Benson and C. G. Codman of Durango, Mex., who have been fishing with a hoodoo hanging over them, broke loose this morning and captured seventeen yellowtail and six rock bass.

R. W. Larritt, Miss Gertrude Castile, William Button and Ed Holland with the Tio Juan this morning took eight yellowtail and two rock bass.

C. W. Davis of Highlands and W. T. Motherspaw of Highlands, with the Nick, this morning took fifteen yellowtail and six rock bass.

C. C. Mallard of Lafayette, La., assistant superintendent of Morgan's Louisiana and Texas Railroad and Steamship Company, Miss Mary Mallard, Miss A. Seago and Dr. Hamilton Polk-Jones with Win Toland in the Eva took fifteen yellowtail and a rock bass this morning.

Mrs. Fred Kunball, Miss Mamie Henderson, Miss Minnie Dawson, Howard and Fred Brainerd and Don Kimball came over this morning and will spend a fortnight in the Brainerd cottage.

Lester L. Robinson and his sister, Miss G. H. Robinson, and Miss Nana Barwell were among the arrivals today. They are here for a week's stay.

Dr. William Vilas and wife closed their summer vacation yesterday and left for their El Paso home.

John N. Shilnett, a retired merchant of Anniston, Ala., and his daughters Lucille and Willie and son Carl are here visiting Mrs. M. C. Holcombe, also Mr. Shilnett's daughter. They will be here a month.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Carey, Mrs. Ella Hanna, Miss Dorothy Hanna, Mrs. Zoe B. Fuller, C. D. Ballard and wife, Miss Bertha Sanborn, Miss Inez Reams, Miss Babcack, Dan Laubersheimer and Dr. Friedman composed a picnic party which went up on the Banning private launch cricket to Johnson's Landing for a day's outing.

"Uncle John" Nisbett entertained a party at his new home on Whitley avenue Tuesday evening. They were: H. E. Fletcher, manager of Hotel Metropole; R. W. Larritt, manager of Hotel Westminster; Miss Gertrude Castile, Miss M. Cote, Mrs. C. J. Richards, Miss Maude E. Richards, Miss Grace E. Mathes, Miss Mathilda Phillips, Miss Carrie Field, and Mrs. Howard Rivers.

T. J. Rabbeth of Redlands, inventor of the "Rabbeth drag," will have to stick to his invention when he goes fishing or suffer the consequences. A yellowtail put him into the tuna hospital this morning, almost tearing one of his finger nails off. He was out yesterday and broke a record by breaking three rods. This morning he broke the fourth, a fine split bamboo, which he valued highly. He then fell back on the boatman's stock, with the result of a lacerated finger. Among other things Mr. Rabbeth lost was a line and hook with a patent spoon, his fish getting into the kelp and breaking the line. An hour or two afterward Capt. Adams of the launch Myrtle hooked a fish, and when he got it in found a hook, line and spoon attached to his fish, which he soon located as belonging to the inventor.

"The Avalon Wireless," published under the auspices of The Times, is now issued on the island daily, being sold on the streets between 7 and 9 a.m. The feature of the sheet is that it contains a full summary of the whole world's news, including foreign dispatches, taken from The Times each morning and transmitted by the wireless service of the Pacific Wireless Telegraph Company, reaching the island each morning between 4:30 and 5 a.m., complete. Newspapers from the mainland do not arrive at Avalon before noon; thus "The Wireless" gives to persons on the island a wireless bulletin concerning what has transpired throughout the world during the preceding day five hours before they can get the full details from The Times which arrives on the noon boat.

LORDSBURG.

WATER DOUBLED.

LORDSBURG, Aug. 24.—The Evergreen ranch of 170 acres has for many years struggled along with a very unsatisfactory water supply. Since Hart & Collins of Los Angeles acquired this property a few months ago, they have put down another well, discarding the old one, and have installed a deep-well pump, the first of its kind, invented by Williams Brothers of this place, and the most sanguine anticipations of all parties interested have been realized. Twice as much water is now pumped as at any previous time in the history of this ranch.

GLENDALE.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

GLENDALE, Aug. 24.—Glendale Union High School will open September 5 with the following-named teachers: George U. Moyse, principal and teacher of mathematics; Ethel Hume Flood, teacher of Latin and English; Edith M. Kendall, science and English; Nora L. Warner, history and German, and Belle N. Hall, drawing.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cornwell, May and Albert Cornwell and Alma and Alta Stone are at Long Beach this week.

Miss Onia Rollins visited friends at Long Beach last week.

Mrs. F. G. Taylor has returned from a two weeks' visit with friends and relatives at Ventura.

Miss Rose Iman has returned from a week's visit with relatives in Glendale.

Cameron Thom, son of Capt. Thom, is the proud and happy father of a son. As this is the first grandchild in the family, it has caused great rejoicing.

Miss Katherine Hoffman of Los Angeles spent the past week with Nettie Watson.

POMONA.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

POMONA, Aug. 24.—The Board of Education last evening decided to expend about $250 for the Sloyd and $300 for work benches. Sewing and cooking tables are also being ordered and some gas stoves, dishes and tinware. The supplies for the cooking department will be purchased in monthly turns from all the local grocery firms.

Misses Helen Booth and Mabel Hoffman are at Long Beach.

Ira A. Lee and J. T. Brady have gone to Santa Cruz to attend the Republican State Convention.

Miss Jenny E. Tucker, who has been spending the summer in the East, will return soon for the opening of the school term and will teach again at El Monte.

Charles Ells is enjoying a two weeks' vacation at the beaches.

Doctor Harrison

Twenty-one Years a Specialist for Men

Varicocele.

We desire to call special attention to the following statement: Why will any man be absolutely foolish as to hand over his money to a self-styled specialist for treatment of Varicocele who never has cured one case? Why will any man waste his time or money on any doctor before talking with a number of men who he has successfully cured? We have treated Varicocele here in Los Angeles for ten years without a failure and will be glad to show you any number of leading business men here who will tell you all about our work. Don't take any treatment from any doctor without first talking with a number of his cured patients. Insist on seeing his cured cases.

Contracted Disorders.

Of all the diseases peculiar to men, contracted disorders are the most ambused by cut-and-try, hit-and-miss treatments, administered by good friends, druggists, doctors in general practice, and most of the would-be specialists. It is certainly interesting to hear the story of the average patient telling his experience with the different kinds of so-called treatment he has been up against. A large majority of our patients come to us with all the original disease and part or all of the combinations, resulting from delay and mistreatment. We generally have to cure them after some or all of the following conditions have developed: Stricture, or all of the chronic bladder troubles, diseased prostate, sores, swellings, etc., besides a patient whose confidence and mind are diseased, through failure and disappointment. Don't trifle with these disorders; go to a doctor who knows how to cure you; it is the cheapest and shortest way out. We have ben 21 years in the business.

Stricture.

I can do more for stricture in three days with my improved, modern, up-to-date method than could be done in three months with the old, painful, sound treatment. I can cure nearly every case in ten days, and by a cure I mean the stricture will never give any further trouble. Remember, my method is absolutely free from pain—and is certain in every case.

OUR MEDICAL JOURNAL FREE

downstairs at our entrance, 607½ S. Broadway, you can help yourself to our medical journal, an extensive description of our special work is given. It contains full information, which we cannot publish in our advertisement. If you live out of the city, write for one.

We are Specialists for Varicocele,
Hydrocele,
Stricture,
Piles, Fistula,
Blood Diseases,
Contracted Diseases,
Private Diseases,
Loss of Vital Power,
Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

Vital Decline Can Be Cured.

Vital decline, commonly called weakness, is the result of a diseased condition. This disturbing cause is nearly always found in the prostate gland, where the nerve center is located. The prostate becomes affected by one or more local diseases, indiscretions, excesses, varicocele, etc. We published years ago the first information ever given out on prostatic trouble as the cause of vital weakness, since that time our theories have been accepted by all the best eastern specialists, and at the same time every pretended specialist copies our advertisement, knowing absolutely nothing of our successful means of relieving men of this trouble. No one but a thorough specialist can succeed in curing these conditions. Anybody can advertise, but the genuine specialist only can satisfy the patient and give him value received.

We give a free examination and send our book and colored plates free on application. Any person with good reference can secure treatment from us until cured before paying for his case.

No Cure, No Pay

MY ELECTRIC BELT!

Any man who is weak, rheumatic, full of pains and aches, growing old and losing his youthful fire and vigor, can have my Electric Belt free until he is cured. I am not giving it away unless I fail to cure you. When you are cured you can pay me, not otherwise. I don't want money I don't earn. I don't need it, but I am after the dollars that are daily going into useless drugging and fake treatments, and I am willing to show my own faith by waiting for my pay until I have done the work. So write for my belt today, inclosing this ad.

G Advanced Sale of New Imported Ostrich Plumes

The fashion notes from Paris indicate that ostrich plumes and pom poms are going to be more popular than ever this season. We import these goods direct and buy only the selected stock from the wild male birds that produce the best feathers, as they do not so easily come out of curl and are more perfect than any others. Our import order for plumes and pom poms was placed a few months ago when the price was about 25% lower than it is now so we are therefore in position to offer these goods to our patrons in the same proportion and yet we assure you that we give you only the best and most select stock. The feathers to which we will give an introductory showing Thursday are absolutely the finest that have ever been placed on sale in this City and it is certainly to your advantage to give full credence to what we say and most liberal patronage to this the greatest store in Southern California.
